ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT

Nayelly Dominguez '15

"SMU Catholic is one of the greatest gifts from God I have received not only during college, but also in life. I still remember randomly walking in to the Catholic Center as I was heading to my car from class. I wasn't planning on walking in, but I am glad God tugged on my shoulder and called me to go in. My life was never the same, because I was never able to leave! SMU Catholic allowed me to not only grow personally and spiritually, but it also allowed me to grow as a leader. More than anything, SMU Catholic provided me support and a community with whom I could share my craziest ideas (and may I say, they were pretty crazy), and feel as though someone was actually listening.

A characteristic that I value about the SMU Catholic community is how diverse it is. We have members representing a plethora of majors, a wide range of cultural backgrounds and interests, different personalities, and many different walks of life. The cool thing is that our passion to grow as a community under Christ brings us together, allowing us to learn from our differences and learn to respect one another. As a working professional, I can say this is a skill that I use every day.

I thank SMU Catholic for all the gifts it has given me. I will never forget sharing a meal with our amazing hosts in Ecuador, late night planning for Awakening retreats, Cathletes flag football games, Sunday suppers, and simply sharing moments of joy with my SMU Catholic friends. I hope to one day be able to share some of the joy I gained from SMU Catholic with the rest of the world."

SMU CATHOLIC STUDENT ACTIVISM

Akola
(v): 'she works'

SMU Catholic sophomore Molly Coughlin has been working with Akola Dallas as Community Outreach intern, and when she told us about Akola, we just had to help her spread the word! Akola is a nonprofit jewelry store employing “unemployable” women in Uganda and Dallas. This incredible business employs over 400 women, including 30 locally in their Deep Ellum storefront, and 100% of their profits are reinvested in the women Akola employees. Check out akolaproject.org, and consider supporting both Molly and this great organization!

THANK YOU, FROM FR. ARTHUR

Dear Community Members,

On behalf of the SMU Catholic Campus Ministry Board of Trustees and our Staff, I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for your participation and support of our 2016 Gala. I'm happy to report that we raised a Gala record of over $130,000, thus allowing us to continue to form students in helping them know, love and serve Christ. May God's blessing be upon you.

Yours in Christ.
