FATHER'S CORNER

Father José

In today's readings we see a lot of images, metaphors applicable to our lives. In baptism, we were planted in the vineyard of the Lord, the field of salvation, what types of fruits we will yield in the end it remains to be seen. In the first reading, we see the land was good, we are essentially created good. We are reminded Christian remember your dignity. Remember where you come from. There is a degree of goodness in everyone. We were created good to do good for others. The reading continues with more imagery. The friend of humanity, God, planted the vineyard on a fertile hillside and cleared it of stones, that is of original sin and then planted the choicest vines. We were called to be children of God in our baptism and coheirs to the promises of Christ. Not everyone gets chosen, only the best become members of the vineyard of the Lord. We were intended, we were created, and we were selected. There are high expectations for the chosen ones. The church in this reading is the watch tower, as mother oversees her children so the Church solid and firm oversees her children like a tower. Always above, always protecting, always firm in sound doctrine. The winepress is the church working for the salvation of many by offering the sacraments. But unfortunately, this may not be enough to yield good grapes. The results may disappoint because have forgotten our baptismal identity, or we have not lived it at all. We have forgotten who we are and even though we are in the vineyard of salvation we may not be saved because of our actions. It is not enough to have faith; it must be put into practice. It is not enough to just want it (salvation) but also work for it. As we are in the vineyard of the Lord, what type of person are we becoming, what type of grape? Perhaps we would be surprised to know what our lives are yielding is different than what we think they are yielding. It would be sad to come to the end of our lives with disappointing results because we never took advantage of all the tools, and the helps the Church to activate our baptism. Perhaps we will end up being a sad, sour, dried-up grape (a raisin lacking rain) because we have wasted our time while in this world in fruitless pursuits. Such a hard work has God done, hopefully we do not disappoint with lack of results. Time and time we are given opportunities to change, may we be benefited by the pruning and hoeing (the correction) of the Lord while in this world, so that we don't become a wild grape ravaged by the boar of the forest (the devil). May we produce sweet tasting wine, with all the good qualities St. Paul speaks about honesty, purity, and excellence, and may we not become a sour grape with wicked intentions such as those wretched men in the New Testament parable. If the Lord wanted lemonade, he would have planted a lemon tree. The Lord wants sweet wine from his vineyard, and this is accomplished by life of baptism well-lived.

LA ESQUINA DEL PADRE

Padre José

En las lecturas de hoy vemos muchas imágenes, metáforas aplicables a nuestras vidas. En el bautismo fuimos plantados en la viña del Señor, el campo de la salvación, qué tipo de frutos daremos al final está por verse. En la primera lectura, vemos que la tierra era buena, que esencialmente fuimos creados buenos. Se nos recuerda a los cristianos que recuerden su dignidad. Recuerda de donde vienes. Hay un grado de bondad en todos. Fuimos creados buenos para hacer el bien a los demás. La lectura continúa con más imágenes. El amigo de la humanidad, Dios, plantó la viña en una ladera fértil y la limpió de piedras, es decir, del pecado original y luego plantó las viñas más abundantes. Fuimos llamados a ser hijos de Dios en nuestro bautismo y coherederos de las promesas de Cristo. No todos son elegidos, sólo los mejores se convierten en miembros de la viña del Señor. Fuimos destinados, fuimos creados y fuimos seleccionados. Hay grandes expectativas para los elegidos. La iglesia en esta lectura es la torre de vigilancia, así como la madre vigila a sus hijos, así la Iglesia sólida y firme vigila a sus hijos como una torre. Siempre a lo alto, siempre protegiendo, siempre firme en la sana doctrina. El lagar es la iglesia que trabaja por la salvación de muchos ofreciendo los sacramentos. Pero, lamentablemente, esto puede no ser suficiente para producir buenas uvas. Los resultados pueden decepcionar porque hemos olvidado nuestra identidad bautismal, o no la hemos vivido en absoluto. Hemos olvidado quiénes somos y aunque estemos en la viña de la salvación es posible que no seamos salvos por nuestras acciones. No basta con tener fe; hay que ponerla en práctica. No basta sólo desearla (la salvación) sino también trabajar por ella. Mientras estamos en la viña del Señor, ¿en qué tipo de persona nos estamos convirtiendo, en qué tipo de uva? Quizás nos sorprendería saber que lo que nuestras vidas están produciendo es diferente de lo que creemos que están produciendo. Sería triste llegar al final de nuestras vidas con resultados decepcionantes porque nunca aprovechamos todas las herramientas y ayudas de la Iglesia para activar nuestro bautismo. Quizás terminemos siendo una uva triste, agria y seca (una pasa seca) porque hemos perdido el tiempo en este mundo en actividades triviales. Que trabajo tan duro ha hecho Dios, ojalá no los decepcionemos por la falta de resultados. Cada vez que se nos den oportunidades de cambiar, que seamos beneficiados por la corrección del Señor mientras estemos en este mundo, para que no nos convirtamos en una uva silvestre devastada por el jabalí del bosque (el demonio). Que produzcamos vino de sabor dulce, con todas las buenas cualidades de las que habla San Pablo sobre honestidad, pureza y excelencia, y que no nos convirtamos en una uva agria con malas intenciones como aquellos miserables de la parábola del Nuevo Testamento. Si el Señor quisiera limonada, habría plantado un limón. El Señor quiere vino dulce de su viña, y esto se logra con la vida del bautismo bien vivida.
