EASTER SUNDAY

When Simon Peter arrived after him, he went into the tomb and saw the burial cloths there, and the cloth that had covered his head, not with the burial cloths but rolled up in a separate place. - Jn 20:6-8

A Word from Fr. Mike

If something sounds too good to be true... it probably is. We've all learned that the hard way. You get the email—"Congratulations! You've won!"—delete.

You see the ad—"Lose 20 pounds in 2 weeks without changing anything!"—yeah, okay. Even here in Minnesota...a random 70-degree day in March? Just wait. Don't pack away your winter coat just yet!

We've all experienced disappointments and letdowns in our lives, and as a result we've trained ourselves to be skeptical. Guarded. Careful not to get our hopes up too quickly.

This reality shows up at Easter. An empty tomb. A stone rolled away. Angels. A message that sounds almost absurd: He is not here. He has been raised.

And what's fascinating is this—the first people who heard that news didn't immediately believe it either. They were confused. Hesitant. Cautious. A little skeptical. The Gospel tells us they ran to the tomb, trying to make sense of it all. They weren't naïve or gullible. They knew exactly what happens when someone dies. Dead stays dead. That's how the world works.

Which means their hesitation actually makes the story more real. Because the Resurrection isn't the kind of thing you just casually believe. It's the kind of thing that feels... too good to be true!

And maybe that's part of the challenge for us. Not that it's too hard to believe—but that it's almost too good to believe! That sin could actually be forgiven. That death doesn't get the final word. That your past doesn't define you. That nothing is beyond God's power to redeem. That the Lord brings life out of death. That there is real, unshakable hope—even in the hardest, darkest moments of life.

That's a lot. And if we're honest, sometimes we live like it might not be true. Or at least not fully true. We keep a little distance. We hedge our bets. We protect ourselves from getting our hopes up too high and carry out our own path in this world...just in case.

But here's the thing. Before Easter Sunday...there was Holy Saturday. A full day of silence. Confusion. Waiting. The disciples sitting in that in-between space where nothing made sense yet. Their master and friend was dead in a tomb. It looked like the story was over.

And that's where a lot of us live, too. In the waiting. In the uncertainty. In situations that haven't resolved yet. And Easter steps right into that space and says: Don't leave the story too early. Because what looked like the end... was actually the beginning. What looked like defeat...was the greatest victory the world has ever seen. What felt too good to be true...turned out to be truer than anything else.

The Resurrection of Jesus isn't a nice idea. It's not wishful thinking. It's not a religious exaggeration. It's real. And if it's real—it changes everything. It means hope is not naïve. It means joy is not fragile. It means nothing is unredeemable. And it means whatever you're carrying right now—whatever feels unresolved, uncertain, or unfinished—God is not done yet.

Because the tomb is empty, and He is risen! Alleluia!

Happy Easter and thank you Jesus!

A Message to the Parents of our Youngest Parishioners:

God put the wiggle in children; don't feel you have to suppress it in God's house.

Sit toward the front where it is easier for your little ones to see and hear what's going on at the altar.

Quietly explain the parts of the liturgy and actions of the priests, deacons, altar servers, choir, etc.

Sing the hymns, pray, and voice the responses.

Children learn liturgical behavior by copying you.

The presence of children is a gift to the church, and they remind us that our church is growing.

We ask this in the name of Jesus, your risen son, our Lord. Amen.*

"Same Kind of Different as Me: A Modern-Day Slave, and International Art Dealer, and the Unlikely Woman Who Bound Them Together..."

Meet Denver, raised under plantation-style slavery in Louisiana until he escaped the "Man" in the 1960's by hopping a train. Untrusting, uneducated, and violent, he spends 18 years on the streets of Dallas and Fort Worth.

Meet Ron Hall, a self-made millionaire in the world of high-priced deals—an international arts dealer who moves between upscale New York galleries and celebrities.

It seems unlikely that these two men would meet under normal circumstances, but when Deborah Hall, Ron's wife, meets Denver, she sees him through God's eyes of compassion. When Deborah is diagnosed with cancer, she charges Ron with the mission of helping Denver."

Please join us! New members are always welcome!

Video Series Begins this Week

Starting Thursday, April 9 from 8:30-9:30 AM in the Community Room

Join us for an uplifting video series from Formed each Thursday this spring.

We will meet for an hour in the Community Room after morning Mass for the video and discussion. Following the interpretive pattern of the authors of Scripture and the Fathers of the Church, "The Bible and the Virgin Mary" examines the role of Mary in salvation history.

Through a method called typology (see Catechism 128-130) we'll study Mary's role as the New Eve, the Ark of the New Covenant, and the Queen Mother. This study also examines Catholic doctrine regarding the Blessed Virgin, answering common questions along the way.

"The Bible and the Virgin Mary" is a video series based on the work of Biblical scholar Dr. Scott Hahn. Matthew Leonard, the presenter, is an internationally known speaker and author. A convert to Catholicism and former missionary to Latin America, he is a frequent guest on radio and television programs. Matthew holds a Master's degree in Theology from the Franciscan University of Steubenville.

The series is free and open to all.

Moms Morning Out

Disposal of Blessed Items

Did you know that the proper disposal of blessed items is to burn or to bury them? That includes the palm leaves that are blessed during the Palm Sunday Masses. Many people choose to keep and display these blessed palms in the home for a time, but please remember to burn or bury them when the time comes.

If you don't have the ability to respectfully dispose of them yourself, please place them in the basket available at the Welcome Desk and we will do so.
