REFLECTION/REFLEXIÓN

Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time (Year C)
Sunday, October 9, 2022

Which of the following gifts from God do we appreciate the most: physical or spiritual healing? For us, healing is a mystery that we can only begin to understand with God's help. A miraculous physical healing reflects a divine interruption of scientific laws, and spiritual healing is evident by a complete change of heart and behavior, or metanoia. Spiritual healing is brought about by an encounter with Jesus Christ, who will always walk with those who live in his presence because they accept his new covenant of love.

Today's scripture readings give a few examples of these healings. The prophet Elisha witnesses God's healing gift in Naaman, who comes to recognize the God of Israel as the one true God. In the Gospel this week, Jesus acknowledges that the spiritual gift of faith has healed the ten lepers, even though it was only the Samaritan who returned to thank him. Today, let us pray for those who are sick and whose suffering is incomprehensible. The Church's mission is to accompany them in the faith and in hope that they accept God's will.

¿Cuál de los siguientes dones de Dios apreciamos más: sanidad física o espiritual? Para nosotros, la curación es un misterio que solo podemos comenzar a comprender con la ayuda de Dios. Una curación física milagrosa refleja una interrupción divina de las leyes científicas, y la curación espiritual es evidente por un cambio completo de corazón y comportamiento, o metanoia. La sanación espiritual se produce por el encuentro con Jesucristo, que caminará siempre con los que viven en su presencia porque aceptan su nueva alianza de amor. Las lecturas de las Escrituras de hoy dan algunos ejemplos de estas curaciones. El profeta Eliseo es testigo del don sanador de Dios en Naamán, quien llega a reconocer al Dios de Israel como el único Dios verdadero. En el Evangelio de esta semana, Jesús reconoce que el don espiritual de la fe ha curado a los diez leprosos, aunque sólo el samaritano volvió a darle las gracias. Hoy oremos por los que están enfermos y cuyo sufrimiento es incomprensible. La misión de la Iglesia es acompañarlos en la fe y en la esperanza de que acepten la voluntad de Dios. OCP, Liturgy.com
