FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Resisting Temptation

Getting to know our root sin and its most frequent manifestations arms us for spiritual battle. The better we know where we are weak, the better we will be able to resist temptation.

We are all tempted. Every day we are invited to rebel against God in little things and big things. The patterns of behavior around us, our own self-centered tendencies, and the devil himself are always inviting us to trust more in our own flawed judgment than in God's wisdom.

But temptation is not sin. In fact, every temptation is a chance to exercise our trust in God, to reclaim territory for Christ's Kingdom, just as Jesus did when He was tempted.

Because Jesus was tempted, He redeemed temptation. With His grace, His victory over sin can become our victory. That's why He came to earth in the first place!

This Spanish fresco from the hermitage of San Baudelio de Berlanga was done some time in the first half of the 12th century. It tells the Gospel story of the Temptation of Christ. At the left, the Devil dares Christ to turn stones into bread. At the center, he challenges Christ to throw Himself from the temple parapet. On the right, one of the angels who came to minister to Christ rebukes the Devil.

The message Christ has for us today is a message of hope. We can conquer sin, in our lives and in the world around us. We just need to stay united to Christ.

That's what the Eucharist is for — that's why God gave it to us. And that's also what the Bible is for. Jesus parries the Devil's attacks by quoting from the Scriptures, the inspired Word of God. Today, let's renew our confidence in Christ and our determination to fight for the advance of His Kingdom, to cut back our root sin and make more room for his grace to grow in our lives.

When we receive Him in Communion, let's promise to do our part to stay united to Him, to trust in Him and seek our happiness in our friendship with Him, and let's ask Him which tactic he wants us to use this Lent: whether to spend more time with Him in the Eucharist, or more time with Him in the Scriptures.
