This Sunday's Readings

First Reading

Wisdom 12:13,16-19

God has shown himself to be a God of justice and mercy.

Responsorial Psalm

Psalm 86:5-6,9-10,15-16

A prayer to God for mercy.

Second Reading

Romans 8:26-27

The Spirit intercedes for us with God.

Gospel Reading

Matthew 13:24-43 (shorter form: Matthew 13:24-30)

Jesus offers parables about the Kingdom of Heaven and explains them to his disciples.

Background on the Gospel Reading

In today's Gospel, Jesus offers three parables to describe the Kingdom of Heaven. He also explains why he speaks to the crowds in parables and interprets the parable of the sower for the disciples. This reading is a continuation of Jesus' discourse that we began reading last Sunday.

All three parables use commonplace experiences to describe aspects of the Kingdom of Heaven. The first parable is longer and more detailed than the next two, and it alerts us to the two-fold reality of the Kingdom of Heaven. The beginnings of the Kingdom of Heaven can be found in this world. The fruition of the Kingdom of Heaven, however, will not be realized until the final judgment. In the meantime, as Jesus' explanation to the disciples cautions, any effort to judge the progress of the Kingdom of Heaven is premature. Only God, in the final judgment, will distinguish the fruit of the Kingdom of Heaven and offer its reward.

The second and third parables call to our attention the abundance that will result from the small beginnings of the Kingdom of Heaven. Just as a mustard seed—the smallest of all seeds—will become a large bush, so too God will bring his Kingdom to full bloom. As a small amount of yeast will leaven the entire batch of bread, so too God will bring about the expansion of his Kingdom. In each case the image is of the superabundance that God brings out of even the smallest of signs of the Kingdom.

Contained within these parables are words of caution as well as words of consolation. In the parable of the sower we are warned against judging others. To judge and uproot the "weeds" prematurely will harm the wheat; final judgment rests with God. In the parables of the mustard seed and the yeast, we are consoled by the message that God can work wonders and produce abundance from even the smallest beginnings of the Kingdom of Heaven.

Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Cycle A | Loyola Press

Franciscans of the Order of Friars Minor in six of the order's U.S. provinces voted to form one new organization to reinvigorate Franciscan life in this country.

Friars in each of the order's U.S. provinces took the vote at meetings in their respective communities. The provinces have been in dialogue about unifying since 2012.

Once established the organization would be made up of the almost 1,000 Franciscan brothers and priests who belong to the existing provinces.

"The other provincial ministers and I are delighted with the outcome of the vote," said Fr. David Gaa, provincial minister of the St. Barbara Province, based in Oakland, California. "This is an important step in the process of revitalizing Franciscan life in the United States."

In addition to the St. Barbara Province, the U.S. provinces are: Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, based in Franklin, Wisconsin; Holy Name, which has its headquarters on 31st Street in New York City; Our Lady of Guadalupe, based in Albuquerque, New Mexico; Sacred Heart, based in St. Louis; and St. John the Baptist, based in Cincinnati.

"The new entity will better serve the friars' fraternal life and mission in the United States by making adjustments to the current administrative structure," said Fr. Jack Clark Robinson, provincial minister of Our Lady of Guadalupe. The unification will unite over 1,000 friars under the new U.S. province of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

The unification will take place beginning in October of this year. Mission San Jose has been staffed for many, many years by the friars of the Sacred Heart Province. Hopefully this unification will allow the availability of more friars coming to San Antonio!

“...we can learn much from St James: promptness in accepting the Lord’s call even when He asks us to leave the “boat” of our human securities, enthusiasm in following Him on the paths that He indicates to us over and above any deceptive presumption of our own, readiness to witness to Him with courage, if necessary to the point of making the supreme sacrifice of life. Thus James the Greater stands before us, as an eloquent example of generous adherence to Christ. He, who initially had requested, through his mother, to be seated with his brother next to the Master in His Kingdom, was precisely the first to drink the chalice of the passion and to share martyrdom with the Apostles.”...

Pope Benedict XVI – General Audience, 21 June 2006
