GOSPEL REFLECTION

This past Wednesday, Holy Trinity and St. Mary of the Immaculate Conception school students gathered together at Holy Spirit parish in Avon Lake as part of the Catholic Schools Week celebration.

Serving as the main celebrant was Fr. Damian Ference, the Vicar of Evangelization for the Diocese of Cleveland. Fr. Vince, Fr. Deo, Deacon Dan, and Seminarian Sean joined Fr. Damian and shared the theme of the liturgy, United in Faith and Community.

Within the worship aid for this Mass, I wrote a brief letter sharing the joy of celebrating vocations that I am including below for our parishioners.

Today as part of Catholic Schools Week, we celebrate vocations. It is an opportunity to pray and reflect on the many life paths that will allow us to use our gifts to glorify God. Each of us has a specific call that is unique to us. Do you remember the TOR Sisters, Sr. Anna Rose and Sr. Philomena Clare? They shared how, in conversations with God, they felt called to be religious sisters. Having conversations with God is the key to understanding his plan for you. The sisters spend much of their day in service and prayer; it may seem like they have little, yet they are filled with abundant joy.

Many of your teachers live out beautiful vocations of married or single life. They devote time to family, ministry, and education. In doing this, they each share their gifts in a way that allows us to see Christ as a teacher and friend.

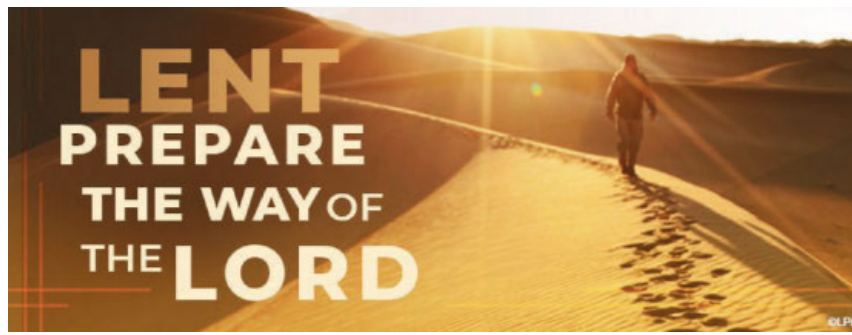

Someone we all have come to love is Seminarian Sean, another person who takes time to have conversations with God and has heard a call to be a priest. We pray for Sean.

In a special way, today at this Mass, we can celebrate the priesthood, an extraordinary gift for our schools. We gather to celebrate the Mass with Fr. Vince and Fr. Deo and receive Jesus in the Eucharist—a shout-out to Fr. Damian for celebrating this special Mass with us today. In many ways, this day is very connected with the theme of this school year. Revival Starts Here. Who can revive us? Who can make us new? Who can restore us? Jesus.

Celebrating Catholic Schools is all about Celebrating Jesus, especially in the Eucharist. We are celebrating what He does for us and where he calls us. So today, as we join together in this Mass, giving thanks for the gift of vocations and our Catholic schools, I invite you to pray about your gifts and how God may be asking you to share these gifts with the world.

Revival Starts Here!
