Meditation on this Week's Gospel

The Semicolon

A Gospel Reflection by Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman, ©LPi

My grave is in the corner of a cemetery in rural southeastern Wisconsin. For at least a mile in every direction, all you can see is farmland — cows, barns and quiet country roads. It's beautiful, serene. I imagine the hand of God writing me into existence — she lived, she died — using for ink the very dirt that fills this grave. The dust from which I was created.

Surrounding my grave are the burial plots of other family members — Rachel, Georgiana, Julian, Josephine. I visit the cemetery to pray for them, knowing they are there, but also not there. And when I visit their graves, I stand on my own.

I look out at the tree-lined horizon and the farmland.

I think of how, in a thousand years, none of this will be here. But I will be here, God's hand paused against the page, preparing to write the rest of the story not in dirt but in his own blood. For Christ does not lose anything of what the Father has given him.

Not a soul. Not a bone. Not a lock of hair.

She lived, she died; she lived again. No longer is there a period after the words she died but instead a semicolon. And the semicolon is the grave, that mystical place where the Blood mixes with the dust of the earth, where life meets death, and then meets life again. And the story continues.

A Message to the Parents of our Youngest Parishioners:

God put the wiggle in children; don't feel you have to suppress it in God's house.

Sit toward the front where it is easier for your little ones to see and hear what's going on at the altar.

Quietly explain the parts of the liturgy and actions of the priests, deacons, altar servers, choir, etc.

Sing the hymns, pray, and voice the responses.

Children learn liturgical behavior by copying you.

The presence of children is a gift to the church, and they remind us that our church is growing.

In November, We Remember

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life." John 3:16

The month of November has traditionally been a time when Catholics remember those who have died. This month is anchored by All Souls Day, commemorating all the Faithful departed, and the First Sunday of Advent, which marks the start of the new liturgical year. The church uses this time as a time to reflect in a special way on our deceased loved ones. We spend time in prayer giving thanks for those loved ones who have gone before us.

The Catholic faith provides rich traditions in the Order of Christian Funerals. The Christian Funeral Rite brings consolation to the living and hope in the Resurrection. The Funeral allows us to see the human need to turn always to God in times of crisis. The church has long recognized the importance of having rituals to mark the important events in our lives, especially at the end of our life. The Funeral Rite we celebrate as Catholics is designed to help us enter the grieving process in a healthy way. Providing a time to gather as a community, as children of God, to pray together, support one another in our sorrow, and turn to God for strength, a reminder to us that God has created each person for eternal life.

Along with the Funeral Rite, the Rite of Committal, caring for the body of its deceased members, is the final act of the community of faith. The Rite of Committal takes place in the Cemetery. Cemeteries provide a designated, dignified, and sacred final resting place and provides a conclusion of the Funeral Liturgy. It is a quiet and serene space where families and friends can visit, reflect and honor their loved ones.

Cemeteries are places of spiritual reflection providing connection to faith and the deceased. They can serve as a place for families to come together for special events, like a birthday or anniversary to maintain that connection to their loved one.

During the month of Remembrance, take some time in prayer, write your deceased loved ones in the Book of Remembrance in the Gathering Space, attend a parish funeral as a Corporal Work of Mercy, visit our St. Vincent de Paul Cemetery to pray for the deceased members of our community. Let us remember all our deceased loved ones in a special way this month.

Tonight (Sunday, Nov. 2), you are invited to attend our Parish Remembrance Service in the Church at 6:30 PM to pray for the deceased and offer support to their families.

We will host a reception in the Gathering Space following the service.
