Third Sunday of Easter
April 23, 2023

ATTENTION ALL MINISTRIES, COMMITTEES, GROUPS & ORGANIZATIONS

REQUIRED FACILITY SCHEDULING ~ JULY 1, 2023- JUNE 30, 2024

Dear Family of the Most Holy Eucharist Leaders,

Over the past year in our Family of Parishes, several issues surrounding facilities have arisen that need to be addressed. First, all events that utilize parish facilities must have their event approved and on the parish calendar. Having unapproved events and unapproved access to facilities are both a financial and security risk to our parishes. Please schedule all events with our parish offices. Those who do not comply with this policy will be asked to leave and risk the ability to use facilities in the future. Second, if minors are present or participating, there must be Safe Parish certified and compliant adults present. Third, when facility use is granted, it is expected that the space will be returned to the condition to which it was found. Finally, major events (like Fish Fry's, fundraisers, etc.) have been planned haphazardly and at the last minute. Without proper planning, this places an unfair burden on our employees, especially our office and maintenance staff. While some events are able to be planned throughout the year, they will be scrutinized more rigorously before approval.

Planning for the July 1, 2023- June 30, 2024 family calendar has begun. We are requesting that every ministry, committee, group, or organization that wants to use any of our Family of Parish facilities submit their dates and requests by Friday, May 26, 2023. Once we complete our planning meeting in early June, we will inform all groups with either approval or request for change. Please note: our facilities are first and foremost for the spread of the Gospel of Jesus. Thus, the use of our facilities should have this focus in mind and preference will always be given to liturgical and ministerial events.

Please include the following information for each event or date to your own rectory:

Ministry, Committee, Group, or Organization Name.

Contact/leadership planning team members name(s), emails, and phone numbers. Person responsible for picking up and returning keys.

Describe the event(s) being planned.

Date(s), time(s), and what parish and location requested. (Include setup and teardown needs)

What materials are needed from the parish? Ex: Internet, screens, TV's, video equipment; ministerial set-up etc.

All requests for facility usage that occur outside our yearly planning process, will be subject to greater scrutiny prior to pastoral approval. ***

Sincerely Yours in Christ,
Fr. Matthew J. Robben, Pastor

BREAKING OPEN THE WORD with Dr. Kathy O'Connor PH.D.
THIRD SUNDAY OF EASTER

Reading I: Acts of the Apostles 2:14, 22-33: The Church has always maintained that the Acts of the Apostles is a true history of events. St. Luke's evangelizing and theological purpose did not prevent him from collecting, evaluating, and interpreting facts with a skill that demonstrates he was an excellent historian. Few ancient texts provide such scope for checking their accuracy as Acts does. It is full of references to contemporary (for the time it was written) Jewish, Greek, and Roman history, culture, and topography. Everything it recounts is carefully set into an historical framework. Our reading for this weekend finds St. Peter addressing people who were doubtful about Jesus being the Messiah foretold in Scripture. Even as the Church, in its earliest days, takes its first steps, St. Peter can be seen to occupy the position of the main spokesman. In verse 14, Peter preaches very boldly and authoritatively filled with the Holy Spirit, about Jesus being the Messiah. This is quite a contrast for the man who during the Lord's Passion denied three times being associated with Jesus! To demonstrate that Jesus of Nazareth is the Messiah foretold by the prophets, St. Peter reminds his listeners of our Lord's miracles as well as of His death and resurrection. St. Peter uses the words of David from Psalm 16 as a basis of his teaching. In addition to the proofs from prophecy which was very important to the Jewish people, St. Peter adds his own testimony on the resurrection of Jesus and that of his brother apostles.

Responsorial Psalm: Psalm 16: 1-2, 5-7-8, 9-10, 11 (11a): Our responsorial psalm for Mass this weekend comes from the very Psalm St. Peter quoted in the first reading. It is a miktam (a Hebrew musical term) of David which is based on the personal relationship that exists between the Lord and someone totally dedicated to Him. The psalm starts with a plea for the Lord's protection. The author of the psalm has chosen the Lord as his only good, and is at one with all show share in the Lord's holiness. In verses 5 & 6 the psalmist's situation is like that of the sons of Levi, who received no portion of the promised land because their inheritance was their service in the temple and the share of the offerings allocated to them. In verse 5 the speaker records his contentment with his calling. In verse 7 that contentment is reflected in a praise/blessing offered to God which refers to the benefits that come from God to those who devote themselves fully to Him: He is their constant guide, protector, joy & wellbeing. The psalmist's personal experience of God in verse 9 leads him to address God again and articulate his hope of being released from death and filled with joy because he has kept the Law and has been the Lord's devoted servant. St. Teresa of Avila expressed this psalm's idea very beautifully when she wrote: "He who has God wants for nothing. God alone is enough."

Reading II: 1 Peter 1:17-21: The opening words of this passage, "if you invoke as Father...", may be a reference to the praying of the Our Father. It is known from the Didache or the Teaching of the Twelve Apostles (a text from the apostolic era of the Church) that Christians used to pray the Our Father three times a day. Frequent reflection on the fact that God is our Father fills us with peace and joy and motivates us to act as children of such a Father. The Christian has attained the honor of being a son or daughter of God. In the next verses the writer summarizes God's plan for man's salvation, which comes about in Christ. From all eternity, it was God's design to save men through Christ. In the sacrifice of Jesus the prophecy of Isaiah about the Messiah's expiatory suffering. It also completed the liberation of the Israelite first-born in Egypt through the blood of the paschal. The resurrection of Jesus is the basis of Christian faith and hope and is the main proof of Jesus' divinity and His divine mission. The apostles were, first and foremost, witnesses of our Lord's resurrection and the proclamation of the Resurrection was the core of apostolic teaching in the discourses of St. Peter and St. Paul in the Acts of the Apostles.

Gospel: Luke 24:13-35: Jesus' conversation (during which they did not recognize Him at first) with the two disciples on the road to Emmaus gives us a very good idea of the disillusionment felt by His disciples after His apparent total failure (the crucifixion). These downcast disciples had given up. Continued on next page...

They had left everything to follow Jesus, but the events of Good Friday had dashed their hopes, and they were walking sadly back to their old lives. Cleopas' words summarize Christ's life and mission; His passion and death; the despair felt by His disciples, and the events of Easter Sunday morning. Because the disciples are so downhearted, Jesus patiently opens for them the meaning of all the scriptural passages concerning the Messiah. "Was it not necessary that the Christ should suffer these things and enter into his glory?" With these words He rids them of the notion of an earthly and political Messiah and shows them that Christ's mission is a supernatural one: to save all mankind. Many of our Lord's contemporaries failed to understand His supernatural mission because they misinterpreted the Old Testament texts and these disciples were no exception. The journey ends when they reach the village and Jesus appears to be traveling further. The disciples asked Him to remain with them. This is an important point. Jesus does not force Himself on anyone. He wants us to turn to Him freely. And Jesus stays with them. They are sharing a meal with Him. When Jesus takes the bread, blesses it, breaks it, and gives it to them their eyes are opened and they recognize their Lord. He now vanishes from their midst but the disciples are overjoyed and they start traveling once more, even though night is falling, to tell the others about Him because so much joy cannot be kept in one heart alone. It must be shared. They return to Jerusalem immediately. There they find the apostles and some other disciples gathered together with Peter, to whom Jesus has also appeared. The newly arrived disciples are told that the Lord has appeared to Peter and they themselves share what had happened on the road and how they had recognized Jesus in the breaking of the bread.

Reflection: Can you imagine what it would have been like to be traveling with Cleopas and his friend as they were walking to Emmaus? How exciting it would have been to hear Jesus interpreting the Scriptures and to see the look in their eyes when they recognized Him in the breaking of the bread! Actually, we are much closer to that experience than we might think. How is that possible? Notice how closely the structure of the Mass follows the structure of this encounter between Christ and the disciples on the road to Emmaus: Christ comes to meet them on the road; through the priest, Christ comes to meet us right where we are during Mass. In the midst of our sorrows and joys He is present, veiled behind the personality of the priest, but really through the sacrament of Holy Orders. In the Gospel passage, Christ then explains the scriptures to them, showing how they point to Him, and relating them to the disciples' present needs. Notice the similarity between the first part of the Mass (the readings and the homily) and the walk to Emmaus. Finally, Christ joins them for the evening meal and breaks bread with them. Again, notice the similarity of this part of the Gospel to the second part of the Mass, the Eucharistic prayers, the consecration of the bread and wine into Christ's Body and Blood, and the reception of Holy Communion. To have the privilege of participating in the celebration of the Eucharist is to encounter the Crucified and Risen One, and to let Him set our hearts on fire. In every Mass, in every Tabernacle, He draws near to us and walks by our side. In Holy Communion, He continues to share His life with us. He is truly present, reaching out to us, speaking to our hearts, behind the thin veil of faith. If only we, like those two disciples, are honest and courageous enough to open our hearts to Him and invite Him into the secret places of our souls, we will see Him anew, and His love will burn within us. Perhaps this week we might reflect on the following: 1) how am I most aware of the presence of Jesus; what allows me to recognize His presence, 2) what might be the lesson for me in the two disciples' not realizing that Jesus is at their side, 3) How eager am I to embrace what I read in Scripture? How has Scripture enabled me to make sense out of my life? Holy Spirit, help us, the St. Antoninus parish family, at Mass to recognize Jesus in the Liturgy of the Word and to look beyond the Bread we eat in the Eucharist to see our Savior and our Lord.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN ATTENDING PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Raising children to know, live, and love their Catholic faith is a challenging task. Our parish communities assist parents in fulfilling this responsibility through both our parish schools and Sunday morning Religious Education Programs. We invite children who attend our neighborhood public schools to participate in our parish Religious Education Program for grades one through eight which is offered jointly with Our Lady of Lourdes Parish. Classes currently meet on Sunday mornings from 10:05 to 11:20 a.m., but this time may change for the 2023–2024 school year. Please be aware that if you wish your baptized child to receive First Communion in second grade, you must register him/her for the first grade religious education class. Also, if your child wants to play on an athletic team sponsored by St. Antoninus Parish or any other Catholic parish in Cincinnati, he/she must be enrolled in either the parish school or the parish Religious Education Program. Registration forms for the 2023–2024 school year will be available in June on www.lourdes.org under Faith/Religious Education. For questions, please call Ms. Kristina Krimm, Director of Religious Education, at 347-2646 or e-mail kkrimm@lourdes.org.

This concert program will encourage exploration of how we connect to the self, the other, the past, and the future. How do we connect among a diversity of communities and traditions?
