Kinsman - Lee Recreation which entered a team in last year's Golden Gloves benefit bowling tournament although it not open its doors until Sept. 5 of this year, will be represented by three teams in the 10th annual event, which gets under way at Linsz Recreation, Dec. 27.

With the entry of the Kinsman-Lee Recreations, Eddie's Taverns and the Commission House Drivers Union, Local No. 400 team, four of bnion, Local No. 400 team, four the leading quintets in the Kinsman-Lee A League will be on the firing line when 52 of the district's most accurate pin aggregations get the range on $1,400 in prize money.

the range on $1,400 in prize money. The entrance of the three teams, now battling the 3700 Club for the Kinsman-Lee A League lead, boosted the entry list to 20 quintets. The 3700 Club, which posted its entry from the Linsz A circuit, has been setting a terrific pace in the Kinsman-Lee A loop, holding a four-game margin over the Local 400 keglers.

Taverns in Third Place

The Eddie's Taverns, backed by Edward M. Zamiska, are in third place while the Kinsman-Lee Recreations, after a bad start, have climbed to fifth.

The Local 400 team and the 3700 Club have been hot rivals all year.

Aided chiefly by two pieces of helpful legislation, the nation's college football teams this season went on their biggest scoring spree since 1930.

The 20th annual Associated Press analysis of scoring figures revealed today that 23 teams playing 1.947 games averaged 14.51 points—slightly better than two touchdowns—per game. This was an increase of 1.13 points over 1940, and less than a point and a half under the 1930 peak for an even 16 points.
