St. Katharine Drexel Prep celebrates fifth commencement

St. Katharine Drexel Preparatory School held its fifth Baccalaureate Mass and Graduation Ceremony on May 18 at St. Louis Cathedral. The Class of 2018 earned more than $3 million dollars in college scholarships. Every graduate received a college acceptance.

Presiding over the graduation ceremony were School Sister of Notre Dame Margaret Mary Friesenhahn, president; Dr. RaeNell Houston, superintendent of Catholic schools; Jacob J. Owens Jr., principal; and Josephite Father Anthony Bozeman.

During his homily, Father Bozeman encouraged the graduates to fulfill God's purpose for their lives and to be a witness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Owens conferred diplomas and awards to the honor graduates. Additional honor awards were presented by Sister Margaret Mary and Houston.

Davionne Snowton was the class speaker. She highlighted the special times the seniors shared with each other and reflected on several memorable events. She reminded the class of the special sisterhood that exists among the seniors.

The Xavier Prep Class of 1968 celebrated its 50th class reunion during the graduation ceremony. Retired Coast Guard Rear Admiral Stephen Rochon, class of '68, encouraged the graduates to remember those who helped them along the way and to return the gift by helping others. He offered 18 nuggets of wisdom to remember as the graduates embark on their new life.

The class valedictorian was Mia J. Robertson, the daughter of Debra Robertson and Shawn Robertson. She served as president of the National Honor Society and was a member of the Key Club, Student Ambassadors and the SKDP Color Guards. She earned high academic excellence awards in English, mathematics and social studies. In recognition of outstanding leadership and service, she received the St. Katharine Drexel Award, the highest honor awarded to a graduating senior.

Robertson earned more than $1 million in academic scholarships. She also received the Kiley Hart Scholarship Award for graduates who have displayed scholarship, leadership and service throughout their years at Drexel Prep. She will attend Baylor University on a full academic scholarship to pursue her intended major in exercise physiology.

The salutatorian was Michaela F. Stevenson. She is the daughter of Inger Stevenson. She served as vice president of the National Honor Society and was secretary of the Key Club. She also was a member of the SKDP Student Ambassadors and the cheerleading team. She earned high academic excellence awards in social studies, science and religion. She was a member of the President's Honor Roll and received the HART Scholar Award. She plans to attend Barry University in Miami on a full scholarship and major in business and early childhood development.

Other honor graduates were Jhaire A. Bougere, Auriel I. Goodall, Alicity A. Robair, Kennae I. Smith, Starr S. Smith, Davionne D. Snowton, Cameryn A. Thompson and Kayla B. Wallace.

Other graduates were Irie C. Arnau, Aaliyah M. Dumas, Autoum F. McWeen, Keoce L. Press, Bentrel B. Ranson, Gabrielle R. Slater, Kia N. Washington, Janae A. West and Annjel C. Williams.

Academy of the Sacred Heart's 131st graduation

The Academy of the Sacred Heart held its 131st graduation ceremony on June 1 in the front courtyard of the St. Charles Avenue school. Diplomas were presented by Religious of the Sacred Heart Sister Melanie A. Guste, headmistress, and Julie Boyd, Upper School division head.

Neal Kling, Board of Trustees chair, offered closing remarks. A Baccalaureate Mass was celebrated on May 28 in the Sacred Heart Chapel, where alumna Bridget Bagert, M.D., who is director of the Ochsner Multiple Sclerosis Center and Director of Neurology Research at the Ochsner Neuroscience Institute, addressed the gathering.

Patricia C. Moreau was the valedictorian of the Class of 2018. She excelled by earning the highest marks in the most demanding courses offered at the Academy of the Sacred Heart.

Moreau has received many school and community awards while at Sacred Heart. She has served families at Kingsley House. Moreau was selected to the Pre-Season All-Metro, All-District, All-Metro and All-State teams in volleyball. In track and field, she was named the indoor high jump state champion, outdoor high jump state champion, and outdoor javelin state champion, and she helped her team earn state championships in both indoor and outdoor track and field. She also was honored as a WWL A+ Athlete.

Moreau is the daughter of Patricia Hotard Moreau and the daughter and stepdaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle A. Moreau. She will attend the University of Pennsylvania, where she will compete in outdoor track and field in the javelin and high jump events.

Lilyon C. Conroy was the salutatorian. She has earned many prestigious awards for her academic performance, extracurricular activities and her overwhelming commitment to community service. Conroy has been an important part of the Avenue Players, Sacred Heart's musical theater ensemble and has held numerous leading roles including Mary Poppins in "Mary Poppins." She also has competed in numerous

Zimmer, Picnot headline Holy Rosary's 2018 class

Holy Rosary High School held its 11th commencement and Baccalaureate Mass at Blessed Trinity Church on May 17, graduating a class of 19 seniors.

Mattie T. Zimmer was the valedictorian, and Samuel M. Picnot was the salutatorian. Father Roman Burgos celebrated the Baccalaureate Mass. Cheryl Orillion, principal, conferred the diplomas, and Cathy Yaeger, assistant principal, served as the master of ceremonies.

In his homily, Father Burgos encouraged the graduates to keep Christ in their lives, to grow in their faith and to give of themselves. Special guests representing the Office of Catholic Schools were Dr. RaeNell Houston, superintendent of the Office of Catholic Schools, and Martha Mundine, associate superintendent. Following the Mass, Houston congratulated the seniors and thanked their parents for choosing a Catholic education for their children. She encouraged the graduates to maintain their relationship with God as they begin a new chapter in their lives.

Zimmer, daughter of Jamie Landry-Zimmer, received the Highest Average Awards in calculus, civics and Religion IV. She was also the recipient of the Bulldog Pride Award in recognition of a perfect discipline record for the year. Zimmer, who is a TOPS scholar, will attend the University of New Orleans on a UNO Homer L. Hitt Presidential Scholarship and a UNO Presidential Merit Scholarship and major in mathematics.

Picnot, son of Dr. Pamela Conley, received the Highest Average Awards in Biology II and English IV. He also received the Outstanding Student Award, which is presented to the senior who best lives out the mission of Holy Rosary School. He also received the Bulldog Pride Award in recognition of a perfect discipline record for the year. Picnot, who is a TOPS scholar, will attend the University of New Orleans on the UNO President Plus

Sixty-five seniors get diplomas from Pope John Paul II

Pope John Paul II High School presented 65 graduates with their diplomas during the school's 38th commencement exercises May 8 in the Beryl and Henry Parent Gymnasium. Earlier that morning, an awards ceremony was conducted, followed by a Baccalaureate Mass celebrated by Father Patrick Wattigny, school president. He was assisted by Deacon Harold Burke.

Nicole Alvarez, principal; Lise Bremond, assistant principal; and Andrea Estavan, dean of students, were joined on stage by Father Wattigny; Teresian Sister Marina Aranzabal; Dr. RaeNell Houston, superintendent of Catholic schools; and Michael Buras, associate superintendent.

Houston addressed and congratulated the seniors. Joshua Philips, senior class president, served as master of ceremonies. The Class of 2018, before TOPS awards, earned more than $3.5 million in scholarship offers from universities and corporations from across the nation.

The class valedictorian was Tyler Sanderson, daughter of Tim and Jen Sanderson of Mandeville. Sanderson was a member the school's National Honor Society, a student ambassador and a member of the Spirit Team. She founded the school's Board Gamers Club. She was a key player on each of the school's four consecutive volleyball state championships earned over her years at Pope John Paul. She intends to pursue a degree in mathematical finance from Trinity University.

The salutatorian was Olivia Schwab, son of Cynthia and Frank Schwab of Pearl River. She served as president of the National Honor Society and was a member of the History Club, Math Club, Mu Alpha Theta and Quiz Bowl Team. She will attend the University of Mississippi and major in integrated marketing and communications (pre-law).

Mia Abbenante received the St. Teresa Award, and Christopher Arroyo received the St. Henry de Osso Award, honors given to the female and male students who model their faith development and Christianity in keeping with the spirit of the Teresian Sisters, who served the high school over 22 years ago.

The Pope John Paul II Award for Leadership was presented to Camille Dedeaux for demonstrating exemplary leadership in her school and community. In addition to serving as this year's Executive Board Student Council president, Dedeaux was a student ambassador and an integral member of the volleyball team. She also was a member of the National Honor Society, Board Gamers Club, Spirit Team and Media Club. She will attend St. Edward's University on both academic and athletic scholarships.

The Pope John Paul II High School Award, recognizing the student who best exemplifies the school's mission of academic excellence, faith development and leadership, went to Peyton Smith. Smith served as vice president of the National Honor Society and was a Student Ambassador. He also was a member of the Buddies program, served as an extraordinary minister of holy Communion, and was a member of the Liturgy Team, Media Club, Sanctity of Life and Catholic Athletes for Christ. He participated in football, powerlifting and track and field.

In addition to the valedictorian and salutatorian, this year's graduates of distinction were Olivia Csaki, Katie Fradella and Ava Savarese.

Ursuline Academy conducts 291st commencement exercises

Ursuline Academy, founded in 1727, conducted its 291st commencement exercise on May 19 in the school's auditorium. Deborah Augustine Elam, an Ursuline graduate of 1979, delivered the commencement address. She is the retired chief diversity officer of GE and president of the GE Foundation. Elam currently is president and CEO of Corporate Playbook.

The valedictorian was Raphaella M. Brown, the daughter of Captain Jason and Paige Brown. Brown was a member of the Student Council for five years and served on the executive board for the last two years. She was a member of the National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, National Art Honor Society and Tri-M Music Honor Society, as well as a five-year member of the softball and basketball teams. She was chosen as the Ursuline Education Network (UEN) Senior Scholar Athlete, a Saints/Enterprise Scholar Athlete, and a Cox Inspirational Hero. Brown also is the recipient of an Allstate Sugar Bowl LHSAA scholarship and was chosen as a National Semifinalist for the NHS Scholarship Program. She will attend Loyola University New Orleans as an Ignatian Scholar.

The salutatorian was Leah G. Melancon, the daughter of Alvin and Sheri' Amundson Melancon. She is a legacy of Ursuline Academy, preceded by her mother. She was president of Mu Alpha Theta Math Honor Society, a member of the National Honor Society, Tri-M Music Honor Society, Student Council, Lion's Pride and was a Student Ambassador. She volunteered at Touro Infirmary and FaithActs Theology Institute. She was most recently a member of the Fierce 5 World's Team and was a three-year member of the Holy Cross cheerleading team. She will attend Vanderbilt University, where she will cheer for the Commodores.

The following students were ranked, along with the valedictorian and salutatorians, in the top 10 of the graduating class: Blaine O. Fassbender, Nadia V. Haik, Ally E. Haley, Karrington L. Knight, Neha A. Samtani, Olivia A. Sensenbrenner, Leah R. Strickland and Reagan E. Ulrich.

Olivia A. Sensenbrenner received the CLC Medal, the highest award that Ursuline gives, which recognizes the senior who, in the opinion of the faculty, has exemplified to an outstanding degree the qualities of courtesy, loyalty and courage expected of the Ursuline student.

The senior class bestowed the Edward A. LaFaye Memorial Award for outstanding humanitarian service to Veronica A. Flores.

The Sedes Sapientiae Medal (Our Lady "Seat of Wisdom") is presented annually to the senior whose scholarship, achievement and loyalty, in the opinion of the faculty, have been consistent and outstanding. This year's recipient was Raphaella M. Brown.

Karrington L. Knight received the 2018 Cor Unum Award from the Ursuline Alumnae Association. Candidates are judged solely on their love for Ursuline Academy.

The Sylvia Probst Medal was awarded to Christian A. Shepard for outstanding interest and achievement in English V. The award is given in honor of Sylvia Probst, who served Ursuline and generations of Ursuline students for 45 years as an English teacher, librarian, assistant principal and principal.

The 85 graduates earned a total of nearly $9.8 million in four-year scholarships.

The other graduates were Jessica R. Addvensky, Amaya K. Alexander, Ava L. Allen, Mariana-Isabelle G. Alvarez, Megan M. Assavedo, Jasmine A. Bellow, Natalia M. Beciartua, Jonté M. Bernard, Brenna L. Bonura, Kaitlyn J. Borel.

Prayer for Students

*Lord our God, in your wisdom and love
you surround us with the mysteries of the universe.*

*Send your Spirit upon these students and fill them with your wisdom and blessings.
Grant that they may devote themselves to their studies and draw ever closer to you,
the source of all knowledge.*

*We ask this through Christ our Lord.

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR 2018 CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

ARCHDIOCESE OF NEW ORLEANS
Superintendent of Catholic Schools

June 2018

Dear Catholic Community,

I would like to take this opportunity to extend heartfelt congratulations to the members of the graduating Class of 2018 for their achievements. The Class of 2018 has proven to be successful, not only academically, but also as witnesses to a strong faith in God. I commend the graduates for living out their faith and serving as true testaments to the pillars of Catholic education. These young men and women set themselves apart when they chose Catholic schools for their educational experiences. Catholic schools allowed them to grow spiritually and enhanced their values while developing their academic skills and nurturing intellectual curiosity.

As our newest alumni leave our schools, they take with them the tools to succeed. Their success will not be confined to academic capabilities. I have faith that our graduates will be prosperous in their careers, will become leaders, and will make wise life decisions guided by Catholic principles. Witnessing in Catholic schools the value of living a spiritually rich life will contribute to their success in future endeavors.

The success of the graduates of 2018 is possible because of the positive influences in their lives. I thank parents, as the first educators, for entrusting their children to our care. I thank administrators, teachers, counselors, librarians, coaches, chaplains, and all involved in the ministry of Catholic education for serving as consistent, honorable role models and for providing exceptional education deeply rooted in the teachings of the Gospel. As I express my continued gratitude to parents and students for having faith in Catholic schools, let me also thank again all of the educators who have chosen the ministry of Catholic schools. As a parent and an educator, I know our children's overall success relies little on test scores and report cards but rather on our children's devotion and modeling of the teachings of the Church. It is my belief that our newest alumni will be young men and women who, because of their compassion and commitment to the betterment of all, will be positive role models in all of their interactions.

I ask you to remember the graduates in your prayers as they follow God's plan for this new chapter in their lives. Once again, I thank the Class of 2018 for choosing Catholic schools; and, I commend them on their success as graduates of academically rigorous, spiritually strong institutions. Congratulations, Class of 2018.

God Bless,

Dr. RaeNell B. Houston
