THE MOST HOLY TRINITY SUNDAY

"POISONOUS PASTOR IMPOSTORS
AARP BULLETIN / KATHERINE SKIBA

Sabrina Price, 60, a widow near Hattiesburg, Mississippi, got an email in February ostensibly from her pastor, saying he was out of town and needed a favor: $100 gift cards for five women undergoing cancer treatment. He specified eBay or Amazon cards and said he'd pay her back.

The email looked legitimate, so she snapped up $500 in Amazon cards at Walgreens, took photos of their numbers and texted them to him. The numbers gave the impostor instant access to the funds. That evening, he sent a request for 10 more $100 gift cards. Price smelled a rat and fired back: "You are a thief and a liar. God sees what you did."

The Federal Trade Commission labels clergy cons as impostor fraud, which caused nearly $1.2 billion in losses in 2020. The FTC can't say how many crooks pose as religious leaders, but AARP's Fraud Watch Network says preying on the prayerful spiked during the pandemic.

For Price, the $500 loss will delay her dream of buying a home. "I've had opportunities to be scammed before, but this is the first time I fell for it," she says."

PONDERINGS FROM FATHER BILL

Gary Cuozzo, star quarterback for the Minnesota Vikings football team beginning in the early 1970's, recently texted me: "So thankful to know Him because life without understanding the message and purpose of Jesus and the cross would be meaningless." This good man is so correct - succinct in words while vibrant in deep faith. To understand the challenges of life requires that tenacity of conviction in Jesus. One of my crosses as a pastor is internet deception, which masquerades as me to con people out of their hard-earned money and free time. A number of times parishioners have fallen for this trap, which has created deep heartache for me. Please do not fall for these evil requests sprung by sinister and ghoulish individuals. My encounters are deeply personal by face, phone, or emails where I can be easily identified. Please pray for the clergy who are being deceived by these creepy individuals, who need much divine forgiveness when their inevitable end comes. Father Bill

THE MOST HOLY TRINITY

First Reading: Deuteronomy 4:32-34, 39-40 Moses asks the people if they have ever seen anything as great as the actions of God. He reminds them that there is only one God and all people must keep his commandments. If the laws of God are kept, his people will prosper all their lives.

Second Reading: Romans 8:14-17
Paul explains that through the Holy Spirit, we become children of God. As heirs of God we must be willing to suffer as Christ was if we are to share in his glory.

Gospel: Matthew 28:16-20
Jesus asks his disciples to go to other nations and teach others all that they have learned. He asks that these new followers be baptized in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

"God is God

Trust in God with all your heart,
Seek him in prayer...
He waits for us to call Him
And our trials share.
The load of life at times gets heavy
And robs us of vim...,
We can find strength to carry on
When we turn to Him.
There's a time to every purpose
Under Heaven, we read...
But cannot understand why our hearts
Are often made to bleed.
He's God of the Universe, our Creator,
Father of us all...
He'll be right there to lift us up
As often as we fall.
God is God, there is no other God
Greater than He....
And this Great God is my God
And will forever be."
