Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

So, who wants to be a disciple of Jesus? He certainly doesn't pull any punches about what it takes. First, "Hate your father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, yes, and even life itself." Second, "Carry the cross and follow [him]." Lastly, "Give up all your possessions." It's that simple and it's that difficult. Jesus' words don't just sound black and white. They are black and white. It is all or nothing. We are either in or we are out. In reading the Gospel, the first temptation is to soften the text, to explain it away, to reinterpret it to fit our lives. Too often church and faith are treated like a big buffet. We take as much of what we like and want but leave behind what we do not like, what's too hard to swallow, what we disagree with, or what does not fit our personal opinions and beliefs. Jesus demands and expectations call us to be different, to be fully alive, to be like him. There is more to discipleship, however, than simply traveling with Jesus. That life cannot be bought but it will cost us everything we have. Hate your family and your own life. Carry the cross. Give up your possessions. No one, no cost, no thing is to take precedence over or interfere with our relationship with Jesus. Nothing is more important because it is our relationship with Jesus that shapes, defines, determines, and characterizes all our other relationships, all other aspects of our lives, who we are, what we say, and what we do. We want life. We want to be fully alive. We want to be real and authentic. We want to be like Jesus. Don't let the text scare you away. We can do this. Christ has made that possible. Choose one thing that we can do or give up today that will reorder our priorities. Choose life! Choose life! Choose life!

Stewardship Reflection "Every one of you who does not renounce all his possessions cannot be my disciple." - LUKE 14:33 When we first hear this statement, it seems that Jesus is making an unrealistic demand upon us. How can we renounce all of our possessions? We need them to live. However, what we must renounce is the belief that they belong to us. Everything that we have belongs to God alone. All of our resources are entrusted to us not only for our own use, but also so that we can help others. Once we renounce the idea that we possess or are entitled to anything, it is much easier to share the many gifts that God has given us. Then we truly are His Disciples.

Please Pray For Those Who Are Sick & Suffering
