PASTOR'S PULSE ON THE PARISH

SUNDAY
NOVEMBER 23
2025

Dear Friends,
As we enter into this week of Thanksgiving, a spirit of thankfulness comes to the forefront of our hearts as we embrace the events of this past year and give thanks and praise to God for the many graces He has given to us – in times of joy and in times of sorrow and the presence of the cross.

I am thankful for all of you and for the many ways you are Christ to me. We have many wonderful things to look forward to as we look to 2026 ... namely, the consecration of our new spiritual home! Many beautiful blessings are in store for us!

St. Elizabeth of Hungary

This past week, we celebrated the memorial of St. Elizabeth of Hungary. St. Elizabeth had two lives – one as a privileged princess of the Kingdom of Hungary, and another as a poor servant of the Lord. She married early at the age of 14, but by the age of 20, she was a widow. Her husband, King Louis IV, died of fever on his way to the sixth crusade in September of 1227.

Having been influenced by the Franciscans, Elizabeth began to understand the joy of giving things away and thus, she developed a very loving, sacrificial and charitable heart.

Later on in her life, she laid her hands upon the altar on Good Friday of the Lord's Passion and gave her entire self to the Lord. She had reclaimed the rich dowry that was given at the time of her marriage and gave everything away to the poor and needy. She herself began to beg for her sustenance.

A truly thankful heart

People remarked of her life that she was filled with an inexpressible joy that consumed her as she labored in love for the poor and the sick. Born into a life of privilege and wealth, she died with true wealth in her heart – the love of Christ and her many labors that were done with great devotion as she recognized His heart in the heart of every person she helped.

Therein lies a truly thankful heart, friends – ever grateful for the love that Jesus poured into her and the beautiful response to that love through her countless works of charity and sacrifice. St. Elizabeth is one of the saints featured in our stained glass windows at the cathedral!

Advent begins

My time away has been busy, but blessed. I will be traveling back to Wisconsin on Monday and look forward to being with you again as we begin a new liturgical year with the season of Advent. We cherish Christ as our King and Lord, and on this solemnity of Jesus Christ, King of the Universe, we remember that true kingship is not found in riches and wealth, but in humility, kindness and sacrificial love.

Calendar raffle tickets

We're nearing 100 tickets sold for our annual calendar raffle. Our goal is to reach 400 tickets sold by December 31. Thanks for your help in making this annual fundraiser a great success!

Offering love and prayers

We offer our love and prayers to the family of Peggy Wilson of our parish, whose funeral will be celebrated here at the cathedral on Monday of this week. We also pray for Charlotte Haug, a cathe-

We lift them all to the Lord of life and pray that His gracious mercy will be given unto them in the glory of eternal life.

Fr. Michael*

Take an ornament from the tree at the back of church as a reminder and a thank you for participating.

HELP US TO HELP OUR NEIGHBORS IN NEED

The St. Vincent de Paul-St. Bernard Conference volunteers are actively working to help our neighbors in need by making home visits and responding to requests for assistance with furniture, rent, utilities, food, and more. We ask for your financial support during November by giving through the parish's St. Vincent de Paul donation envelope or on-line by selecting the St. Vincent de Paul Fund in the Cathedral of St. Bernard of Clairvaux website's giving portal. ## LIVES OF THE SAINTS

November 25, 2025

The following information is reprinted with permission from www.catholicculture.org:

St. Catherine of Alexandria

The account of her martyrdom is legendary and defies every attempt to cull out the historical kernel. Old Oriental sources make no mention of her. In the West her cult does not appear before the eleventh century, when the crusaders made it popular. She became the patroness of philosophical faculties; she is one of the "Fourteen Holy Helpers." The breviary offers the following:

Catherine, virgin of Alexandria, devoted herself to the pursuit of knowledge; at the age of eighteen, she surpassed all her contemporaries in science. Upon seeing how the Christians were being tortured, she went before Emperor Maximin (311-313), upbraided him for his cruelty, and with convincing reasons demonstrated the need of Christian faith in order to be saved. Astounded by her wisdom, the Emperor ordered her to be kept confined, and having summoned the most learned philosophers, promised them magnificent rewards if they could confound the virgin and turn her from belief in Christ. Far from being successful, a considerable number of the philosophers were inflamed by the sound reasons and persuasiveness of Catherine's speech with such a love for Jesus Christ that they declared themselves willing to offer their lives for the Gospel.

Then the Emperor attempted to win her by flattery and by promises, but his efforts proved equally fruitless. He ordered her whipped with rods, scourged with leaden nodules, and then left to languish eleven days without food in prison. The Emperor's wife and Porphyrius, general of the army, visited Catherine in prison; her words brought both to Christ and later they too proved their love in blood. Catherine's next torture consisted of being placed upon a wheel with sharp and pointed knives; from her lacerated body prayers ascended to heaven and the infernal machine fell to pieces. Many who witnessed the miracle embraced the faith. Finally, on November 25 Christ's servant was beheaded (307 or 312). By the hands of angels her body was carried to Mt. Sinai, where it was interred in the convent which bears her name.
