This week we will complete lesson 7-6 in our math books and continue to manipulate with objects creating solid and flat shapes, and making shapes out of other shapes. We will work with pattern blocks, sticks, and clay again. We will finish chapter 7 by doing the review, performance assessment, and fluency practice in our books. All of these assignments range from pages 257-266. By the end of the week we will begin Chapter 8, Position and Location, in our math books. We will be introduced to the location of shapes, and whether or not they are above or below. All practice and the homework in lesson 8-1 will be completed.

We will finish up working with the vowel "I" and the short /I/ sound. We will review both short /a/ and /I/ by completing rhyming activities focusing on these sounds. We will be introduced to the short sound the vowel "O" makes. We will complete many activities throughout the week focusing on the short /o/ sound between pages 167 and 178 in our phonics books. We will continue to work with our Superkid Sal, the sound of the letter "S," and all the other sounds we have learned thus far from Cass, Oswald, Golly, Alf, and Doc, Our past Superkids.

Activities focusing on these topics will be completed.

Social Studies:

This week we will focus on three more courageous people from our past. In honor of black history month, we will start off by reading about Rosa Parks and what she had accomplished. Later in the week, we will meet Daniel Boone, and Pocahontas. We will take some time to read or watch a short video about each one of these brave individuals and complete activities relating to them.

Health:

The students really enjoyed yoga and doing breathing exercises, so we will continue to stay active and learn new exercises and yoga poses. We will also review why we should exercise and how yoga is a way to cope with worry, anger, and fear.
