Reflection from Theology Club

In this week's reading, Jesus was having a conversation with Nicodemus. In this conversation Jesus said "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life. God sent His Son into the world, not to condemn the world but to save it."

This week's reading shows us how God has made each one of us an offer of relationship. The nature of the one God is the persons of the Trinity in which the Father and the Son reciprocate their love and this bond of love is the Holy Spirit. God has offered us a share in this love, but in order to receive this gift we must receive His Son and receive the Holy Spirit. To do this requires us to offer our lives to God. Our lives will be judged by this, and in the end we will either be found clutching and trying to possess a multitude of things that we cannot take to the grave or we will leave behind the things of this world and enter into the love of the Trinity and the fulfillment of all desire. Let us pray we use our lives to choose the latter.
