FAITH FORMATION FOR MEN

Father Freddie and Deacon Harold Vincent are happy to announce to you a new ministry "FAITH FORMATION FOR MEN." This ministry will encourage men of the parish to come together and grow in holiness. God calls each of us to come to Him. The stronger our faith, the closer we come to the Lord. This ministry will strengthen the faith of participants.

We look forward to All Saints men meeting monthly to grow in the Lord. Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of every month in the church building at 7 pm. Deacon Harold Vincent and Deacon Raphael Velasquez coordinate this ministry.

Dear Sisters, Brothers and Friends of All Saints Catholic Church: Greetings and Praise the Lord

Escaping from the Storm

Some months are strange in this area. Several times the weather forecasters live on television show severe thunderstorms and the potential development of heavy rains and floodings.

Most of the time we know what to do with storms. We find a comfortable place, make some tea, and sit with our families and pets. But you cannot do that when a flooding is bearing down on you. You simply cannot feel safe.

That these kinds of events happen in all lives the Gospel shows quite clearly, as the twelve apostles are screaming in their boat in the middle of a raging storm. Through it all, Jesus is able to be sound asleep. The apostles and stunned by this. “Why are you sleeping?” they yell. “Aren’t you worried that we are dying?”

There are outer storms that come upon us; but there are also inner storms as well, times when we feel terrified and without meaning. These come at moments of great crises, when we feel our lives are coming apart—the death of a parent, an unjust accusation, an insult from one we trusted. The Gospels are saying that unless we learn to trust the assuring presence of God, we will not withstand any kind of storm, whether from the outside or from within.

We have a tiny selection from the Book of Job which is one of the greatest meditations on tragedy and blame. Throughout many chapters, Job has railed against how life has treated him even though he claims he is innocent. In Job’s time, and for centuries, people believed that bad things only happened to bad people. Job is saying that is nonsense because he is an example of a just person who has to suffer. But in the passage we have, God is speaking to Job about the limits of his wisdom. None of us can comprehend the mystery of God, nor even the astonishing order of nature, let alone is occasional disorder.

Instead of tossing ideas around to defend himself, Job is invited to trust God, to look beyond the mishaps and tragedies of life into the steady presence of divine love and order which is the context in which we live. “Why were you terrified? Do you not yet have faith?” The followers of Jesus can only be astonished as his words.

Why are we terrified? Why do we think life is against us? Why do we think we cannot trust? Our second reading shows us how Paul was not even afraid of death because in Christ Jesus we have already faced death—and death lost. That victory of Jesus is bestowed upon all who have the privilege of being next to Jesus and living in trust.

In no way is Jesus making light of the fears of our lives. He is just asking, in light of what he has done, why we keep letting fear get the better of us?

How deep is my trust in the Lord.

From Pastor’s Desk.... Fr. Freddie.

REFLECTION

Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time

This is one of those Gospel passages where it can be dangerous to interpret it too literally. We should not become complacent in the face of storms or other natural disasters, believing that God will prevent any grave consequences. Keep in mind that the Gospels are not contemporaneous journals of the first disciples, but books designed to inspire faith in and understanding of this God who became flesh, who suffered and died for our sins, and who was raised to new life. Mark told the dramatic story we hear today to inspire our faith, to show how the faith of even the first disciples wavered, and to look to Jesus as the one who had the power to still the stormy seas.
