From the desk of Father Rudolph

Giving it all up for even more...

"The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure buried in a field, which a person finds and hides again, and out of joy goes and sells all that he has and buys that field. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant searching for fine pearls. When he finds a pearl of great price, he goes and sells all that he has and buys it" (Matthew 13:44-46).

I once saw someone teaching a group of people about trusting God. He asked if anyone would lend him a dollar bill. He said, "trust me." Someone handed him a dollar. He promptly tore it up. Gasps came from the crowd. Then, with a grin, the teacher pulled a ten-dollar bill out of his pocket and gave it to the man who had trusted him with the one dollar.

God is like that. If we trust him, he might ask us to give up something, but he is sure to replace it with something better. This is one manifestation of something Saint Paul wrote: "We know that all things work for good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose" (Romans 8:28).

The greatest gift we can give up is our life. Martyrdom has always been seen as a noble and high calling, the ultimate imitation of Jesus Christ. Most Catholics are familiar with the lives of many martyr saints, from Saint Stephen the Deacon in the 1st Century to Saint Maximilian Kolbe in the 20th Century. Martyrdom is the highest act of love. Sometimes martyrs are killed out of hatred for their Christian faith, but not always. There are other kinds of laying down one's life in love. For example, on March 23, 2018, French police officer Arnaud Beltrame offered to take the place of a woman who was being held hostage by a terrorist. After Arnaud's offer was accepted and she was freed, the terrorist fatally wounded him. Another example is seminarian Michael Nnadi, who was kidnapped in Nigeria by armed men on January 8, 2020. His dead body was found several weeks later. The murderer confessed his crime, saying that he and his companions killed Michael because he kept insisting that they repent, change their lives, and let go of their evil attitudes.

Not all martyrs are Catholics. Protestant missionary Jim Elliot went to bring Jesus Christ to the Auca Indians of Ecuador in February of 1956. He knew it was dangerous, because members of the tribe had killed a number of other outsiders. But God had given him a love for these people and a hunger for their salvation. So he and four other missionaries, after months of preparation, were dropped off by a small plane on a sandbar in a river. After a few days of seemingly friendly contacts, the missionaries were speared to death by a group of Auca men. Six years earlier, Jim had written these words in his journal: "He is no fool who gives what he cannot keep to gain that which he cannot lose." Less than two years later, Jim's widow Elisabeth, her daughter Valerie, and a woman named Rachel—the widow of one of the other martyred missionaries—were able to move to the Auca village. Many became Christians and they are now a friendly tribe.

Jesus said: "Whoever of you does not renounce all that he has cannot be my disciple" (Matthew 14:33). He also said: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever saves his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it" (Matthew 16:24-25). We can lose our lives literally, but also figuratively, by letting ourselves be remade from the inside out, and letting go of everything that keeps us from doing God's will. New heart, new thoughts, new desires, new habits. Life in Christ makes the best this world has to offer seem like dust. Whatever we give up in response to the call of Jesus, he will give us infinitely more, and better.

Your fellow grateful disciple of Jesus,
Father Rudolph

Saint of the Day – Saint Julitta

Julitta was a widow living in Caesarea in Cappadocia (then in the Roman Empire, now a part of Turkey). A man who wanted to take over her extensive estates harassed her so much that she went to a local judge for protection, only to find out that the man then denounced her for being a Christian. Her estates were confiscated. When ordered to sacrifice to Zeus she replied: "May my estates be ruined or given to strangers; may I lose my life, and my body be cut to pieces, rather than that by the last impious word I should offend God who made me. If you take from me a little portion of this earth, I will gain heaven for it." She was burned and her head cut off. This was about the year 303. Saint Basil, writing about the year 327, describes how a spring of fresh water flowed from her burial place and provided water that "preserves health and relieves the sick." Saint Julitta, pray for us! OUR SPECIAL INTERCESSORBlessed Carlo Acutis

Carlo Acutis was the first millennial to be beatified by the Catholic Church. He lived his whole life consumed with love for the Eucharist until his death at age 15. His earthly legacy is a virtual museum of more than 100 Eucharistic miracles that have been approved by the Church! We ask for his special intercession upon this movement, especially in reaching young hearts.
