WHY DO CATHOLICS DO THAT...?

Isaac...

Breakthrough! Isaac, how would you describe yourself?

Isaac: I'm a peaceful guy. I may get upset, but I'm not one to get even. I trust that God will take care of things. I guess I learned that from my dad, Abraham.

B: Tell me about your wife.

Isaac: Oh, how I loved Rebecca! I didn't exactly choose her. Like all weddings at that time, our families arranged for us to marry. God had a hand in it, I'm sure.

B: Did you have children?

Isaac: We had twin boys, Esau [EE - saw] and Jacob. Esau was my favorite, partly because he always brought me meat from his hunting trips. Jacob was quiet but feisty—just like his mother. Rebecca liked him better.

B: Didn't Esau give away his special rights as your firstborn son?

Isaac: Yes, he gave away his birthright. For what? Food! I swear, that guy would eat anything that didn't eat him first!

B: Tell us about "the switch."

Isaac: I couldn't believe I was tricked like that! I was supposed to give Esau a special blessing, but Rebecca decided that Jacob should have it. She put an animal skin on Jacob's arm. I was blind, so I had to go by what I felt. I knew Esau was a lot hairier than his brother, so when I touched Jacob's hairy arm, I thought he was Esau. So I blessed the wrong son—or was it the right one?

B: How did Esau react?

Isaac: He was upset, and so was I. He begged me for a blessing, but I only had one special blessing to give. Esau wanted to get even with Jacob, but we sent Jacob away for his own protection.

B: What did you try to teach your sons about God?

Isaac: Trust in God. God has a way of making things work out.

Prayers for victims of Roswell floods this past weekend

"You have probably been following the news in Roswell regarding the tragic consequences that claimed, as of now, the lives of two people. I have been in contact with Fr. Jarek and Fr. Lalo as we try to evaluate the situation. At this point in time, I would like to request that you keep the parishes, and indeed all people in Roswell in your prayers. Many have lost homes, vehicles and other properties to the flooding, including those who have suffered homelessness before the storm." Special collection November 2nd & 3rd.
