The Meaning of the 75th Jubilee Logo

The Stain-glass window in the church sanctuary, that is above the altar is in the shape of a Host. It is resting inside of a Chalice. This symbolizes Christ Body and His Blood. The chards of stain glass embody "Us the People and The Parish Congregation". The many exquisite colorful pieces celebrate the diversity of a great multi-faceted ethnic group of parishioners. The square panes of glass inside the window represent the many groups and organizations that create The Saint Antoninus Parish Family. The Logo in its entirety signifies an on-going development of the past into the future beside a spirited vital family.

Readings:

Amos 6:1, 4-7

1 Tm. 6:11-16

Lk. 16: 19-31

Theme: The Reversal of Fortune

In today's Gospel reading, Jesus draws our attention to another major concern in our lives — learn to share your gifts. The parable is about a rich man and a poor man, Lazarus. The misunderstanding of the parable has always been centered on rich people. However, Jesus was digging deeper into our own life-psyche. He was drawing our attention to ourselves by not pointing finger to someone else.

The Rich Man and the Poor Lazarus

Let us turn our attention to the First Reading from the prophet Amos. The people in the Northern Southern Kingdoms where religion was highly practiced had walked away from God. Almost everyone was religious, born into Judaism. They have all been schooled in the Law of God. Among them were of the teachers, lawyers, High priests, priests, etc. Those who knew the Law of God taught it with zeal. Religious practices were everywhere. However, it was all in the head. They were born into it and therefore learned it. However, they paid lip service to the law. The prophet Amos pointed out to them that their practice of religion was all to gain favor and approbation from people. They lived a life that did not fulfill the law of God. 'Lying upon beds of ivory, stretched comfortably on their couches, they eat lambs taken from the flock, and calves from the stall! Improvising to the music of the harp . . ." They did not pay attention to the poor and the needy in their midst. Thus, the major theme in Luke's Gospel of today is to draw our attention to the what goes on around us as disciples of Christ: the care of the poor and the needy in our midst, in our communities, in our country. It is a challenge that the Lord throws at us. The rich man represents all of us and the poor man represents the needy, the poor, the sick, etc., among us.

The Demands of the Gospel

Discipleship, according to Luke is not for those who are not prepared to let go of their egocentrism. It is a call to complete denunciation of oneself to totally follow Christ. The rich man was entitled to eat and drink but in doing so forgot that his wealth came not just from his own efforts but from God and others and therefore needed to reach out to the poor and needy in society. Jesus points us to the fact that our earthly wealth is only transient and that it should be shared. This challenge has made us all guilty in some sense because of our human tendency to cling on to our possessions without sharing with others.

Lesson from the Readings:

We are all rich in some sense from the gifts God has given to us. We all possess the Holy Spirit. Our call to ministry is a call to service of one another. Our gifts of love, compassion, mercy, kindness, generosity, justice, etc. are to be used to lift others up, beginning from our families, communities, and of course our country. The Lord calls our attention to the reversal of fortune when those neglected, treated poorly by others, pushed to the periphery of society, and so on are drawn to God in heaven and those who had everything but refused to share with the poor and needy in society are sent to a place where they never thought would be their place for ever. The Lord calls our attention to share our wealth with the poor and the needy while trusting in God; to use our God given gifts to serve the needs of others knowing that God will fill our treasures to the full. We remember St. Paul's message to Timothy:

*But you, man [woman] of God, pursue righteousness, devotion, faith, love, patience, and gentleness. Compete well for the faith.
Lay hold of eternal life, to which you were called when you made the noble confession in the presence of many witnesses (1Tm. 6:11-13)*

May the Holy Spirit guide us all to avail ourselves to one another and especially to the poor and the needy.

BREAKING OPEN THE WORD with Kathy O'Connor
26th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Reading I: Amos 6:1a, 4-7: As it was last weekend, the first reading is from the book of the prophet Amos. In this week's passage Amos denounces the excesses of the rich elite who delight in prosperity that benefits only them, while the poor just get poorer. Amos takes aim at the people who live a life of luxury completely oblivious to the misfortunes of others. The people being addressed by Amos outwardly present themselves as being religiously observant but they use their religious rituals as an excuse to pursue even more opulent living. Amos understands that love of God never ignores the needs of one's neighbors and that prayer and sacrifice don't substitute for righteous living that includes sharing resources with the needy. Amos the prophet speaks for God who cares about injustice and who won't simply just observe it as it happens. Misfortune is about to overtake these complacent people for the injustice they practice.

Responsorial Psalm: Psalm 146: 7, 8-9, 9-10 (1b): The verses of the psalm for this weekend describes the actions whereby God manifests His power and goodness. In these verses, God is tending to the people who are treated unjustly. The actions that are described in verses 7-9 were also performed by Jesus Christ our Lord during His earthly life. His miracles were signs of the redemption He would bring about, thereby fulfilling the words of this psalm.

Reading II: 1 Timothy 6:11-16: In this reading St. Paul is addressing the serious responsibility born by a "man of God". Such a man is expected to behave in ways different from the culture and Paul addresses the list of virtues in the first sentence to Timothy who was an elder in the Church. But these virtues are also being proposed to all of us as we hear them at Mass. Paul is telling us that it is not only the Church leaders who must behave differently than the culture but also the disciples. In our modern times, we are the disciples. We too must aim for righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, and gentleness. Paul urges us to "compete well" letting nothing prevent us from fighting the good fight and finishing the race until the Lord returns in glory.

Gospel: Luke 16:19-31: The Gospel reading for Mass this weekend is rich and multifaceted. Jesus continues to teach His disciples about the proper use of wealth, addressing His words not only to the disciples, but to the Pharisees who ridicule Him. You see, the Pharisees are rather fond of money and comfort. The parable of Lazarus and the rich man affirms the survival of the soul after death as well as consequences in the next life. Lazarus, a poor man, and another man, a rich man, died and were judged on how they had conducted their lives. Lazarus found consolation in the afterlife while the rich man found torment. It is easy to think that the rich man found torment simply because he had abundant earthly possessions, dressed elegantly, and dined sumptuously every day. Pope St. John Paul II believed that the rich man was not condemned strictly by his wealthy lifestyle, but because he did not pay attention to those less fortunate than him. According to Saint Pope John Paul II, Jesus does not condemn the mere possession of earthly goods as such. Rather He pronounces harsh words against those who use their possessions in a selfish way, without paying attention to the needs of others. This parable teaches us that riches and freedom impose special responsibilities and special obligations: to reach out to the less fortunate to alleviate their suffering. This parable also teaches us about the equal dignity of every human person: the rich man and Lazarus are both human beings, both of them equally created in the image and likeness of God, and both of them equally redeemed by Christ at a very great price: the price of the precious blood of Christ.

Reflection: A theme seems to run through the readings for Mass this weekend: Concern for others is imperative in the Christian life. God's ways are not our ways. We must try to adopt God's ways and make them our own. The parable of the rich man and Lazarus speaks of a dramatic reversal of fortunes in the next life. Lazarus, who in this life was wretchedly poor, in the next life rests comfortably in the bosom of Abraham while the rich man who in this life lived sumptuously, is in torment. This passage is a reminder as is the reading from Amos that to close our eyes to the needs around us as the rich man in the parable did, is to invite ultimate disaster. We Christians should ask God for the strength to resist the modern-day emphasis on personal comfort and self-fulfillment and for the grace to be sensitive to those in need. Perhaps we can do something to assist some "Lazarus" that we might know or encounter. Perhaps this week we might reflect on the following: 1) what are the lessons for me in the reversal of fortune that the rich man and Lazarus experienced; 2) how well am I showing the special concern that God requires for those in need; what specific things might I begin doing; 3) what is the most important message of Jesus' parable for me? Lord, who are my enemies, my antagonists? Do I love them as you loved yours? The Pharisees mocked you and belittled you, yet you loved them all the same. You went out of your way to give them what they needed most: a vision of your love and truth. Teach me to love as you love and to give as you give.....

Sister Lucia, who is the eldest of the three children of Fatima, received from the Blessed Mother, the devotion of the First Saturday of the month. Extra ordinary promises are given to those persons, whom on Five Consecutive Saturdays do the following:

Go to Confession in a reasonable amount of time before the First Saturday. (Our Church will have our Holy Hour on the 1st Thursday before the First Friday each month.) Confession will be available on all these Thursdays.

Receive Holy Communion in the state of Grace, and offer that Communion in reparation for the sins against the Most Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Recite 5 Decades of the Rosary.

Keep the Blessed Mother company for 15 minutes, while meditating on the mysteries of the Rosary, with the intention of making reparation to Her most Immaculate Heart. This can be done anywhere.

The Blessed Mother in exchange for your commitment to the five First Saturdays told Sister Lucia that:

" I will assist (be present) at the hour of your death (the person fulfilling the request) with all the graces necessary for salvation.....)" A powerful promise from our Mother.

Why five first Saturdays? According to Sister Lucia, they were requested to atone for the five ways in which people offend the Immaculate Heart of Mary:

Attacks upon Mary's Immaculate Conception.

Attacks against her Perpetual Virginity.

Attacks upon her Divine Maternity and the refusal to accept her as the Mother of all mankind.

For those who try to publicly implant in children's hearts indifference, contempt and even hatred of this Immaculate Mother.

For those who insult her directly in her sacred images.
