FROM FATHER PHIL

My dear parishioners,

We no sooner begin the season of Lent than we are plunged into the mystery of how creation and humanity began, Genesis 2, before anything came to be. In our Gospel, Jesus is led into the desert to wrestle with his demons. Lent is our desert time, and like Jesus, we are called both to acknowledge our demons and confront them.

The desert is a: "Place of revelation and revolution. In the desert we wait, we weep, and we learn to love." Alan Jones, Soul-Making. It is indeed a time of interior searching and prayer. We need also the practices of the Church to help us be connected to the body of Christ. Bishop Robert Barron reminds us of ancient practices that help us do just that: "Lent is about doing the things that involve the body as much as the mind and heart. That involves the exterior of our life as much as the interior." Could Lent be described in that case as endeavoring to keep our lives balanced?

On Ash Wednesday, we were reminded of the need for three things that help us do just that, "follow the Church's recommendations and do three things: pray, fast, and give alms. And as you do, pray to draw closer to the Lord as the center of your life—and the reason you do everything." Bishop Barron.

Pray

Fast

Give

Please hold me in prayer as I will be away all week long on an individually guided retreat.

Blessings for this joyful season,

Fr. Phil
