MASS CONFESSION

ADORATION MORE

Dear Sisters, Brothers and Friends of All Saints Catholic Church: Greetings and Praise the Lord.

Standing Firm in Faith Amid the Fires of Life

Last weekend I traveled to Texas—not just to rest, visit friends, and bless a home—but to witness the beauty of God’s people. The family who hosted me took me to their parish where I concelebrated Mass. Afterward, people came to greet me, saying, “Father, we’re from New Orleans!” Many knew our All Saints Catholic Church. And yes, I watched our own Sunday Mass on YouTube. My dear friends, I was so inspired. Our youths did an excellent job. You made me proud, proud as a priest, proud as a spiritual father.

This Sunday’s readings speak to us all. youth, elders, families, and priests about perseverance, courage, and conviction in the face of opposition. In Jeremiah, the prophet is thrown into a muddy cistern because he spoke truth. Yet God sends help through Ebed-melech. Psychology tells us that in moments of rejection, our human instinct is to retreat, but faith teaches us to stand firm.

The Letter to the Hebrews urges us: “Run with perseverance, keeping your eyes fixed on Jesus.” Philosophers like Søren Kierkegaard remind us, “Faith sees best in the dark.” And in legal terms, law speaks of “burden of proof”, in faith, the “proof” is our steadfast witness when life’s court puts us on trial.

Then Jesus in Luke’s Gospel shocks us: “I have come to set the earth on fire.” Not a destructive fire, but the fire of truth and holiness that sometimes divides families, challenges comfort zones, and exposes false peace. My dear friends, psychology calls this cognitive dissonance, the discomfort we feel when truth confronts our habits. But theology calls it conversion, the burning away of what holds us back from God.

So to our families: stand together in Christ even if the world pushes you apart. To our youth: keep bringing your energy and creativity to the altar, you are not the Church of tomorrow, you are the Church of today. To our elders: your steadfast prayers are the anchor for our parish. To my brother priests. let’s keep fanning the flames of faith in our communities.

When I was in Texas, meeting people who knew All Saints reminded me—our faith connects hearts across miles. And like Jeremiah, like the saints before us, we must trust that God’s plan is bigger than the mud we sometimes sink in.

So today, I invite you: stop fearing the fire—become the fire. Burn with love, with truth, with courage. And when you grow weary, remember: the Lord will draw you out of the pit, set your feet on solid rock, and put a new song in your mouth.

REFLECTION

TWENTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Jeremiah lives in a very difficult time for the kingdom of Judah. The kingdom is growing weaker and weaker. Eventually it would fall to the Babylonian army during the reign of King Zedekiah. Before that point, Jeremiah saw the nation collapsing and identified two major evils: idolatry and injustice. He condemned the people for their unfaithfulness to the LORD, who saved them, and warned them of God's justice, which he warned would lead to their nation's destruction. Naturally, the king and princes did not appreciate his negativity, going so far as to say that he was demoralizing the soldiers and therefore acting treasonously.
