AROUND THE TABLE

Rev. Denis B. Theroux, Pastor

Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Friends,

Today's Gospel passage is yet another challenging Gospel. Peter comes to Jesus and bluntly asks him how many times he needs to forgive another, be that his brother, his sister, friend or co-worker. Peter asks if he should forgive the other person seven times? I wonder: did Peter have a family member, a spouse or a friend whom he had wounded multiple times, or was wounded by seven times? Or was Peter simply asking the question because he wanted to hear how Jesus would answer his question?

As often is the case, Jesus does not answer Peter's question directly. Rather Jesus bluntly tells Peter that he should forgive the other person, not simply 7 times, but 77 times! Now that is a lot of forgiveness! It often is easier to forgive another if the hurt or insult is minor. But, when a person has been betrayed or slandered by another person, most of us also would find it difficult to forgive the individual. This is understandable: our trust has been betrayed!

I wonder if Peter was surprised or even shocked at Jesus' answer? Was Peter thinking of a family member or friend that he needed to forgive? Or was Peter remembering someone he had hurt or wounded? Was Peter hoping that at some point, he would be forgiven?

Hopefully, over time, we will forgive the person who wounded us. In this process, we also free ourselves of the heavy burden we have been carrying. Lack of forgiveness usually has more effect on us than on the individual we need to forgive. Resentment and anger poison us. If we are not able to forgive the other person, we may be the one who carries the heavier burden. True, it is not easy to let go of our anger and hurt. However, if we can place our anger, hurt and resentment into God's hands, over time God will heal our resentment, hurt and anger. However, I would tell you, sometimes it may take a long time.

The grace is Jesus does not expect us to deal with these hurts and resentments alone. Jesus walks with us, encourages us and over time, gives us the grace to let go and hopefully to also forgive the one who hurt us. However, we have to be patient with this process. We need to keep coming back to Jesus and ask him to help us forgive. Jesus wants us to ask him to free us of this burden, this pain. I completely believe that Jesus is with us and He will answer our prayers!

Today, I pray that each of us has the strength to place our burdens, our anger and our pain in Jesus' hands. This will lighten our load immensely and it also will free us!

Peace and Prayers, Father Denis

OLV St. Vincent de Paul Society | Conference #437

Live Your Faith. Join the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Since 1833, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul has been servicing those in need.

The challenge in today's Gospel (Matthew 18:21-35) is to forget how others have behaved toward us and to look to God's way of loving and forgiving. Our focus must be on God.

Forgiving another-not focusing on our hurt or another's transgression but rather on the loveliness of another--is so difficult! Today's gospel challenges us to forget how others behaved toward us and look to God's way of loving and forgiving us. Our focus must be on God, for without God's example we most likely couldn't forgive very well. The task is to forget about ourselves so we can reach out to each other. (Living Liturgy, p. 236)

If you sense that you need to be "more engaged," consider joining OLV's St. Vincent de Paul Ministry. To learn more, just leave your name and contact information on the OLV SVdP Hotline at (248) 349-2622 or e-mail to: stvincent@olvnorthville.net and a Vincentian will call. Or join us at our next monthly meeting on Tuesday, October 10, at 7:00 p.m., in the St. John XXIII room.

Last year, our Parish joined a nationwide effort to increase outreach and support for pregnant and parenting mothers entitled, Walking with Moms in Need. Please join us in praying that our efforts will help ensure pregnant women in need know they can turn to our Parish for support and assistance. Look for more details in upcoming bulletins as to how you can join or assist our new Walking with Moms in

OLV SCHOOL NEWS

OLV STEM

by Ian Hadden, Robotics Leader

OLV School and Dad's Club have recently established new robotics teams as part of the First Robotics Program (www.firstinspires.org). In order to sustain this program, we need help from the OLV community to mentor and coach the children through the planned activities. No previous experience is required, and the First program provides detailed lesson plans, coaching guides, and support material. We ask that anyone who volunteers complete the Protecting God's Children course available online at www.virtus.org.

This is an excellent opportunity to work with our children and enjoy watching their young minds expand as they solve challenges as a team. If you would like to volunteer or need more information, don't hesitate to get in touch with Ian Hadden at ian.hadden@yahoo.co.uk.
