Saint Katherine Drexel, Foundress

Katherine Drexel, born in 1858 Philadelphia, grew up surrounded by faith and virtue. Her family would open their home to the poor and helped anyone who would come to them for help. When she got older, she felt called to religious life, and the Bishop at the time, Bishop James O Conner, told her to start a new religious order with the mission of helping the poor and providing education, specifically to the black and Native American communities who often went without assistance. In 1891 she made vows and started the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. They taught all over the US and continue their mission to bring Catholic education to black and Native American communities. “Teach children with joy. They will be attracted by joy to the source of all joy, the heart of Jesus.” Saint Katherine Drexel, pray for us.

STATIONS OF THE CROSS

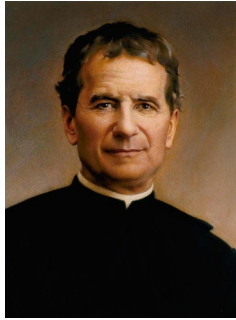

Every Friday during Lent, we invite you to meditate in community the Stations of the Cross (bilingual) at 7:30pm. There will be confession.

“Then Jesus told his disciples, If any will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.”Mt 16:24

Pastor's Reflection

AYUNAR CON CUERPO Y ALMA

En las Memorias biográficas de Don Bosco (Tomo 12), el santo recomendaba un ayuno cuaresmal que sobrepasa los límites del estómago. Invitando también a ayunar con acto de dominio sobre algunos órganos del cuerpo para no ser esclavos de estos:

Ayuno de la vista: evitar de mirar imágenes, pinturas o fotografías contrarias a la virtud de la modestia, evitando leer libros inmorales o contrarios a la fe. En la era tecnológica en que vivimos hubiera dicho: dejar de mirar videos en las aplicaciones digitales (muchos de estos inmorales o promoviendo la sensualidad o excitación de las pasiones).

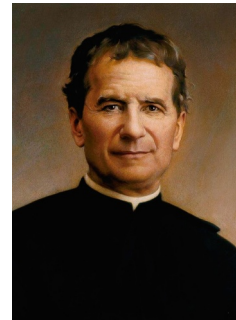

Ayuno de los oídos: huir de conversaciones vanas, obscenas, chismosas, murmuraciones. Hoy nos diría también: ayunar de escuchar toda música de letra ofensiva, degradante, inmoral.

Ayuno de la lengua: desterrar toda palabra que pueda escandalizar a los demás, las bromas vulgares, las groserías, la maledicencia en general.

Ayuno de las quejas: dejar de quejarse del calor o el frío, de si llueve o no; y soportar mejor con paciencia las contrariedades y tolerando con caridad los defectos de los demás. Finalmente, san Juan Bosco invitaba también a buscar tener más hambre de la Eucaristía: “comulguen frecuentemente y con fervor. Si reciben a Jesús con frecuencia en su corazón, su alma quedará tan fortalecida por la gracia, que el cuerpo se sentirá obligado a obedecer al espíritu”.

FASTING WITH BODY AND SOUL

In the Biographical Memoirs of Don Bosco (Volume 12), the saint recommended a Lenten fast that goes beyond the limits of the stomach. He also invited people to fast by exercising self-control over certain organs of the body, so as not to become their slaves:

Fast of the eyes: Avoid looking at images, paintings, or photographs that are contrary to the virtue of modesty, and avoid reading immoral books or those opposed to the faith. In the technological age in which we live, he would also say: refrain from watching videos on digital platforms (many of which are immoral or promote sensuality or the arousal of passions).

Fast of the ears: Flee from vain, obscene, gossip-filled conversations and slander. Today he would also tell us: fast from listening to music with offensive, degrading, or immoral lyrics.

Fast of the tongue: Eliminate any word that could scandalize others—vulgar jokes, coarse language, and speaking ill of others in general.

Fast from complaints: Stop complaining about the heat or the cold, whether it rains or not; and bear difficulties more patiently, tolerating the faults of others with charity.

Finally, Saint John Bosco also encouraged cultivating a greater hunger for the Eucharist:

“Receive Communion frequently and with fervor. If you receive Jesus often into your heart, your soul will be so strengthened by grace that the body will feel compelled to obey the spirit.”

Santa Katherine Drexel, Fundadora

Katherine Drexel, nacida en Filadelfia en 1858, creció rodeada de fe y virtud. Su familia abrió su hogar a los pobres y ayudaba a cualquiera que acudiera a ellos en busca de ayuda. Al crecer, sintió el llamado a la vida religiosa, y el obispo de entonces, James O. Conner, le aconsejó que fundara una nueva orden religiosa con la misión de ayudar a los pobres y brindar educación, específicamente a las comunidades negras y nativas americanas que a menudo carecían de asistencia. En 1891 hizo sus votos y fundó las Hermanas del Santísimo Sacramento. Enseñaron por todo Estados Unidos y continúan su misión de llevar la educación católica a las comunidades negras y nativas americanas. “Enseñen a los niños con alegría. La alegría los atraerá a la fuente de toda alegría, el Corazón de Jesús”. Santa Katherine Drexel, ruega por nosotros.
