Rev. Denis B. Theroux, Pastor

Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Friends,

I find myself asking ... “Who is this man with an unclean spirit that shows up in the synagogue today? He is loud. He interrupts. He draws our attention the way an unbathed, talking to himself, homeless man would catch our attention if he showed up here at OLV.” The man with an unclean spirit is for many of us, I suspect, the shocking and intriguing part of today’s gospel.

Oddly enough, he doesn’t seem to have that effect on the people in the synagogue. Their attention is on Jesus. They are astounded by his presence and teaching. It is like nothing they have ever heard before. He has authority... His words mean something. They make a difference. Even the man with an unclean spirit is shocked and intrigued by Jesus. “What have you to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us?”

Jesus is teaching in the synagogue. His authority fills not just the place but each person there. And almost immediately this man with an unclean spirit shows up. The presence of Jesus, the one whose spirit is clean, draws out the presence of the man with an unclean spirit. Jesus has that effect on people. His authority and teaching reveal the truth about his listeners’ lives.

This one with the unclean spirit is an image of what the lives of those in the synagogue look like. His uncleanness is not about personal hygiene, immorality, being bad, or Judaism. Instead, his presence “in their synagogue” describes the “illness of their soul,” their broken lives, and the many voices within them. In looking at him they see themselves and they are astounded by the contrast of the one who has a clean spirit.

“What have you to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth?” He senses the distance between his life and Jesus’. His words betray his isolation. It’s not, however, just about him. He speaks not only for himself but for all those in the synagogue that day. He represents everyone who has ever experienced the brokenness of life. He is the spokesperson for all who feel disconnected from themselves, others, or God. He represents the human condition. Each one of us, at one time or another, have lived in isolation. We have been trapped in grief. We have carried the burden of guilt. The truth of those situations often reveals itself in the many personas we wear.

At some level we all project various personas or images of how we want others to see us and how we want to see ourselves. Sometimes it is as simple, and seemingly silly, as saying, “I can’t go to the grocery store looking like this. I have no make-up on, and my hair is a mess.” Or we smile and say, “Yes, everything is just fine,” and quickly change the subject when the truth is, we are hanging on by a thread and not sure how we’ll get through the rest of the day. We don’t want our life to be seen in its unmade-up condition.

We are such funny people. Deep down we long for intimacy and authenticity but the last thing we want is to be found out, to have someone see us for who we truly are and who we are not. So, we put on a good front hoping that will gain us approval, acceptance, love.

But friends, this is exactly why Jesus has come. He has come to destroy our silences and our false voices. He comes to cast out all our personas and make us people with a clean spirit. He has everything to do with us. He stands before us as the mirror image of who we can become. There is no aspect of our life about which he is not concerned. He calls us into our true self, the one made in the image and likeness of God. He calls us back into the beauty and wholeness of our original creation.

That is why the man with an unclean spirit can cry out, “I know who you are, the Holy One of God.” He speaks from a deep place of knowing. His recognition of Jesus is at a profound level a recognition of himself and his own holiness. For every voice that denies that and leaves us crying, “What have you do to with us?” Jesus says, “Shhh. Be quiet. That’s not who you are. You are mine and I have everything to do with you.” Listen to that voice and you, too will be astounded at what can become of your life.

Peace to each of you, Father Denis

HELLO FROM THE MIDDLE SCHOOL

BY MRS. WHITED, MIDDLE SCHOOL MATH TEACHER

To say we are all thrilled to still be learning in-person is an understatement. As someone who has been teaching at OLV for 12 years, the 3 months of virtual learning at the end of last year's school year were 3 too many! I think all of our students would agree that math is a subject that is so much better presented in person, surrounded by other students. Here are some of the things we've been practicing:

- My On-level 8th graders and Advanced 7th graders have been working on an important concept that they will be seeing more of next year in Algebra 1: Factoring. Whether it be factoring trinomials, the difference of squares, or solving quadratic equations, they are getting a good start on something that they will be delving deeper into in high school.
- My On-level 7th graders and Advanced 6th graders are currently in their Similarity Unit, focusing mainly on describing relationships between figures by using scale factor, proportions, and similarity postulates. This unit is particularly interesting to those who love to ask, "When will we use this in real life?" Any future architects will see that these are concepts that are used when building.
- Last, my Honors 6th graders have dived into their Percents Unit, and will soon be learning about the all-important tax and tip, something that they will be using when they venture out into the real world to make purchases on their own.

OLV Help Wanted Part Time Custodian

Our Lady of Victory Parish is seeking a part time (15-19 hrs/week) Custodian for afternoons and evenings at our school. The custodian is responsible for performing the day-to-day cleaning activities in the school building to provide a clean, orderly and safe environment. Some janitorial experience is preferred.

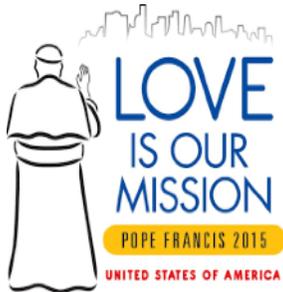

Contact the Parish Office for an application or send your resume to olvoffice@olvnorthville.net.

In today's Gospel (Mark 1:21-28), we read that because Jesus spoke with authority his reputation spread throughout the surrounding region of Galilee.

From that point on, they "remembered" and told the story and "his reputation spread throughout the surrounding region of Galilee." "Remember" is a word that is often on our lips when we pray and when we speak to our friends. At times we also feel better when we remember the goodness of others to us, their generosity, their unselfishness, their tenderness, their thoughtfulness. This word "remember" is important, for Jesus has also done great things for us. (Living Liturgy, p.42)

As his disciples, we can also speak with authority when we put our faith into actions by helping the poor and suffering. If you feel the need to begin or expand your journey of outreach, please leave your name and contact information on the OLV SVdP Hotline (248) 349-2622 or e-mail to: stvincent@olvnorthville.net and a Vincentian will contact you.

By Kathy Sanderson, Music Director

Jesus is truly the Word of God, begotten by God with just a word, sent by God to speak the Word. The text of "Praise to You, O Christ Our Savior" reflects the gospel today in many ways: Jesus, Word and Son of God; a light in the darkness of the world; teacher of love and compassion; the one promised by God to Moses that the prophets spoke about; the one who frees us from weight of sin. All of these, Bernadette Farrell beautifully expresses in word and music. In the temple, the people realize that Jesus is someone special by his teaching and were amazed by his command of his teaching. He was different from others that preached in the temple. Some thought him a revolutionary and wanted him dead. He was leading a quiet revolution of love and mercy. In David E. Trueblood's "God Whose Purpose is to Kindle," we hear in the verses, inciting words of action such as: kindle, ignite, passion, fiery, stir up, sword, sharpened word. I think Trueblood was really asking us to take a good hard look at what is outside our little everyday world and really "see" and hopefully shake us out of our complacency to rise to action against the unfairness in the word. Not in a violent revolutionary way, but the quiet way of Jesus: love and mercy.

"Bringing hope, healing, and new beginnings to those grieving the death of a loved one."

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

2020-21 Catholic High School

Dear Prospective Parents and Students,

Archbishop Vigneron and I are pleased to share our guide to the excellent Catholic high schools here in the Archdiocese of Detroit. We encourage you to look at the profiles for each high school in this booklet (found at: olvnorthville.org/community-events) and visit their websites to learn more about those that interest you.

Students in our Catholic high schools acquire the tools to seek wisdom and truth, the discipline to achieve academic excellence, and the capability to transform and enrich the world with the light of Christ's Gospel. Our schools equip our students well for this world in so many other ways as well:

- Catholic high school graduates are seven times more likely to practice their faith as adults.
- Catholic high school graduates earn 14% more than their public or charter peers.
- Children of color that graduate from Catholic high school are 2.4 times more likely to graduate from college than their public or charter peers.

Recognizing that Catholic schools are the premier teaching center of the Church, Archbishop Vigneron and I invite you to explore our Catholic high schools on the pages that follow. For well over 150 years, the Catholic Church in the United States has been blessed to offer Catholic education as a force for change in society and for growth in the Church. We hope that you choose to attend one of our Catholic high and become part of this proud and prominent tradition.

Sincerely yours in Christ, Kevin D. Kijewski, J.D. Superintendent of Catholic Schools

Mass Schedule

Saturday at 5:00 p.m., Sunday at 7:30, 9:30 and 11:30 a.m.
Monday, Wednesday, Friday at 8:30 a.m.

RECONCILIATION SCHEDULE: Friday, 7:30-8:15 a.m. and Saturday, 3:00-4:30 p.m.

SATURDAYS AT 5:00 P.M. AND SUNDAYS AT 11:30 A.M

Mass live streamed at facebook.com/OurLadyofvictorychurchNorthville and olvnorthville.org

If you are just now getting back to Mass in person, please note a few changes:

- Limited seating. Based on the layout of the church, our seating capacity is around 125 per Mass. Reservations are not needed at this time. So if the church is full, the doors will close.
- Church doors will open 20 minutes prior to Mass. The doors will close and lock when Mass is started.
- Social Distance: Households may sit together but will be distanced (by 6 feet) to surrounding parishioners.
- Masks: All Parishioners must wear a mask. Your mask may be moved to consume communion.
- If you have an Offering, it can be deposited in a bin found in the Gathering Space entrance.

We understand that everyone is anxious to get back to normal and public Mass is one of those events that is “normal” to us! However, if you are sick, have a fever or cough, have underlying health conditions, or if you have been exposed to someone who is sick (anyone in an “at-risk” category, or uncomfortable in a group setting), please remain home and continue to enjoy our live stream offerings. Archbishop Vigneron has granted dispensation from the Sunday obligation to celebrate Mass to all the faithful of the Archdiocese through Ash Wednesday, February 17, 2021.
