A MESSAGE FROM FR. DEPALMA

As we come upon this weekend, we only have two more weeks of the liturgical year of Ordinary Time. The end of Ordinary Time presents an interesting time of year. Many Catholics do not even realize that the end of the liturgical year is approaching. It certainly is a bit unusual to end a year in November, but every year the Catholic Church wraps up Ordinary Time and transitions into Advent and a new year. What can we Catholics learn from the end of Ordinary Time? The readings of these past few weeks and especially the readings of today offer to us a glimpse of the end of time, and so the focus is on the "Last Things" which for us Catholics means, death, judgment, heaven or hell. The study of the last things can often be too much for us to think about because it can seem to be overwhelming. These closing weeks of Ordinary Time challenge us to ponder our lives and the state of our soul. Psalm 17 says that "Lord, when your glory appears my joy will be full" (Ps. 17:15). We can take this message and dwell on it. When Jesus comes again, he will come in glory to save the world once and for all from sin and injustice. Next week, the 34th Sunday in Ordinary Time, or the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe, is the end of the liturgical year, and the end of the readings which focus on the last things. The Gospel next week gives us Catholics the most comforting message, and a very fitting end to the Church year. The Gospel reading is the familiar story of the Good Thief on the cross. While suffering himself, Jesus turns to the condemned man next to him and says, "Amen, I say to you, today you will be with me in Paradise" (Lk. 23:43).

Through this story, Jesus offers us the ultimate promise of love and mercy even though we may have to go through some dark times. Jesus comes to us and accepts us as we are, in the midst of our brokenness. Jesus promises us eternal life, even when we have not been perfect. This message and promise of "paradise" is the message of Ordinary Time that dominates the end of the liturgical year. We must contemplate the last things during this time of year because Jesus calls us to himself, for we do not know the time nor the hour when we will be called. So as we end Ordinary Time, the Church encourages us to contemplate the end, but not out of fear, but to allow us to meditate on the state of our soul. Are we growing closer to God? Do we believe that our actions bring God's love to the world? Do we believe in the resurrection of the dead and life everlasting, as the Nicene Creed teaches? This is our faith. The conclusion of Ordinary Time challenges us to take up our cross and grow in our faith. Jesus bore our sins on the Cross and promises us eternal life just as he promised it to the Good Thief prior to his death. Instead of fearing the readings in the coming weeks, may we open ourselves up to the love of Jesus Christ, with the hope of eternity given to us through his defeat of sin and death.

A Prayer For Priests St. Therese of Lisieux

O Jesus, Eternal Priest, keep your priests within the shelter of your Sacred Heart, where none may touch them. Keep unstained their anointed hands, which daily touch your sacred body. Keep unsullied their lips, daily purpled with your precious blood. Keep pure and unearthly their hearts, sealed with the sublime mark of your priesthood. Let your holy love surround them, and shield them from the world's contagion. Bless their labors with abundant fruit, and may the souls to whom they minister be their joy and consolation here on earth, and in heaven, their everlasting crown.

Mary, Mother of Priests, pray for priests and vocations to the priesthood. Amen.
