What does it mean to be Catholic?

Each Catholic is called to full and active participation in the life of the Church and has the right and responsibility to:

1. Attend Mass on Sundays and on Holy Days of Obligation.
2. Confess your sins, through the Sacrament of Reconciliation, at least once a year.
3. Receive the Eucharist.
4. Observe the days of fasting (Ash Wednesday and Good Friday) and abstinence (Ash Wednesdays and Fridays in Lent) established by the Church.
5. Help to provide for the needs of the Church.

FAITH FORMATION FOR MEN

Father Freddie and Deacon Harold Vincent are happy to announce to you a new ministry "FAITH FORMATION FOR MEN." This ministry will encourage men of the parish to come together and grow in holiness. God calls each of us to come to Him. The stronger our faith, the closer we come to the Lord. This ministry will strengthen the faith of participants.

We look forward to All Saints men meeting monthly to grow in the Lord. All men are invited. Meetings will be held on the second Wednesday of every month in the church building at 7 pm. Deacon Harold Vincent will coordinate this ministry.

Dear Sisters, Brothers and Friends of All Saints Catholic Church: Greetings and Praise the Lord.

WAYS TO ENCOUNTER JESUS

Imagine people moving in next door who seem very different from you. Perhaps they speak a different language or belong to a different race. It's not hard to think of immigrants buying a house or renting an apartment in our building.

Suppose, however, that your children become friends with their children; that parents in each house are willing to babysit for all the children; that children enjoy the same television programs or games. Eventually there will come a point when these different families will try to eat together. When that happens, it will look like a breakthrough. "Wow, I liked their food even though I never had it before." Or "Let's eat together again and share our dishes."

While eating is natural and instinctual; eating together represents something much more. On one level it's social sharing between people who have become open to each other. On a much deeper level, it's a sign that lives are being changed and people are willing to share not only as neighbors but also as friends. Just think, for example, of a couple going out to dinner on their way to getting engaged. Food is a way to share life.

"Have you anything to eat?" Jesus asks his disciples. They, of course, are involved in a situation so strange they don't know what to make of it. Jesus is dead and buried; but here he is, standing next to them. If it seems strange to have dinner with people of other cultures, what is it like to have dinner with someone risen from the dead? "Don't think of me as a ghost; see, I am as real as you are, and I have come to share my life with you."

This is an essential part of the story of Easter. Jesus is breaking down barriers which are greater than social or racial barriers. He is breaking down the barrier between life and death itself, with life overcoming the very specter of death itself. He does this by communicating his life to us. Of course, the startled Apostles see this when he eats their food and probably smiles. But they will see this much more as they continue to do what he told them to do, to break bread together, to drink from the chalice that is his life, to demonstrate the reality of Christ's union with us.

Jesus points out that God was working toward this point in all the revelation of the Jewish people; Peter, in the first reading, is demonstrating that God has offered humankind reconciliation; reconciliation even to those who rejected his beloved Son, the Messiah and sign of divine mercy.

"Have you anything to eat?" Jesus asks us today. He invites us to continue eating with him on such a profound level that his divine life comes to belong to us. Yes, Lord, we have something to eat—your very life, your risen body, your sacred blood, the food that you yourself have given us! As we eat together the meal Jesus provides, we realize that Jesus is not a ghost. He's as real to us as we are to each other because he has made us one body in his love.

For reflection: In what ways do I experience Jesus feeding me, i.e., communicating his life to me?

REFLECTION

Third Sunday of Easter

The eleven remaining apostles had just been told that Jesus had appeared to two disciples on their way to Emmaus, had walked with them, spoken with them, and eventually sat down at their table and broken bread with them. Yet, they are troubled and in fact terrified when moments later he appears to them. It is startling whenever the risen Lord appears to his disciples. Though filled with joy, they are incredulous. They wonder if he's a ghost. It takes some time for them to understand and accept that it is really him in the flesh and that he really did rise from the dead. We are those disciples now, often surprised and incredulous when we encounter him. May our understanding that the Lord can make himself known in many ways help us recognize his presence.
