LENTEN REMINDERS – FAST AND ABSTINENCE Good Friday, April 7, is a day of abstinence from meat and a day of fast, that is, limited to a single full meal. The other Fridays of Lent are days of abstinence from meat. The law of abstinence binds all Catholics 14 years and older. The law of fasting binds all Catholics from their 18th birthday until their 59th birthday (canons 97, 1252). “Let the paschal fast be kept sacred. Let it be celebrated everywhere on Good Friday and, where possible, prolonged throughout Holy Saturday, so that the joys of the Sunday of the Resurrection may be attained with uplifted and clear mind.” (Constitution on the Liturgy, No. 110) Fast and abstinence on the days prescribed should be considered a minimum response to the Lord’s call to penance and conversion.

BREAKING OPEN THE WORD SECOND SUNDAY OF LENT

Reading I: Genesis 12:1-4a: Our Old Testament reading for this weekend concerns God's call to Abram. In a later passage God will change Abram's name to Abraham. These are simply two forms of the same name which means "the father is exalted". However, in biblical thought a new name signifies a change in one's identity, character, or role. In our passage, with God's call, we see the beginning of that change in Abram. God's call to Abram marks the start of a new stage in His dealings with mankind, because His covenant with Abram will prove a blessing to all nations. God's call to Abram means that he has to break earthly ties, ties with family and place, and put his trust entirely in God's promise: an unknown country, many descendants (even though at the time his wife is barren), and God's constant protection. Abram responds to God's call; believing and trusting totally in the Divine word. In his response to God's call, we clearly see Abram's courage, humility, and his trust.

Responsorial Psalm: Psalm 33: 4-5, 18-19, 20, 22, (22): Our responsorial psalm for this weekend is praise for God, man's creator and provider. Attention is first focused on God Himself; He has revealed Himself always to be faithful. The psalmist is in awe of God's providence over mankind. No one can be saved by their own strength no matter how powerful they may be: everyone owes their lives to God's help. The theme in verses 18-22 is steadfastness. Because of God's steadfastness, Israel has hope: hope for deliverance from real worldly danger (v 19); and hope for protection in every dangerous situation (Israel waits not in frantic anxiety but with every confidence of God's good order. Also because of God's steadfastness, Israel is able to trust: the name of God gives reason for safety from every threat along with confidence against every temptation.

Second Reading: 2 Timothy 1:8b-10: This passage from St. Paul's second letter to Timothy is one of the three letters usually called the Pastoral Epistles because they address practical matters of life in early Christian communities facing adversity, false teachers, and the opposing values of the prevailing culture. In this passage, the author tells us the theological basis for courageously confronting the difficulties that proclaiming the Gospel brings with it: the fact that we have been called by God who has revealed Himself as our Savior. The salvation which God brings about is viewed in this passage as it applies to Christians (verse 9) and is manifested in the Incarnation of Christ (verse 10). In this brief passage, four essential aspects of salvation are identified: 1) God has already accomplished salvation for everyone; 2) it is God too, who calls us to avail ourselves of it; 3) it is entirely a gift: man cannot merit it; and 4) God's plan is an eternal one. "The appearance of our savior Christ Jesus" (verse 10) refers in the first place to His Incarnation, but it includes His entire work of redemption which culminates in His appearing in glory and majesty. The Redemption has two wonderful effects – victory over death (physical and spiritual) and the abundant and luminous gift of everlasting life.

Gospel: Matthew 17:1-9: Each year on the Second Sunday of Lent, the Church presents a narrative of Jesus' Transfiguration. Our passage this year is from Matthew, most likely a Jew who grew in faith in Jesus as Messiah. He writes for a Christian community with similar backgrounds, though the community had probably begun to include Gentiles. Realizing that His death will demoralize His disciples, Jesus forewarns them and strengthens their faith. Not content with telling them in advance about His death and resurrection on the third day, He wants two of the three future pillars of the Church to see His transfiguration and thereby glimpse the glory and majesty with which His holy human nature will be endowed in heaven.

Moses and Elijah appear and are talking with Jesus. Moses and Elijah are the two most prominent representatives of the Old Testament – the Law (Moses) and the Prophets (Elijah). The fact that Christ occupies the central position points up His pre-eminence over them. This dazzling glimpse of divine glory is enough to send the apostles into a rapture; so happy are they that Peter cannot contain his desire to prolong this experience. As Peter is still speaking a bright cloud overshadows them and a voice from the cloud said “This is my beloved Son with whom I am well pleased; listen to Him”. The father’s testimony (verse 5) expressed in the same words as He used at Christ’s baptism reveals to the three apostles that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, the beloved Son; God Himself. To these words – also spoken at Christ’s baptism – He adds, “Listen to Him” as if to indicate that Jesus is also the supreme prophet foretold by Moses. Through Christ God speaks to all men; through the Church His voice resonates in all ages.

Reflection: In last weekend’s readings we read about God’s creation and man’s fall from grace through Adam and Eve’s sin. Our readings for this week begins to recount salvation history. We hear of Abram’s response to God’s call with courage, trust, humility, and deep faith. Praise and thanksgiving for God our Creator is reflected in the responsorial psalm and we learn in this passage that God’s providence over mankind is indeed awesome. The psalmist reminds us that we cannot save ourselves; our lives depend on God’s help; God’s steadfastness. St. Paul discusses God’s plan for salvation through Jesus. And finally, in the Gospel passage, we read of the glorious transfiguration. The transfiguration of Jesus is a theophany, or a manifestation of the divine. For the three disciples with Jesus on the mountain, the experience is a mystical one. During this experience God tells the disciples to listen to His Son. In Hebrew, to listen to someone sometimes means both to hear and to obey what is said. God’s command to Peter, James, and John can have a more specific meaning. Jesus has told His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem, suffer greatly, be put to death, and rise. He has told them that they must deny themselves and take up their crosses if they are to follow Him. These are hard realities to accept, but God commands Peter, James, and John to listen to what Jesus has been telling them. When the disciples heard the voice of God, they were so terrified that they fell down. What God said to them was not in itself terrifying; that God speaks to them fills them with fearful awe. For a creature to be addressed by his or her creator is indeed awesome. Perhaps this week we might reflect on the following: 1) what does the vision given to Peter, James, and John convey to me about who Jesus is and about my eternal destiny; 2) how carefully do I listen to the words of Jesus; how consistently do I try to live them out; 3) when have I had sense that God was in some manner speaking to me; what was my reaction? Lord, sometimes I wish that you would show yourself to me as marvelously as you did to these three Apostles. Wouldn’t that make it easier to follow you? But you know exactly what I need. All of your life, your doctrine, and your love are mine. I have the Gospels, the Church, the Eucharist, my spirituality. I have your forgiveness guaranteed. Lord, the time has come for me to stop complaining. Jesus, I trust in you.....

Family OF THE MOST HOLY Eucharist

ST. ALOYSIUS GONZAGA ST. ANTONINUS ST. CATHARINE OF SIENA ST. MARTIN OF TOURS OUR LADY OF LOURDES

Re-printed from February 26th Bulletin

Dear Family of the Most Holy Eucharist,

Lenten greetings! As we continue to explore the new reality of coming together as one family of five parishes, we want to give you an update on a transitional change that will be occurring soon. Beacons of Light brings about an opportunity for all of our parish leaders; Administrative staff, DRE's, Pastoral Associates, Business Managers, etc. to shift from serving individual parishes to serving the family of parishes. To do this well, we need time together to learn about what one another does, to learn new roles, and transition into a new vision of leadership. In order to facilitate this process and to allow for afternoon training, meetings, and collaborative work time in various parish offices, we will be adjusting all parish office hours. Effective April 11th, all parish offices will be open from 9am-Noon Monday through Friday. Anyone who needs to stop by after 12 noon will simply need to contact the office in advance to make arrangements outside of office hours.

We thank you for your support and ask that you continue to pray for our Church, for our 5 parishes, and the folks who dedicate so much time and energy in helping to operate our parishes.

Lenten blessings~ Erin Dwyer, Pastoral Associate & Coordinator of Beacons of Light

Thank you for your participation in the Disciple Maker Index Survey!

Parish participation results will be published in next weekend's bulletin.
