From Fr. Rudolph

Thank God for weaknesses...

Thanks for the warm welcome! Everyone I've met here at St. Nicholas has been so kind and friendly. A common phrase I've heard is, "I hope you like it here!" I'm sure I will.

As your pastor, one of the ways I hope to serve you is writing columns for our parish bulletin. I hope that, by God's grace, at least occasionally you will read something in them that will help you out. I'm sure I will learn a lot from you, too—maybe a lot more than you will learn from me. We'll see what God will do.

I know today is Independence Day. Happy July 4th! But that's not what I'm going to write about. I think it would be more helpful for us to look together at the Second Reading for this Sunday, from St Paul's Second Letter to the Corinthians.

A common temptation in our day is to think that the stronger we are, the better. If only we were stronger physically, morally, intellectually or emotionally! Then we could do our jobs and chores better and be better athletes. We could prevail against temptations more often. We could understand things we hear and read more easily, and be more convincing when we talk. We wouldn't get so angry, or fearful, or teary-eyed, or worried, or depressed. We could have more energy and be able to accomplish more of our goals. Or so goes the temptation.

The reality is very different. As St. Paul wrote, "I will rather boast most gladly of my weaknesses, in order that the power of Christ may dwell within me. Therefore, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and constraints, for the sake of Christ; for when I am weak, then I am strong" (2 Corinthians 12:9-10).

As a young man, Paul found out that what he thought were his strengths were actually obstacles. He was so strong in his Jewish faith that he persecuted the best Jew of all time, Jesus Christ. He was so strong in his opinions that he missed the truth. He was so strong in his education that he was slow to believe the uneducated apostles. He was so strong in his argumentative skills that he was deaf to the wisdom of God. That is, until Jesus Christ came to him on his way to Damascus. Then everything changed.

Paul went blind, and was led to a man who opened his spiritual eyes. He was bothered by a "thorn in the flesh," and learned that God's grace was sufficient for him. He suffered the loss of all things, and found that his only treasure was Jesus Christ. He was beaten, and learned to love his enemies. He was arrested on false charges, and got the opportunity to spread the Gospel in Rome. He was imprisoned, and discovered that he could give thanks to God in all circumstances. He was threatened with death, and was able to look forward to the fullness of life in heaven.

My guess is that all of us could tell similar stories about our own lives. Looking back on my own, I can see how my faults and shortcomings have often been a blessing in disguise. For example, I have a very difficult time remembering people's faces and names the first several times I meet them. I find it humiliating to ask people's names again and again, but I know having to do so is an antidote to pride. Another weakness of mine is acting impulsively. Having made an abundance of dumb decisions in my life has helped me understand the importance of getting advice from other people. And then there's the weakness of having been a "rolling stone" most of my life—having moved around a lot. This kept me from putting down roots, but it helped me send up roots—to God. Ever since I came to believe in him, he's always been my closest friend.

Do I always appreciate my weaknesses? No. Sometimes I still gripe and complain about them. But little by little—slow learner that I am—by God's grace I'm starting to welcome them.

Your fellow student of Jesus Christ,
Father Rudolph

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

The Prophecy of You and Me

Prophet. There's a heaviness to this word. It's weighted down with meaning. We think of prophets and we think of Charlton Heston with wild hair and a booming voice, reaching out his hand to work wonders of nature by the grace of God. We think of prophets and we think of ancient Biblical history — someone far away, someone so removed from our everyday life. A prophet is someone who knows something we don't.

When I let you in on this secret, it might scare you at first: in a way, God is calling you to be a prophet. He is calling me. He is calling anyone who hears the truth of the Gospel. However, there is no need for the megaphone and the wild locusts. This prophet gig might not be what you're thinking.

What does a prophet do? He hears and testifies to the truth, even when it's uncomfortable, even when it's unpopular, even when it results in, as Paul says, "weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions and constraints." A prophet doesn't have to be smart or rich or ordained; heck, he doesn't even have to be particularly willing.

All a prophet has to do is listen to the truth. The truth we receive from Christ, through the Gospel and the sacraments, is a mighty gift. But it is a gift that we are not meant to simply keep for ourselves. In possessing it, we are compelled to also pass it on, to share it, to let the Spirit set us on our feet.

GOSPEL MEDITATION

It's all so ordinary that we can easily miss it. The seagulls hunting and diving for mollusks at the beach offer a display of determination and precision as they gather their food for the day. It's simply what these creatures do. Yet, there's a magical artfulness and skill to their work that speaks volumes about the One who breathed life into their being. This is pretty much the way it is with God's presence. God comes in common ways through common things and ordinary people. Sadly, we are so engulfed in our little worlds of order and ideas to notice the beauty and wonder of it all. Many have numbed themselves to the Divine spark at the essence of all life because that's just the way it is. What's so special about it? A sunset is a sunset and a seagull is a seagull. That's precisely what they thought about Jesus too. After all, isn't he just the carpenter's son? What merit can his words possibly have?

If we're looking for God to come in an event that is so dramatic and intense that it knocks our socks off, then think again. When pondering God's relationship with His people and God's action in our lives, we have to go back to the stable and the recurring, creative, unending power of God's presence. It was a quiet, run of the mill kind of night. There was nothing spectacular or extraordinary. To the naked eye, a woman gave birth to a child and there wasn't anything extraordinary to see. We have a hard time understanding God's ordinary-ness. Jesus grew up in an ordinary town, had neighbors and did normal human things. Perhaps that's why we don't always like the Gospel. It doesn't dazzle us with extraordinary things but simply challenges us to take a different look at our ordinary stuff. That makes us uncomfortable. We prefer things as they are. Our lack of faith can even cause us to take offense at what Jesus says and does, dismissing it as folly.

God's life-giving presence continues to sustain that seagull in flight and keep all things in being regardless of whether we have the faith to see and understand this. Our personal agendas, preconceived ideas, misconceptions, and expectations can often cause us to be hardened and blinded to what God is doing or desiring to do. While God continues to do what he has done for all eternity, faith is needed for God's presence to bear fruit. The blinders we wear and the expectations we bring to life can often prevent us from seeing graced moments that radiate with God's graceful presence. They also prevent God's transforming, healing, and hope filled vision for our world from being realized. Without faith, God won't be able to do much for us either.
