Called By Name Weekend: June 8-9, 2024

Called By Name is an initiative which takes much of the stress and worry out of the discernment process. There are many vocations to the priesthood and religious life which are never realized simply because no one has ever invited them. Called By Name changes that.

You can use these submission cards to write down the name of a person whom you think may have a calling to be a priest or nun. You can also use the QR code on the card to

A person who is nominated does not need to make any commitments. They will receive a letter from Archbishop Coyne congratulating them on living the Christian life in an exemplary way and be invited to begin discerning God's calling through the Vocations Office in the normal way.

Other dioceses which have done Called By Name have reported astonishing numbers of new priests and religious sisters simply by inviting them to begin the discernment process.

Please take a moment now to prayerfully nominate a person whom you think might have a calling from God and imagine if this was the moment a vocation to the priesthood or religious life began because you made it so that this person could be called by name....

 SAINT THOMAS SEMINARY - ARCHDIOCESE OF HARTFORD

When you hear "marriage enrichment," what typically comes to mind?

Maybe you think marriage advice is only for newlyweds.

Or maybe only useful for couples who have been married for several decades and have lost their original "spark."

Some people think marriage enrichment is for couples who "have it all together," or appear to have "a perfect marriage."

The truth is simple: marriage enrichment is for couples at all stages of marriage.

Whether you've been married for six months or sixty years, you and your spouse can benefit from some marriage TLC.

Come and invest in your marriage!

The Holy Eucharist
DID YOU KNOW?

Today is a great Feast Day! It is the feast of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist. Jesus plainly told His followers, "I am the LIVING Bread come down from Heaven." (John 6:51) Our Lord could not express His Divine Presence in the Blessed Sacrament more clearly than with these words.

Reflection: When you approach to receive Holy Communion, are you aware that the Priest, Deacon or Eucharistic Minister is saying,
 "THE BODY of Christ." Your response "AMEN" is your personal affirmation in the belief that you are indeed receiving the LIVING Jesus under the form of consecrated bread. If you are truly aware of what you are doing, what should your prayer after you return to your seat be like? The Living Lord is within you. He is residing in the profound humility of a fragile, consecrated Host. Should your personal response not also include a profound humility of gratitude?

Worship & Meditation: The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

Sunday's Readings

First Reading:

"This is the blood of the covenant that the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words of his." (Ex 24:8)

Psalm:

I will take the cup of salvation, and call on the name of the Lord. (Ps 116) Or: Alleluia.

Second Reading:

How much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from dead works to worship the living God. (Heb 9:14)

Gospel:

"Take it; this is my body." Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it. He said to them, "This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many." (Mk 14:22-24)

Jesus is the Passover Lamb come to fulfillment, and his sacrifice washes our hearts in the blood of the new covenant. He is passing us the cup of salvation. Let us take it and call on the name of the Lord.

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

The best way to understand the Eucharist is to recall God's long, careful teaching process beginning in the Old Testament. This week in Exodus 24, we learn the basic pattern. Moses reads the dictates of God's law to the people, who profess their allegiance to it. Then Moses takes representatives of Israel's twelve tribes and splashes the sacrificed blood of animals in two directions: on the altar and on the people. It's clear and serious business: clear, because the participants are entering a blood-bond with God Himself; serious, because the dead animals symbolize the life-and-death stakes at play.

Many centuries later, God uses the experience at Sinai to teach us something new. At the Last Supper, like a new Moses, Jesus proposes to "pour out" blood as a new covenant. It will land on the altar of the cross and the lips of his disciples. They have promised to be obedient to him who is God's law in flesh. This renews and elevates the breath-taking romance God wants with His people, unfolding from Sinai to this Supper. The Body and Blood of Christ is the sacrificial action whereby this covenant is strengthened.

How hopeful that, like us, the Israelites and the apostles repeatedly fail to live up to their promises and discover that the blood of the covenant continually renews and refreshes them. Today the blood of Christ faithfully flows, to unite and renew, moving us forward toward where our great teacher is taking us. This week, we should say a renewed "amen" to God who so carefully teaches us how to be one with Him in this new covenant.

— Father John Muir

Questions of the Week

Reflect and Respond to Scripture

First Reading:

We hear the Israelites' enthusiastic commitment to the covenant at Mount Sinai with their words: "We will do everything that the Lord has told us." What are you passionately committed to in your life?

Second Reading:

Hebrews teaches us that through his death (Jesus's blood), believers receive the promised eternal inheritance. How often do you think about "eternity?"

Gospel:

Jesus taught his disciples that through his death, his body and blood would be shed for many. How should we show gratitude for such a sacrifice?

(PRACTICING)

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

This Is My Body

A friend in high school once asked me why I wore a Crucifix around my neck. She was a Christian and very devout, so I was surprised at her confusion. "To remember Jesus' sacrifice," I said.

Her upper lip curled in disgust. "The cross is a sign of Jesus' sacrifice," she said. "He's not on the cross anymore. It's really weird that you wear his dead body."

As someone raised Catholic, the Corpus was an image I knew intimately. We had Crucifixes all over our home, everyone in my family did. And for reasons I couldn't quite explain, I actually preferred them over the plain crosses I saw elsewhere. The crosses seemed more elegant, more refined — but the Crucifixes felt more complete. More to-the-point.

My friend's disgust compelled me to reflect, in a way I never had before, on the image of Christ's body, wounded and twisted and tortured. Why was this a visual that compelled me? It didn't make a lot of sense for someone who abhorred dead bodies so much that I found it difficult to look into a casket at a wake. So, what was different about this?

My friend wasn't wrong: Christ is no longer on the cross. The sacrifice has been made. But does that mean it is over? We re-present it every single Mass. It's the point of everything that we do. Jesus did not sacrifice his spirit; he sacrificed his body. He bought us with every tear of the flesh, with every drop of blood.

The cross is crucial, yes. But that wood didn't bleed for us. If the body wasn't the point, Jesus would not have become human at all. Jesus needed the body.

We need it, too.

"While they were eating, he took bread, said the blessing, broke it, gave it to them, and said, 'Take it; this is my body.' — Matthew 26:26
