QUESTION FOR REFLECTION:

Where are our young people?

One answer: Well . . . at least four dozen of them will be in the school building on Wednesday evenings, asking for our adults to share Jesus Christ with them, and at this point over half of the students will not have a catechist.

*Ss. Charles Borromeo and Robert Bellarmine, patron saints of catechists, we pray that the Holy Spirit enkindles the fire of Love within the hearts of the people of Good Shepherd Catholic Church.
Amen.*

Emotions: Anger, Depression, and Suicidality

"Feelings are your friends if you treat them right." That's true, but how do you treat them right? Let them tell you what you need to hear. On this weekend of Suicide Awareness, it is good to recognize that emotions and thoughts are at the root of mental distress. Anger, sadness, fear, hurt, abandonment, hate, hopelessness, depression all have thoughts and feelings. Naming feelings to yourself or another person who will listen are important parts of making even strong, dark feelings into your friends. The general term "depression" links to suicidal thoughts or behaviors, as does the persistent presence of bitter anger. Listed below are some symptoms of depression. If you or someone you love has these symptoms for a month or more, it is good to visit a physician or therapist to get them checked out by a professional. There also is a need to foster maintenance of good connections to other people and to daily activities when a person has symptoms of depression or bitter anger. Be a friend, be a support.

10 common symptoms of depression:

1. Feelings of helplessness and hopelessness. A bleak outlook—nothing will ever get better and there's nothing you can do to improve your situation.
2. Loss of interest in daily activities. You don't care anymore about former hobbies, pastimes, social activities, or sex. You've lost your ability to feel joy and pleasure.
3. Appetite or weight changes. Significant weight loss or weight gain—a change of more than 5% of body weight in a month.
4. Sleep changes. Either insomnia, especially waking in the early hours of the morning, or oversleeping.
5. Anger or irritability. Feeling agitated, restless, or even violent. Your tolerance level is low, your temper short, and everything and everyone gets on your nerves.
6. Loss of energy. Feeling fatigued, sluggish, and physically drained. Your whole body may feel heavy, and even small tasks are exhausting or take longer to complete.
7. Self-loathing. Strong feelings of worthlessness or guilt. You harshly criticize yourself for perceived faults and mistakes.
8. Reckless behavior. You engage in escapist behavior such as substance abuse, compulsive gambling, reckless driving, or dangerous sports.
9. Concentration problems. Trouble focusing, making decisions, or remembering things.
10. Unexplained aches and pains. An increase in physical complaints such as headaches, back pain, aching muscles, and stomach pain. Symptoms of Depression garnered from <https://www.helpguide.org/articles/depression/depression-symptoms-and-warning-signs.htm>
