The Annual Catholic Appeal is now underway!

In the next week or two, Bishop Hying's letter will arrive in your homes. He invites you to support the liberating mission of the Church, so that all may come to know, love, and serve God, united by the Holy Spirit. The ACA reminds us that we belong to a Church that is universal, extending far beyond our local churches. Your prayerful and generous response helps strengthen ministries across our diocese and brings Christ's love to those in need. Thank you for your faithful support!

Sacristans Needed At St. Clement

Can you give just 20 minutes of your time to help our parish? Consider becoming a sacristan for our weekend Masses. You may wonder what that even means. Basically, it's helping the priest set-up for Mass. It's very simple. You would need to arrive about 20-25 minutes before Mass, and help set up the items that are needed for worship. Once you get the hang of it, it takes less than 10 minutes to do. At the end of Mass, it involves putting the Mass items away, and turning out the lights. Very simple! We'll provide on-the-job training too. Contact Bill Manthe at 723-4913 to volunteer or to get more info.

Why You Should Read the Daily Mass Readings

December 31, 2025 – focus.org

Every day, all around the world, Catholics hear the same Scriptures proclaimed at Mass — whether in Rome, Rwanda, or right on your campus. These passages, called the Daily Mass Readings, are more than just a routine part of the liturgy. They're a living conversation between God and His people. You don't have to be at daily Mass to benefit from them. In fact, reading the day's Scriptures on your own — or with your small group — is one of the simplest and most powerful ways to stay rooted in Christ throughout your week.

God Wants to Speak to You — Today

The Daily Mass Readings aren't random selections. They're carefully arranged through the Lectionary, which guides the Church through nearly the entire Bible every three years.

When you read the day's readings, you're joining the Church around the world in hearing the same Word of God — the same Gospel, the same invitation. God's Word is alive and active, and it has something specific to say to you right now — in this season, on this day.

The Readings Keep You Connected to the Heart of the Church

Whether you're on a college campus, in a parish, or traveling abroad, the daily readings unite us all in one voice of prayer and reflection.

Every priest, missionary, and believer who prays with these same passages is walking with you. Reading them daily, roots you in the rhythm of the Church's liturgical year — the feasts, fasts, and celebrations that form Catholic life.

If you want to live the faith deeply, the daily readings are your bridge between the universal Church and your personal prayer life.

They Prepare You for the Sacraments

If you attend daily Mass, spending a few minutes with the readings beforehand can transform your experience. Instead of hearing the Word for the first time in the pew, you'll enter the liturgy ready to receive it.

Even if you can't make daily Mass, these readings keep you spiritually connected. They're a perfect way to prepare for Sunday, reflect after receiving the Eucharist, or guide your time in adoration.

Scripture Shapes the Way You See the World

The Word of God gives us perspective — especially in a world filled with noise and distraction. When you read Scripture each day, you begin to see your own story inside God's story.

An argument with a friend, a stressful exam, a joyful moment on mission — all these experiences take on new meaning when you see them through the lens of the Gospel.

Daily Scripture reading forms your mind and heart in truth. It reminds you that your life, like the readings, is part of something much bigger.

It Doesn't Take Long — But It Changes Everything

The daily readings usually take just five minutes to read. You can find them easily on the USCCB website, in the Laudate or Hallow app, or through FOCUS's Daily Readings posts.

Try starting your morning with them, or read them with your Bible study group. If a verse or phrase stands out, stay with it. Let God speak through His Word, even briefly — because He will.

How to Begin

Start Small: Read the Gospel of the day each morning.

Use a Journal: Write one verse that stood out and how it applies to your day.

Pray with Lectio Divina: Slowly read, reflect, and respond to the passage.

Share It: Discuss the readings with your friends, roommates, or small group.

Stay Consistent: Set a daily reminder or bookmark the USCCB readings page.

Living the Word as a Missionary Disciple

As missionary disciples, we can't share what we don't first receive. Reading the Daily Mass Readings isn't just a personal devotion — it's preparation for mission. The Word forms us so that we can form others.

By hearing God's voice every day, you'll start to recognize His presence everywhere — in conversations, challenges, and opportunities to love.

When the Word of God becomes part of your daily rhythm, you don't just read Scripture — you start to live it.

A Belated Thank You!

As we begin the new year, I want to thank everyone for your support and friendship for the past 38+ years as pastoral associate at St. Clement, and at St. Charles and St. Mary's in Glen Haven. The time flew by very quickly! I especially want to thank those who planned, provided food and worked at my retirement party in early September. I can't name names as I'm sure there were many people behind the scenes who helped out in some way, and I don't want to miss someone. I am so grateful for all you did to make this a special occasion for me, Eileen and my family! I also want to thank those who were able to stop by that day- it was great to see you all and chat briefly! And thank you to everyone who dropped off or sent cards. I was very humbled by your kind words and generosity.

On this Feast of Epiphany, as we recall the coming of the Magi bearing gifts to the Christ-child, thank you for letting me into your lives. For me, doing so is "sacred ground" and as the song goes, we were and are "companions on the journey." Thank you for your kindness, your support, your love and friendship that you gave to me and my family. Know how precious these gifts, and you, are to me. May Christ, the True Light, shine down upon you all with an abundance of grace and blessings. ~Bill

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Each month, the Pope has a specific prayer intention. Also each month, the International Association of Catholic Mental Health Ministers uses the Pope's prayer intention to invite us to pray on the 2nd Monday for those with mental health challenges. You will find both prayers below and we invite you during the month of January to pray daily for the Pope's intention, and on January 12 (the 2nd Monday) the prayer for those living with mental health issues.

The Pope's January Intention: That praying the Word of God be nourishment for our lives and a source of hope in our communities, helping us to build a more fraternal and missionary Church.

The 2nd Monday Prayer & Reflection for Mental Health: For those of us who live with mental health challenges, the Word of God assures us that God understands our struggles and always wants to offer us spiritual support. Jesus says, "Come to Me all who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest," and "My peace I give you." Jesus knows we struggle with our mental health, and He assures us, that through prayer, we can rest in Him to find peace. We join with Pope Leo VIV in praying that the Word of God be a source of hope in our mental health challenges.
