XXIII Sunday in Ordinary Time: Jesus in the Midst of His Disciples

"For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." (Mt 18: 20)

Just as Christ is present in the Eucharist, He is also present among His disciples, though this is a different type of presence. As with the Eucharist, some requirements must be met. The first is unity and the second is that this unity be done in the name of the Lord.

When we consider the gift that will be received, the presence of the Lord, then we understand that every effort is worthwhile to attain what the Lord has promised. For example, the sacrifice that humility and acceptance of our neighbor's defects imply are rewarded with the joy that living with Christ brings us. When we are with Him, we are in Heaven, but when unity has been broken, when we have rejected Christ in our lives, then we experience Hell. Heaven is to be with God and Hell is to be without Him. How often, for example, have we experienced this at home. In fact, when there is no love, one frequently hears: "This house is like hell." That might be so, but they do not know why it is like that. It is the absence of Jesus, absence linked to lack of love, which makes life together impossible.

Also, this unity has to be done in the name of the Lord, that is to say, being united both to Him and the one who represents Him, the Church. This also has a price: the acceptance of the Church's teachings, all of them, including those that are more difficult to understand or practice.

The price may seem expensive, but it is worth it. On the other hand, do not be fooled: if we do not pay the price of unity, we will pay the price of division. If we do not make an effort to keep the family united, we will have to suffer the consequences of disunity. And if we are to pay, it is better to pay for what unites us to God and gives us happiness on earth.

Aspiration: Practice the maxim: "The less perfect is worth more in unity than the most perfect in disunity." Practice humility, patience and fidelity to the Church.

Fr. Santiago Martin, FM

Founder & President of the Franciscans of Mary

XXIII domingo: Jesús en medio de los discípulos

"Donde dos o tres están reunidos en mi nombre, allí estoy yo en medio de ellos". (Mt 18, 20)

No Cristo está presente en medio de los discípulos, lo mismo que está presente en la Eucaristía, aunque sea con un tipo de presencia diferente. Pero, al igual que en la Eucaristía, es preciso que se cumplan algunos requisitos. El primero es el de la unidad y el segundo el de que esa unidad sea en el nombre del Señor.

Cuando se tiene en cuenta el don que se va a conseguir -la presencia del Señor- se comprende que todo esfuerzo merece la pena con tal de lograr lo prometido. El sacrificio que supone la humildad y el aceptar los defectos del prójimo, por ejemplo, se ven recompensados con la alegría que da la convivencia con Cristo. Cuando se está con Él, se vive en el Cielo; cuando se ha roto la unidad, cuando hemos echado a Cristo de nuestro lado, lo que se experimenta es el Infierno. No en vano, el Cielo es estar con Dios y el Infierno es estar sin Él. Con cuánta frecuencia se experimenta esto en el hogar, por ejemplo. Cuando no hay amor, es frecuente oír: "Esta casa es un infierno". Tienen razón, pero no saben por qué eso es así. Es la ausencia de Jesús, ausencia ligada a la falta de amor, lo que hace imposible la vida en común.

Pero, además, esa unidad ha de hacerse en el nombre del Señor y, por lo tanto, unidos a Él y unidos a quien le representa, la Iglesia. Eso también tiene un precio: el de la aceptación de las enseñanzas de la Iglesia; de todas, incluidas aquellas que puedan resultar más difíciles de entender o de practicar.

El precio puede parecer caro, pero merece la pena. Por otro lado, no hay que engañarse: si no se paga el precio de la unidad se pagará el precio de la división. Si no se hace un esfuerzo por mantener unida la familia, se tendrá que sufrir las consecuencias de la desunión. Y puestos a pagar, mejor hacerlo por aquello que nos une a Dios y que nos da la felicidad en la tierra.

Propósito: Practicar la máxima: "vale más lo menos perfecto en unidad que lo más perfecto en desunión". Ejercitar la humildad, la paciencia y la fidelidad a la Iglesia.

P. Santiago Martín, FM

Fundador & Presidente de los Franciscanos de María
