FATHER JULIO REFLECTION

The existence of the spiritual, non-corporeal beings that Sacred Scripture usually calls "angels" is a truth of faith. The witness of Scripture is as clear as the unanimity of Tradition.

St. Augustine says: "'Angel' is the name of their office, not of their nature. If you seek the name of their nature, it is 'spirit'; if you seek the name of their office, it is 'angel': from what they are, 'spirit', from what they do, 'angel.'" With their whole beings the angels are servants and messengers of God.

Because they "always behold the face of my Father who is in heaven" they are the "mighty ones who do his word, hearkening to the voice of his word".

As purely spiritual creatures angels have intelligence and will: they are personal and immortal creatures, surpassing in perfection all visible creatures, as the splendor of their glory bears witness.

From its beginning until death, human life is surrounded by their watchful care and intercession. "Beside each believer stands an angel as protector and shepherd leading him to life." "Already here on earth the Christian life shares by faith in the blessed company of angels and men united in God.

PADRE JULIO REFLEXIÓN

La existencia de los seres espirituales e incorpóreos que la Sagrada Escritura suele llamar «ángeles» es una verdad de fe. El testimonio de la Escritura es tan claro como la unanimidad de la Tradición.

San Agustín dice: "Ángel" es el nombre de su oficio, no de su naturaleza. Si buscas el nombre de su naturaleza, es "espíritu"; si buscas el nombre de su oficio, es "ángel": por lo que son, "espíritu", por lo que hacen, "ángel". Con todo su ser, los ángeles son siervos y mensajeros de Dios.

Porque «contemplan siempre el rostro de mi Padre que está en los cielos», son los «poderosos que cumplen su palabra, escuchando la voz de su palabra. Como criaturas puramente espirituales, los ángeles tienen inteligencia y voluntad: son criaturas personales e inmortales, que superan en perfección a todas las criaturas visibles, como lo atestigua el esplendor de su gloria.

Desde su inicio hasta la muerte, la vida humana está rodeada de su cuidado e intercesión. Junto a cada creyente hay un ángel protector y pastor que lo guía hacia la vida. Ya aquí en la tierra, la vida cristiana participa por la fe en la bendita compañía de ángeles y hombres unidos en Dios.
