LUKE 15:1-32

Reading closely

1.How does the man treat the lost sheep?
2.To what lengths does the woman go to find her coin?
3.What does the man do after finding what was lost? What does the woman do?
4.How does the younger son treat his father?
5.What does the younger son do after he leaves?
6.What do you think the younger son is thinking and feeling as he returns to his father?
7.How would you have responded to the younger son's return?
8. What is the older son doing during all of this?
9. How does the older son react?
10. What do you think the older son feels toward his brother?
11. What do you think the older son feels toward his father?

Living the word

12. How do these parables help you examine your relationships with others?
13. In what ways do these parables challenge you?
14. What, if anything, should you do now?

Who's missing? Jesus has been interacting with all kinds of people regardless of their social status. Righteous Jews like the Pharisees complain that sinners should repent before being counted among God's people.

Jesus emphasizes that God's priority is to welcome sinners rather than make sure they're punished for their sins. Neither sheep nor coins are capable of repentance, but they can be lost. These parables invite us to ask ourselves if we're reaching out to people who might otherwise slip away, forgotten.

Preparing an act of contrition When famine hits, the younger son tends pigs, animals that Jews were supposed to keep away from. The pigs have it better than he does. We hear the son formulate a plan for returning to his father. We don't know if he really has repented or if he's hoping that his father will take him back no matter what.

A prodigal reception The father responds with overwhelming love, just as the younger son hoped. He rushes to his son and restores his place in the family by giving him a ring with the family seal on it and dressing him in fine clothes. He orders that a calf that was being reserved for a special occasion be prepared.

The other lost son Having regained one son, the father discovers he has lost another. No one has bothered to tell the older son what's happening. Just as the father went out to welcome the younger son, he must now go out to the older one. This son resents his father's merciful treatment of his brother and the way he himself has been taken for granted. The parable ends here. We're left asking ourselves what we would say and do next.

PRAYER adapted from a prayer by Joyce Rupp So much of me gets lost, God. I run off in other directions and lose my vision of you and your kingdom. I lose sight of my hopes. I forget all your promises. I get lost in problems and run around in selfishness. You are before me, watching. You are behind me, calling. You are beside me, loving. Good Shepherd, come in search of me. Place me on your shoulders, and bring me home. Amen.

LUCAS 15:1-32

Leyendo de cerca

1. ¿Cómo trata el hombre a las ovejas perdidas?
2. ¿Hasta dónde llega la mujer para encontrar su moneda?
3. ¿Qué hace el hombre después de encontrar lo que se perdió? ¿Qué hace la mujer?
4. ¿Cómo trata el hijo menor a su padre?
5. ¿Qué hace el hijo menor después de que se va?
6. ¿Qué crees que piensa y siente el hijo menor cuando regresa con su padre?
7. ¿Cómo habrías respondido al hijo menor regreso?
8. ¿Qué está haciendo el hijo mayor durante todo esto?
9. ¿Cómo reacciona el hijo mayor?
10. ¿Qué crees que siente el hijo mayor hacia su hermano?
11. ¿Qué crees que siente el hijo mayor hacia su padre?

Viviendo la palabra

12. ¿Cómo te ayudan estas parábolas a examinar tus relaciones con los demás?
13. ¿De qué manera te desafían estas parábolas?
14. ¿Qué, si acaso, deberías hacer ahora?

¿Quién falta? Jesús ha estado interactuando con todo tipo de personas, independientemente de su estatus social. Los judíos justos como los fariseos se quejan de que los pecadores deben arrepentirse antes de ser contados entre el pueblo de Dios.

Jesús enfatiza que la prioridad de Dios es dar la bienvenida a los pecadores en lugar de asegurarse de que sean castigados por sus pecados. Ni las ovejas ni las monedas son capaces de arrepentirse, pero se pueden perder. Estas parábolas nos invitan a preguntarnos si estamos llegando a personas que de otro modo podrían escaparse, olvidadas.

Preparando un acto de contrición Cuando la hambruna golpea, el hijo menor atiende a los cerdos, animales de los que se suponía que los judíos debían mantenerse alejados. Los cerdos lo tienen mejor que él. Escuchamos al hijo formular un plan para regresar con su padre. No sabemos si realmente se ha arrepentido o si espera que su padre lo lleve de regreso sin importar qué.

Una recepción pródiga El padre responde con un amor abrumador, tal como esperaba el hijo menor. Se apresura a su hijo y restaura su lugar en la familia dándole un anillo con el sello familiar y vistiéndolo con ropa fina. Ordena que se reserve un ternero que se reservó para una ocasión especial preparado.

El otro hijo perdido Habiendo recuperado un hijo, el padre descubre que ha perdido a otro. Nadie se ha molestado en decirle al hijo mayor lo que está sucediendo. Justo cuando el padre salió a dale la bienvenida al hijo menor, ahora debe salir con el mayor. Este hijo resiente el trato misericordioso de su padre hacia su hermano y la forma en que él mismo ha sido dado por sentado. La parábola termina aquí. Nos quedamos preguntándonos qué diríamos y haríamos a continuación.

ORACIÓN adaptada de una oración de Joyce Rupp Gran parte de mí se pierde, Dios. Me escapo en otras direcciones y pierdo mi visión de ti y tu reino. Pierdo de vista mis esperanzas. Olvidé todas tus promesas. Me pierdo en problemas y corro en egoísmo. Estás delante de mí, mirando. Estás detrás de mí, llamando. Estás a mi lado, amoroso. Buen pastor, ven a buscarme. Colóqueme sobre sus hombros y lléveme a casa. Amén.

Thinking about joining the Catholic Church, and feeling a little lost? Do you want to become a Catholic? Are you a Baptized Catholic who never received the Sacraments of Eucharist or Confirmation?
Our RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) team will be available
after the 9AM Mass
Look for the table that says Inquiry!

Do you want your child to be more engaged in Mass?

The Vocations Ministry has created St. Paul's photo books picturing sacred items at St. Paul's that relate to Mass. Each picture has an explanation about the person's role or how the sacred item is used during the mass. (Who knows, parents you might even learn something new) The photo books are available at the Welcome Center during the week for $20.00 each and are available in English or Spanish. Or you may email mbanke@comcast.net to order one. Some of the 25 items described are the baptismal font, the ambo, the Easter candle, the tabernacle, the monstrance and explanations of other photos include what is the consecration, why the priest and deacons wear different colors and others. The books are appropriate for all wanting to learn more about our faith, but especially toddler through 6th grade. Proceeds go to the Vocations Ministry to help offset our activities during the year to promote vocations and to support our priests and deacons. This would be a great gift for any occasion.

A sample of an explanation- We have something special in our chapel called Eucharistic Adoration. This is when Jesus is placed in a beautiful display case called a Monstrance. People stay with Him to pray and praise Him every hour of the day and night.

¿Quiere que su hijo participe más en la misa?

El Ministerio de Vocaciones ha creado libros de fotos de St. Paul con imágenes de objetos sagrados en St. Paul que se relacionan con la misa. Cada imagen tiene una explicación sobre el papel de la persona o cómo se usa el objeto sagrado durante la misa. (Quién sabe, padres, quizás incluso aprendan algo nuevo) Los álbumes de fotos están disponibles en el Centro de Bienvenida durante la semana por $20.00 cada uno y están disponibles en inglés o español. O puede enviar un correo electrónico a mbanke@comcast.net para pedir uno. Algunos de los 25 elementos descritos son la pila bautismal, el ambón, el cirio pascual, el tabernáculo, la custodia y las explicaciones de otras fotos incluyen qué es la consagración, por qué el sacerdote y los diáconos usan colores diferentes y demás. Los libros son apropiados para todos los que quieran aprender más sobre nuestra fe, pero especialmente para niños pequeños hasta sexto grado. Las ganancias van al Ministerio de Vocaciones para ayudar a compensar nuestras actividades durante el año para promover las vocaciones y apoyar a nuestros sacerdotes y diáconos. Esto sería un gran regalo para cualquier ocasión.

Una muestra de una explicación- Tenemos algo especial en nuestra capilla llamado Adoración Eucarística. Aquí es cuando Jesús es colocado en una hermosa vitrina llamada Custodia. La gente se queda con Él para orar y alabarle cada hora del día y de la noche.
