The Traditional Catholic Practice for Lent

Prayer: More intense personal and communal time with our God.

Fasting: In discovering our hunger, we find what we truly need.

1. Catholics who have celebrated their 14th birthday are to abstain from meat on Ash Wed., all Fridays in Lent and Good Friday.
2. In addition to abstaining from meat, Catholics who have celebrated their 18th birthday, until they celebrate their 59th birthday are to fast on Ash Wed. & Good Friday. Those who are bound to this regulation may only eat one full meal. Two smaller meals are permitted if necessary to maintain strength according to one's needs, but eating solid foods between meals is not permitted.
3. These minimal penitential practices should not be lightly excused.

Almsgiving: Giving of our goods and time in works of mercy and charity.

Can you.... help us pray?

Our parish for many years now has had a prayer support group specifically addressing our youth ministry on mission trips and while on their confirmation retreat. At this time, we would like to develop another prayer group that addresses those in need of any kind. Volunteers would pray for specific individuals when informed of their need. Perhaps for grandma who is mourning the loss of a family member, for Mrs. Smith who is battling cancer, or for a child fighting an illness or disease.

Confidentiality would be maintained as a family or person requests. Chairpersons would head a specific group so one person would not have more than six to contact. Contact can be by phone, email or text.

Please contact Deacon Mark if you like to be a part of this Prayer Chain Ministry of Intercessory Prayer at the parish office at 743-4716 ext. 304, home 920-856-6658 or cell 920-495-6658.

Ephesians 6:18 "And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests. With this in mind, be alert and always keep on praying for all the Lord's people".

Appleton parish's outreach includes sewing baptismal garments

BY AMANDA LAUER | FOR THE COMPASS

APPLETON — The sacrament of baptism is one way parishes welcome new members into the church. At St. Pius X Parish, a group of volunteers take the welcoming of infants one step further: They sew the garments worn for their baptisms.

For more than 20 years, a group of parish women has gathered to create the white garments that are given to families for their babies.

Mary Leitermann coordinates this effort, along with fellow parishioner Gail Heyrman, who is in charge of baptism preparation at St. Pius X.

"Del Kaiser was always in charge of (sewing the baptismal garments) and when she wanted to step aside, Gail and I took over," said Leitermann. "I know how to sew. Gail knows how to coordinate things. The first three times or so, we made 150 each time but we had to do it every other year."

The last time the group got together was in 2015, when about two dozen women made

BRAD BERKHOLTZ | FOR THE COMPASS

Linda Cherrier sews the outer seams on a baptismal gown made at St. Pius X Church Feb. 12. The event produced 290 gowns that will be used by parish families for infant baptisms.

275 gowns. This year the group sewed 290, which they estimate will last them until 2025. The parish had 43 infant baptisms from July 2018 to June 2019, according to the parish.

Leitermann explained the process of making the baptismal gowns.

"I buy a cotton polyester blend at a local fabric store," she said. "I bought 75 yards, which was three bolts. At home

I figured out how many garments I could get out of a workable piece of fabric." By cutting the fabric into 1 3/4-yard pieces, Leitermann said they are able to make six gowns.

The women met on Feb. 12 in the Holy Family Hall at St. Pius X and worked from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

FRANKLY, FRANCIS

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

In our continuing catechesis on the Beatitudes, we now turn to the second proclamation: "Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted" (Mt 5:4). Such mourning — described by the desert Fathers with the Greek word "penthos" — is more than mere grief: it is an interior sorrow that can open us to an authentic relationship with the Lord and with each other. The Bible speaks of two types of such sorrow. The first is the pain we feel when faced with the suffering or death of our brothers and sisters. The second involves mourning for sin. Both are grounded in loving concern for others, but above all in love for God. Sorrow for sin — as seen in St. Peter's tears after his betrayal of Jesus — comes as a gift of the Holy Spirit the Comforter. Let us continually ask for the grace to grieve for our sins and to be open to the healing grace of the Spirit, so that we can comfort others with the same consolation.

Sister's online ministry features video interview series

JEFF KUROWSKI | THE COMPASS

ALLOUEZ — If you visit the Franciscan Sisters of Christian Charity (Manitowoc) social media sites, you will become familiar with Sr. Cecilia Joy Kugel. Last fall, she started a new ministry conducting video interviews, which can be accessed through fscs-calledtobe.org.

"Discussion with a Deacon," an interview with Deacon Kevin Ripley, who is scheduled to be ordained to the priesthood in May, was conducted on Jan. 29. Sr. Cecilia Joy's next guests are Julianne Stanz, director of Parish Life and Evangelization for the Diocese of Green Bay, and Fr. Edward Looney, pastor at St. Francis and St. Mary Parish, Brussels, and St. Peter and St. Hubert Parish, Lincoln/Rosiere.

"Our sisters had wanted to do something where we could interview sisters in Nebraska and Arizona about their mission lives," she added. "It started as a service to interview our sisters and has developed into a service of interviewing (various) people who are building up the kingdom of God and live as disciples."

Our full story appears in the Feb. 14 issue.

5 THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

Colors of the liturgical year

BY PATRICIA KASTEN | THE COMPASS

- 1 The church divides the year into seasons linked to colors. These adorn vestments and liturgical decorations.
- 2 Lent's color is purple. Unlike Advent, Lenten purple is tinged with red. This reminds us of Christ's blood, shed in his Passion. Advent's purples contain blue tones.
- 3 The color of Easter — and feasts of non-martyred saints and most feasts of Christ — is white.
- 4 Red is for Pentecost — reminding us of the Spirit's fire — and for the feasts of martyrs. It is also used at Confirmations and on Good Friday.
- 5 Green marks Ordinary Time. Green is the color seen most in the church year. It symbolizes our new life in Christ. The Gospels of Ordinary Time often tell of Christ's ministry on earth.

The example of St. Joseph: Three things we know

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ:

A few weeks from now, on March 19, we will celebrate the feast of St. Joseph, husband of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

BISHOP'S CORNER

Bishop David Ricken

While this is an important feast day every year, this year is also the 150th anniversary of Pope Pius IX's declaration giving St. Joseph the title, "Patron of the Universal Church." In anticipation of this special occasion, I wanted to share with you how St. Joseph can be an important example for us in living as disciples of Christ.

One of the things we learn about St. Joseph very clearly is that he was a faithful man. He was obedient to the religious traditions of his time, as can be seen when he learns of Mary's pregnancy. Rather than exposing this publicly, which would have cost Mary her life, he decides to "divorce her quietly." But more than his faithfulness to his Jewish faith, St. Joseph was faithful to God through the promptings of the Holy Spirit. This gave him the courage to take Mary as his wife when he heard the voice of the angel. We might ask ourselves, how are we being called to be more faithful? How can we make more time to listen for the voice of God and to respond to where the Holy Spirit is leading us?

A second characteristic we know about St. Joseph is that he was the protector of his family. This is clear in the way he responds to Mary's pregnancy, but it's also clear when he takes his family to Egypt to avoid the wrath of Herod. St. Joseph willingly leaves behind everything he knows in order to ensure that his family is safe.

Like St. Joseph, we are all called to be protectors. Our first responsibility is to our family. Is there someone in your family that needs special protection or care right now? How might you support them? As Christians, though, we must remember that we are all part of the family of God. Thus, we are called to care for and protect all people, especially the poor and vulnerable. So perhaps God is calling us to take a special role of protection, care and support for the unborn, or for the homeless in our community, for the sick and elderly, or for immigrants and refugees who are trying to start a new life in our diocese.

The third characteristic of St. Joseph that I want to highlight is his humility. We find this trait more from what is not said in the Scriptures than what is said. We know he was a carpenter or laborer, but beyond that, we don't know much about St. Joseph's life. But we see his humility in his willingness to fade into the background. It's safe to say that St. Joseph had a significant influence on Jesus, laying a foundation for his life and preparing him for his ministry. But rather than asserting himself, St. Joseph remains hidden from his sight, known more by his actions than his words. How might God be calling us to model this life of humble service? In what ways can we lay the foundation for Jesus to work in the lives of others?
