The Real and Active Presence of Christ.

The Eucharist is the summary of our daily living. In giving us the Eucharist, Jesus said: "Take it; this is my body." "This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many." Jesus not only said those words, He lived them by a life of self-giving and by giving His life on the Cross. You and I are to do the same. Our daily lives must reflect the Eucharist we celebrate. Each day, we must give of ourselves, pour out our lives in service and in love of others. How? St. John Chrysostom wrote a remarkable passage in which he brought out the intimate connection between the Eucharistic Body of Christ and the Mystical Body which is the Church. Speaking of the precious vessels of the altar and of the other liturgical objects by which we surround the Blessed Sacrament with honor, the Greek Father pointed out that it was even more important to honor the body of Christ by our interaction with our brothers and sisters in need. In this way, we are not only doing good to Him in the person of the poor, but we are making our own souls into sacred vessels of gold which give Him great glory. St. Chrysostom writes:

If you wish to honor the Eucharistic Victim, offer your own soul for which the Victim was immolated. Make your soul all of gold. If your soul remains viler than lead or clay, what good does it do to have a golden chalice? Do you wish to honor the Body of Christ? Then do not disdain Him when you see Him in rags. After having honored Him in Church with silken vestments do not leave Him to die of cold outside for lack of clothing. For it is the same Jesus Who says "This is my Body" and Who says "You saw me hungry and did not give me to eat – What you have refused to the least of these my little ones, you have refused to me." The Body of Christ in the Eucharist demands pure souls, not costly garments. But in the poor He demands all our care. Let us act wisely; let us honor Christ as He Himself wishes to be honored: the most acceptable honor to one whom we would honor is the honor which he desires, not that which we ourselves imagine. Peter thought he was honoring his Master by not letting the Lord wash his feet; and yet it was just the opposite. Give Him then the honor which He Himself has asked for, by giving your money to the poor. Once again, what God wants is not golden chalices, but golden souls". (from St. John Chrysostom, Homily 50 on St. Matthew,3.),

The Mass that we gather at is then the banquet of charity, of fraternal unity in Christ. It is the sharing of Christ's love with one another: so that the strong help the weak to encounter Christ and the weak, in their turn, give the strong an opportunity to love Jesus more by loving Him in His members. Without this perspective, our communions cannot attain the fullness and the joy that Christ desires them to have. As long as our love for Jesus in the Sacrament of His love is a love only for the Head, without sincere and warm affection for all our brothers and sisters, without interest in the spiritual or physical needs of His members, our spiritual life will remain stunted and incomplete.

In Eucharist, we celebrate here in worship what we must live out there in daily life. That is why the Eucharist is essential to Catholic belief and fundamental to Catholic life.

The Garden Spot:

Our Garden of Faith is ready to begin a new year of raising produce to be distributed at our parish food cupboard.

Since its inception, the garden has raised over 10,000 pounds of fresh produce at the garden set on the beautiful grounds of Marydell Faith and Life Center overlooking the Hudson River. It takes a bushel of volunteers to nurture the plants from seed to harvest.

If you are a gardener or would like to be one, family looking for a worthwhile activity in which to engage, a student in need of volunteer hours, or someone wanting to make a difference, this ministry could be for you. Call: Denise and Bill Oswald: 845-359-5714 Email: dboswald1119@yahoo.com
