Pope Francis speaks about Lent
(Feb. 26th, 2020 general audience)

"Lent is the right time to make room for the Word of God. It is the time to turn off the television and open the Bible. It is the time to disconnect from your cell phone and connect to the Gospel", the pope said.

"This penitential period is also the time to work on giving up gossip, rumors, and useless chatter, focusing instead on giving yourself to the Lord, who spent 40 days in the desert in fasting and prayer." During Lent, Jesus is "calling us into the desert, he invites us to listen to what matters. We need to speak with God: we need to pray".

"We live in an environment polluted by too much verbal violence, by many offensive and harmful words, which the internet amplifies". In this noise, "we struggle to distinguish the voice of the Lord who speaks to us, the voice of conscience, of good".

The pope acknowledged that it is not easy to make space for silence in one's heart, but, he said, "it is the absence of words to make room for another Word, the Word of God".

"We chase a thousand things that seem necessary and in reality are not. How good it would be for us to get rid of so many superfluous realities, to rediscover what matters, to find the faces of those around us!" he urged. "Prayer, fasting, works of mercy: here is the road into the Lenten desert."

The solitude of the desert also reminds us of the people around us who are lonely and abandoned, he said, saying the "path in the Lenten desert is a path of charity towards the weaker."

He also said fasting is a way of seeking a simpler life by giving up superfluous, vain things. But, he warned, it is not about "slimming down."
