You can continue to help us....

With the recent changes to our parish life arising from the coronavirus pandemic, St. Joseph has made electronic giving accessible through our website. We are grateful to all who continue to give through offertory envelopes using the receptacles in the church or the front office.

If current circumstances prevent you from attending church services in-person, now is the time to consider giving online.

If you already give online, you can update your donation amount or give an additional one-time gift.

The work of the church continues.

Masses, Sacraments, and Faith Formation go on, with additional resources needed for livestreaming, video conferencing, and other online programming.

Visit our parish website for the donation link: STJparish.com

From the Pastor's Desk

There are two leading thoughts that come to the mind of any true believer on hearing this parable: the infinite goodness, patience and mercy of God in his dealings with mankind, and the unsounded depths of wickedness and ingratitude to which men can sink. To his Chosen People of the Old Testament God had given a fertile and fully-equipped vineyard. All he asked in return was their cooperation. We Christians today are the successors of the first Gentile followers of Christ. We too have been called to work in God's vineyard. Are we working honestly and devotedly? Are we producing the grapes and the wine that our divine Master expects of us? If our answer is "yes, then I am living a true Christian life and am working for God's honor and glory and for my own eternal salvation," then we can say a heartfelt "thank you" to our merciful Father, and ask him to keep us ever on this right path. But if our answer is "no," then let us pay heed to today's lesson. What happened to the chief priests and elders can and will happen to unfaithful Christians if they persevere in their infidelity and disobedience. But we can still put ourselves right with God. Let us do it today; tomorrow may be too late.

-Peace, Fr. Russell Kovash

Saint of the Week: Our Lady of the Rosary

Feast day: October 7th

On October 7, the Roman Catholic Church celebrates the yearly feast of Our Lady of the Rosary. Known for several centuries by the alternate title of "Our Lady of Victory," the feast day takes place in honor of a 16th century naval victory which secured Europe against Turkish invasion. Pope St. Pius V attributed the victory to the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary, who was invoked on the day of the battle through a campaign to pray the Rosary.

The development of the rosary has a long history. First a practice developed of praying 150 Our Fathers in imitation of the 150 Psalms. Then there was a parallel practice of praying 150 Hail Marys. Soon a mystery of Jesus' life was attached to the recitation of the Hail Marys. Though Mary's giving of the rosary to Saint Dominic is recognized as a legend, the development of this prayer form owes much to the followers of Saint Dominic. One of them, Alan de la Roche, was known as "the apostle of the rosary." He founded the first Confraternity of the Rosary in the 15th century. In the 16th century, the rosary was developed to include the currently known 15 mysteries: joyful, sorrowful and glorious. In 2002, Pope John Paul II added five Mysteries of Light to this devotion.

How to pray the rosary pamphlets may be found by our church confessionals. If the rosary is not a part of your regular prayer life right now, it's easy to get your feet wet with this devotion. Here are five key things to know to get started or pray it more fruitfully:

First, we don't have to pray the rosary all at once. Some people might sit down and quietly pray a whole rosary in one sitting. But we can also choose to divide it up, saying just a decade or two at a time at different points throughout the day: on the way to work, in between errands, in between meetings, while folding laundry or doing dishes. Many holy men and women and even popes have prayed the rosary this way and have found it manageable and fruitful for their busy lives.

Second, we can pray it anywhere! The rosary is like a portable chapel we can keep in our pocket and pull out anytime, anyplace. Whether we have a sudden, urgent situation to present to God in prayer or we just want to fill some of our day with thoughts of God, all we need to do is pull out our beads and turn to the Lord in this prayer. We might pray it in a church, in our room, in our office. Or we might pray it in the car, on the exercise machine, in the grocery store line, or going for a walk.

Third, we can pray the rosary in different ways, customizing it to fit the needs of the moment. Sometimes we might focus on the words of the prayers, thinking, for example, of Gabriel's greeting to Our Lady as we slowly say with great devotion, "Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee." At other times, we might reflect on the mysteries of Christ's life, prayerfully contemplating scenes such as his birth in Bethlehem, his transfiguration, or his death on the cross, etching the Gospel on our hearts. At still other times, we might focus on the holy name of Jesus at the center of each Hail Mary, speaking his name tenderly with love as the pulse of our rosary.

Fourth, it's easy to fit the rosary into your schedule. Do you have two and a half minutes in your day that you can give to God? If you need a quick pause in your busy life, you can pull out your beads and pray a decade in order to regroup with the Lord and be nourished spiritually. We can do that easily, pausing for a moment in between emails, in the car, in the office, in between meetings, in between errands. We don't even have to stop some things we're doing: We can pray while cooking dinner, sweeping the floor, holding a baby, or walking to a next appointment.

Fifth, even if we are not able to give the rosary our full attention, it's still worth praying. We might not always be able to completely unplug mentally from the concerns of the day. We might be exhausted, too tired to pray well and unable to reach the heights of contemplation. But still, the words themselves are biblical and holy. We give God some space in our day and fill it with words of praise for him.
