We encourage parents to be parishioners of OLPH when registering students for Religious Education classes. Census forms can be obtained from the Parish Office during regular business hours, in the gathering area of the church or you can register online. Call C.C. PSR Celebrating Krewe of Christianity

PSR children were asked to take shoe boxes and decorate them with saints or biblical themes. They paraded them around the cafeteria and then had king cake.

Saint of the Week: St. Roch

St. Roch was born at Montpellier towards 1295; died 1327. His father was governor of that city. At his birth, St. Roch is said to have been found miraculously marked on the breast with a red cross. His parents died when he was about twenty years old, he distributed his inheritance among the poor, handed over to his uncle the government of Montpellier, and in the disguise of a beggar, set out for Italy, but stopped at Aquapendente, which was stricken by the plague, and devoted himself to the plague-stricken, curing them with the sign of the cross. He next visited Cesena and other neighboring cities and then Rome. Everywhere, the terrible scourge disappeared before his miraculous power. He visited Mantua, Modena, Parma, and other cities with the same results. At Piacenza, he himself was stricken with the plague. He withdrew to a hut in the neighboring forest, where his wants were supplied by a gentleman named Gothard, who by a miracle, learned the place of his retreat. After his recovery, Roch returned to France. Arriving at Montpellier and refusing to disclose his identity, he was taken for a spy in the disguise of a pilgrim, and cast into prison by order of the governor, — his own uncle, some writers say, — where five years later he died. The miraculous cross on his breast, as well as a document found in his possession, now served for his identification. He was accordingly given a public funeral, and numerous miracles attested his sanctity. In 1414, during the Council of Constance, the plague having broken out in that city, the Fathers of the Council ordered public prayers and processions in honor of the saint, and immediately the plague ceased. His relics, according to Wadding, were carried furtively to Venice in 1485, where they are still venerated. It is commonly held that he belonged to the Third Order of St. Francis; but it cannot be proved. Wadding leaves it an open question. Urban VIII approved the ecclesiastical office to be recited on his feast (16 August).
