Natural Family Planning is more than just a way to plan a family. Practicing NFP is a lifestyle that gradually develops growth in virtues and skills that strengthen marriage while at the same time keeping God and Faith a part of practical day-by-day decisions. NFP couples routinely report becoming more open to life and more open to Church teaching as time goes on.

CCL has found that the single biggest influence on getting couples to learn NFP is clergy. So how can we help clergy to proactively talk about NFP to engaged and married couples? One successful way is through Clergy Seminars.

We are excited to have created an online version of our live Clergy Seminar, making this content easily and widely available to clergy everywhere. We pray this enables clergy to integrate NFP instruction into their parish, helps them to build their own dialogue and knowledge of NFP, and leads them to integrate NFP into marriage preparation.
