

18th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Taking the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he said the blessing, broke the loaves, and gave them to the disciples, who in turn gave them to the crowds.

OPENING HYMN: All Are Welcome

Text: Marty Haugen, b.1950, © 1994, GIA Publications, Inc.

1. Let us build a house where love can dwell
And all can safely live,
A place where saints and children tell
How hearts learn to forgive.
Built of hopes and dreams and visions,
Rock of faith and vault of grace;
Here the love of Christ shall end divisions:
All are welcome, all are welcome, all are welcome in this place.
2. Let us build a house where prophets speak,
And words are strong and true,
Where all God's children dare to seek
To dream God's reign anew.
Here the cross shall stand as witness
And as symbol of God's grace;
Here as one we claim the faith of Jesus:
All are welcome, all are welcome, all are welcome in this place.
3. Let us build a house where love is found
In water, wine and wheat:
A banquet hall on holy ground,
Where peace and justice meet.
Here the love of God, through Jesus,
Is revealed in time and space;
As we share in Christ the feast that frees us:
All are welcome, all are welcome, all are welcome in this place.

GLORIA:

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of goodwill.

We praise you, we bless you, we adore you, we glorify you, we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God Almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only begotten son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For You alone are the Holy one, You alone are the Lord, You alone are the most high Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, in the Glory of God the Father, Amen, Amen.

RESPONSE: I will praise your name, my King and my God. I will praise your name, my King and my God.

ALLELUIA.

CREED (spoken) I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through Him all things were made. Continued on next page....

Creed continued from previous page...

For us men and for our salvation He came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake He was crucified under Pontius Pilate, He suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and His kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PREPARATION: Come to the Water

Text: Isaiah 55:1, 2, Matthew 11:28-30; John Foley, SJ, b. 1939 Tune: John Foley, SJ, b. 1939 © 1978, John B. Foley, SJ, and OCP

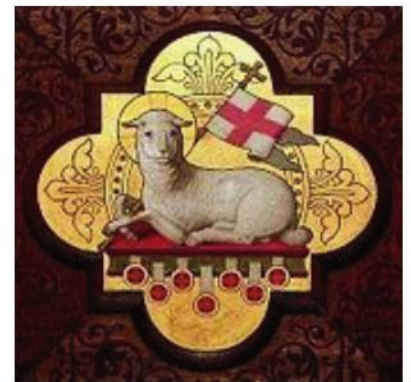

1. O let all who thirst, let them come to the water.
And let all who have nothing, let them come to the Lord:
Without money, without price,
Why should you pay the price, except for the Lord?
2. And let all who seek, let them come to the water.
And let all who have nothing, let them come to the Lord:
Without money, without strife,
Why should you spend your life, except for the Lord?

HOLY, HOLY:

ACCLAMATION.

AMEN.

COMMUNION: All Who Hunger

Text: Sylvia G. Dunstan, 1955-1993, © 1991, GIA Publications, Inc.

1. All who hunger, gather gladly;
Holy manna is our bread.
Come from wilderness and wand'ring.
Here, in truth, we will be fed.
You that yearn for days of fullness,
All around us is our food.

Refrain

Taste and see the grace eternal.
Taste and see that God is good.
Taste and see the grace eternal.
Taste and see that God is good.

2. All who hunger, never strangers,
Seeker, be a welcome guest.
Come from restlessness and roaming.
Here, in joy, we keep the feast.
We that once were lost and scattered
In communion's love have stood.

MEDITATION.

PRAYER: *St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle.
Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil.
May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou,
O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God,
cast into hell satan, and all the evil spirits,
who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.*

CLOSING HYMN: We Are Called

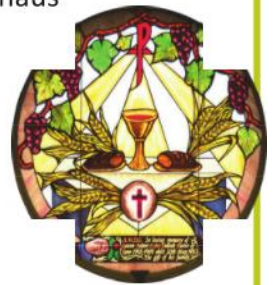

Text: Micah 6:8; David Haas, b.1957, © 1988, GIA Publications, Inc.

1. Come! Live in the light!
Shine with the joy and the love of the Lord!
We are called to be light for the kingdom,
to live in the freedom of the city of God!
We are called to act with justice,
we are called to love tenderly,
we are called to serve one another;
to walk humbly with God!
2. Come! Open your heart!
Show your mercy to all those in fear!
We are called to be hope for the hopeless
so all hatred and blindness will be no more!
We are called to act with justice,
we are called to love tenderly,
we are called to serve one another;
to walk humbly with God!

BREAKING OPEN THE WORD with Dr. Kathy O'Connor
18TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Reading I: Isaiah 55:1-3: Our first reading for Mass this weekend is an invitation to partake of the banquet of the Lord's covenant. The oracles in this passage and in subsequent verses are a call to conversion; a call to take advantage of the salvific gifts to generously offered. Originally this call to conversion was a call to those exiled in Babylon to return to Jerusalem; but it is a call that is made at all times to everyone. In verse three the Lord says through Isaiah that He will renew the everlasting covenant keeping promises He made to David. This can be read by Christians as an invitation to share in the new and eternal covenant sealed with the blood of our Lord. It is a pledge of salvation for all mankind. In the Eucharist, the banquet of the New Testament, the words of Isaiah come true in the complete sense in the words spoken by Jesus when He instituted that sacrament: "Take and eat" (verse 1), the true bread of life, the very finest food, which money cannot buy (verses 1-3). Therefore, the invitation extended by the prophet is a call to Christians to partake of the Eucharist. Writing about the Eucharist, Pope Paul VI said: "It is the pinnacle, here on earth, of the covenant of love between God and His people: the sign and source of Christian joy, the preparation of the eternal banquet in heaven".

Responsorial Psalm: Psalm 145:8-9, 15-16, 17-18 (16): The psalm for this weekend is a psalm of David. It is a psalm of praise to the Lord who is great and merciful; whose kingdom endures forever. The greatness of God is seen in the mighty deeds He performs through all generations, reflecting His goodness. Verses 8 and 9 reflect the first reading: God of the covenant which He extends to all. God provides food to all living beings. The Lord's kingdom is just: He responds with kindness and salvation to all who invoke Him and love Him.

Reading II: Romans 8:35, 37-39: St. Paul, in this passage from Romans, echoes the theme of Isaiah and the psalm of God providing for His people. Nothing can separate us from the Lord's love. St. Paul tells us that nothing, and no created thing, is stronger than God's love for us. In keeping with the theme of the banquet in the first reading, Paul tells us that God will not withhold all the graces we need; all we need to assure us of this is the desire to receive this divine help (the theme of conversion in Isaiah).

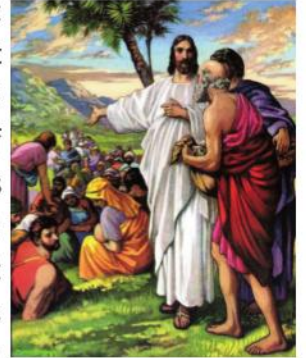

Gospel: Matthew 14:13-21: Our passage from Matthew focuses on Jesus' reaction to hearing the news of John the Baptist's death. On hearing of John's death at the hands of Herod Antipas, He withdrew to be alone. It is possible that Jesus perceived John's death as a foreshadowing of His own and wanted solitude to reflect and pray about what lay ahead. However, the people had heard that Jesus had set out in a boat and they followed Him. Some even arrived by foot at His destination before He did! He might have been frustrated to see such a crowd waiting for Him when He wanted to be alone. Yet, when He saw the crowd waiting for Him, His heart was moved with pity. The Greek word translated by the phrase his heart was moved with pity means to have a deep reaction of compassion. Jesus is profoundly moved by their needs. They had tracked Him down so He could heal their sick in His compassion, He healed them for such a long time that the dinner hour had passed. Although they were in a deserted area, there was a town nearby in walking distance.

As evening approached, the disciples, concerned for the crowd's well-being suggested the people should walk to the town so they could buy food for themselves. A good common-sense suggestion! But Jesus tells them there is no need for the people to go away. Think about it. The crowd would only need to go away if Jesus could not meet their needs. By saying the crowd should not leave, Jesus was indicating that He could meet their needs and by extension, all human needs. Yet, Jesus tells the disciples "you give them something to eat". True, there is no need for anyone to go away from Jesus to have their needs met, but Jesus meets needs through His followers. The message for Matthew's readers is that Jesus wants to meet the needs of others through them. We know that the disciples had little food with them: five loaves and two fish. We are familiar with the multiplication of the fish and loaves. We are so familiar with it that we might miss the point. Matthew's focus is on Jesus' taking the little the disciples could provide Him and it becomes enough to satisfy a massive crowd. It became more than enough: there were significant leftovers. It is the fact that there are leftovers that is significant: Jesus meets needs abundantly. Jesus can take the little we have and make it an abundance for others. In Isaiah we were called to participate in the banquet of the Lord's covenant. Jesus' feeding of the crowd is an image for Jesus' nourishing His followers in the Eucharist.

Reflection: John the Baptist's death moves Jesus deeply. He wants some solitude to think and pray but it is not to be. Jesus puts aside His own sorrow and needs to minister to the crowd. St. Matthew emphasizes this perhaps to draw a parallel between Jesus' self-giving in His time of sorrow and the culmination of Jesus' self-giving: the Eucharist. The four verbs that describe what Jesus does with the five loaves (take, bless, break, and give) are the same four verbs that describe what Jesus did with the bread that becomes His body during the last supper. It is a summary of Christian theology. Jesus does the same with each of His disciples: He calls them, pours out His grace on them, gives them a share of the cross, and sends them into the world to make more disciples. The Eucharist is Jesus' ongoing love affair with the souls for whom He died, and it makes what it teaches (self-forgetting love), actually happen in those who receive it with faith. Perhaps this week we might reflect on the following: 1) what significance do I find in Jesus' feeding of the crowd, 2) how hungry am I for what Jesus offers me, 3) to what extent do I look upon myself as Jesus' instrument for meeting human needs, and 4) however little it may be, what am I able to put in the hands of Jesus for Him to use? Lord, I have benefited from your self-giving love, your compassion, your generosity. Even when I was too self-absorbed to look for help you have come to my aid. Thank you, Lord. Now teach me to do the same with those around me. Teach me to forget myself. I have a few loaves and a few fish. Help me put them into Your hands. Help me to put all my talents, treasure, and time at the service of your kingdom, out of love for You and for my neighbor. Nothing else will last....

ST. ANTONINUS ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY

In the Gospel, Jesus says: "There is no need for them to go away; give them some food yourselves," and taking the five loaves and two fish, He blessed them and gave them to the disciples to feed the crowd. Know that your gift to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul to help those living in poverty touches many lives just like the loaves and fishes.

HOLY SPIRIT PRAYER GROUP

This week we will pray the Prayer to Our Lady of Good Help and the Church Mysteries of the Seven Day Bible Rosary for Fr. Haft, our parish and school staff, our lay volunteers, and all our parishioners. Please join us in praying for our parish this Tuesday evening at 7 PM in the Church. All are welcome.

2nd sign STUDY group August 8th meeting 9am - 10:30am, held with coronavirus guidelines in place. Bring a mask and chair and meet in the Rosary Garden. Pope Francis declared a Year of Laudato Si, five years after the encyclical came out. To celebrate we will recite the 'Laudato Si Chaplet', have handouts on events and resources that we can implement into our lives, and a brief discussion about aspects of the encyclical. On-line resources: 1) Bishop Robert Barron three minute video: <https://youtu.be/zWEK8JXQo0M> and 2) Use this link to read the encyclical on-line, download or purchase: <https://laudatosi.com/watch>. Questions - Call DJ at 513-451-0595

St ANTONINUS Lay Apostles of the Returning King Prayer Group will meet on the last Thursday of the month in Church after 8AM Mass and the last Saturday of the month outside. Everyone is invited. Children are welcome to come too. Questions? Call Mary Ann Baverman at 503-9537.

HELP COUNT THE COLLECTION!

Volunteers count the Sunday collection each Monday morning at the Parish Office. We like to have enough volunteers so that each only has to help once each month. We are currently in need of one volunteer to help sort and open collection envelopes on the fourth Monday of every month. If you would like to help or would like more information, please call Carol Jacob at 451-1344.

MASS TIME CHANGES

Saturday, August 15, there will be an 8:00AM Mass for the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and on Saturday, August 22, for The Queenship of the Blessed Virgin Mary.
