Bringing Outsiders In

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

As a child, were you teased, bullied, chosen last for a team? Did you feel apart from the in-crowd? If so, in various ways this treatment may have kept you from being fully engaged with the larger community, possibly continuing to scar you in even your grown-up world.

In 2021, the news media reported that a Louisiana cemetery refused burial for Darrell Semien because he was black. Though he had served his community as a deputy sheriff for fifteen years and had helped raise seventy-two foster children, none of that was of any significance. After the news broke, the cemetery quickly lifted its whites-only stipulation, but the damage had been done. In so many ways, we continue to exclude others from the human community, even in death.

Our Sunday Gospel tells of Jesus curing a leper, enabling the man to again become part of the community. Even more startling, by touching him, Jesus himself became “impure,” and thus isolated himself from the community, thereby switching roles with the man. Bringing others into community even at a cost to ourselves is divine.

Such compassion is exemplified when people work to reform prisons, seek to integrate immigrants into national life, give voice to the voiceless, improve mental health care, strive to alleviate paralyzing poverty, and more. The world witnessed compassion at its finest during the COVID-19 pandemic when medical personnel worked to heal the sick, even at the cost of isolating themselves from their own families. Compassion toward those in need is holy. ●

The fate of a leper is a great tragedy at any time and place. In Jesus' time, lepers were considered condemned, part of the plagues God sent as punishment. They were cast out of society and abandoned. Saint Mark's Gospel reveals the unthinkable. Jesus reaches out and touches a leper. He risks catching the contagious disease and heals the man. As the Gospel story teaches, no one is abandoned by Christ. Are there those in our society or in our personal lives for whom we ascribe no hope, who we have abandoned, treated like lepers? Or as Christ's stewards of our sisters and brothers, do we risk reaching out and touching those who may seem to us to be "unclean" or not worthy of our time or attention?

STEWARDSHIP

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

"Brothers and sisters, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do everything for the glory of God."

—1 Corinthians 10:31

Do a quick check of your priorities. Where does God rank in that list? If He's not first, you have some work to do. Putting God first in everything helps us from putting other "gods" (like our pride, ego, money and possessions) before God. Before making a decision, ask yourself, "Am I doing this for the glory of God or for the glory of me?"

Olakino Produce Distribution Sponsored by Hawaii Food Bank Saturday, February 17th

Capital Campaign Walkway & Brick Wall Project

The Brick Wall project will begin after the walkway is completed. Due to construction, we will not have full use of the parking spaces on Ash Wednesday noon. Please be patient with one another and especially our visitors on the first day of Lent.

RCIA

Our Catechumen will be enrolled as Elect next week at the Diocesan celebration with the Bishop. The Rite of Sending will be Sunday at 6pm. Please continue to pray for the 3 adults seeking baptism and confirmation, one being confirmed and one being received into the Church. We are so blessed by their enthusiasm and commitment. They have persevered despite the many challenges they have faced this year. Pray for our catechists as well.

Completion of Sacraments of Initiation

We have two young adults who are interested in receiving the Sacrament of Confirmation at the Easter Vigil. We will be holding 4 classes on the Sundays of Lent in preparation for the Sacrament. The sessions will be during the 9am mass. It's not too late to inquire. Email rhashimoto@rcchawaii.org

PREPARING FOR LENT

Shrove Tuesday

February 13, 2024 5:00-8:00pm

In tradition of celebrating community and sharing a feast, all are welcome to join together for an evening of fellowship before Lent. A movie will be showed during fellowship, followed by the burning of palms.

Eucharistic Revival & Evangelization

The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a participation in the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not a participation in the body of Christ? Because the loaf of bread is one, we, though many, are one body, for we all partake of the one loaf.

—1 Corinthians 10:16-17

It is worth repeating that the bread and wine that we share in the Eucharist become the real, true Body and Blood of Christ. In his first letter to the Corinthians, Saint Paul calls the Eucharist a “participation” in the Body and Blood of Christ (see 10:16). And the fact that we all receive the same Body and Blood of Christ means that we are all part of that same Body. Saint Paul is talking about the Body of Christ in two ways: first, as the bread and wine becoming the Real Presence of Christ, and, second, in the Body that is the Church. Saint Augustine said, “Become what you receive.” Our reception of the Body and Blood of Christ make us part of the Mystical Body of Christ, which is the Church.

The unity of the Mystical Body: the Eucharist makes the Church. Those who receive the Eucharist are united more closely to Christ. Through it Christ unites them to all the faithful in one body - the Church. Communion renews, strengthens, and deepens this incorporation into the Church, already achieved by Baptism.
—Catechism of the Catholic Church

Eucharistic Virtue

Dear Padre,

I am having a difficult time receiving Communion from a eucharistic minister who has been behaving in a manner that I don't consider moral. When I receive Communion from her, I feel like I am condoning her actions. Would it be wrong of me to go to a different person to receive Communion?

It seems unlikely that someone would assume you are condoning her actions by receiving Communion from her. We do not sin by receiving a sacrament from an unworthy person. What matters is how worthy we are to receive it. It might be wise to receive Communion from a different person if you are more concerned with this minister's behavior than you are with Jesus when you approach the sacrament.

It is not our task to expose and punish the sinner. If you look at the life of Jesus, you will see that he did everything possible not to condemn sinners but to save them. We should take that as the model for our own lives. Try to find ways to encourage her to live a good life. Perhaps friendship would serve her better than a boycott of her Communion line.

When Jesus was presented with the woman caught in adultery, he did not pretend that it was right. Neither did he rush to condemn her. He looked for his opportunity to forgive and tell her to avoid sin. Use that as your example about how to treat the woman at church. ●

VATICAN MEDIA

A WORD FROM POPE FRANCIS

Compassion means “to suffer-with-another.” Jesus’ heart manifests God’s paternal compassion for (the leper), moving close to him and touching him. And this detail is very important. Jesus “stretched out his hand and touched him.... And immediately the leprosy left him, and he was made clean” (Mark 1:41–42). God’s mercy overcomes every barrier....
