Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Theme: "The Invisibility of the Poor and Needy..."

My dear brethren we are celebrating the 26th Sunday in ordinary time. We are being warned today to be careful how we live our lives in a more simple way. We should be careful how we manage the resources God blessed us with. Life in abundance without reference to the poor and needy is life without destination. The scripture today warns against luxury-loving and not being concerned about our unfortunate fellow humans. We should not presume there are not less privileged people in our midst. "Did you not know that such poverty existed right here?" You should not wait to be told by another person that poverty exists all around us. In the gospel, we read that the man's eyes were opened too late. Listen well, Abraham tells all who live luxuriously— "You have Moses and the prophets, do we not?" Yes of course!

The rich man engages in conspicuous consumption. He feasts extravagantly every day. He wears the finest clothes. Outside his home is a beggar named Lazarus. He is covered with sores. He would be satisfied with the scraps that fall from the rich man's table. The poor man Lazarus is invisible to him. This is the problem in our contemporary world. The poor are not seen, heard or considered when plans are made and reactions are considered. The poor exit but they do not count. What they think, feel, and desire of hope is of no account. We can ignore them without any qualms of conscience.

Desde el Escritorio del Pastor

Vegísimo-sexto Tiempo Ordinario

Tema: "La Invisibilidad de los Pobres y Necesitados ..."

Mis queridos hermanos, estamos celebrando el Domingo 26 en el tiempo ordinario. Hoy se nos advierte que tengamos cuidado de cómo vivimos nuestras vidas de una manera más simple. Debemos tener cuidado de cómo manejamos los recursos con los que Dios nos bendijo. La vida en abundancia sin referencia a los pobres y necesitados es la vida sin destino. La escritura de hoy advierte contra los amantes del lujo y no preocuparse por nuestros desafortunados seres humanos. No debemos suponer que no hay personas menos privilegiadas entre nosotros. "¿No sabías que tal pobreza existía aquí?" No debes esperar a que otra persona te diga que la pobreza existe a nuestro alrededor. En el evangelio, leemos que los ojos del hombre se abrieron demasiado tarde. Escuche bien, Abraham le dice a todos los que viven lujosamente: "Usted tiene a Moisés y a los profetas, ¿no?" ¡Sí, por supuesto!

El hombre rico se dedica al consumo conspicuo. Se da un festín extravagante todos los días. Lleva la mejor ropa.

In the case of Lazarus, St. Luke tells us that the “dogs even came and licked his sores.” Even the street animals are sensitive to the needs of this beggar. Lazarus is not invisible to the dogs. The dogs reached out to Lazarus more than the rich man who continued to feast and make merry. However, the rich man’s wealth and greed have fixed his eyes on the visible and the immediate. At times, we, too continue to search for more and more in hope that someday we will have enough for security and peace.

In our contemporary world, we know that the poor too often live in another world. They are not seen on the television (except on documentaries which few watch and are soon forgotten.) They are not used to selling products or tell you how to invest your money. They do not have houses near the sea, nor do they gather on beaches to play volleyball. They live in unfinished buildings and houses made of mud. The poor people do not live in big cities but rather in the slum areas. To say it all, the poor remain invisible and unreachable.

Amos today describes the luxurious living of his time and blames the wealthy for not caring about the collapse of Joseph. The “woe” of this message is addressed as God’s word to the wealthy of all times and cultures. We should bear in mind that Amos is not condemning the rich and wealthy, rather the rich and the wealthy, who closed their minds and hearts to the poor and needy that depended on their wealth for survival. The Lord “gives” food to the hungry,” but he needs our hands to distribute it. “Blessed is he who keeps faith forever, secures justice for the oppressed, gives food to the hungry!”

The connection between riches and the invisibility of the poor is steeped in history. The prophet Amos is preaching to the Northern Kingdom of Israel. The rich are complacent. They take their ease and feast with no regard to the poor. All the while, they are spiritually dead, they are spiritually blind—“They are not made ill by the collapse of Joseph!” Nothing concerns them but their own selfish desires. But the end of this is fast approaching. Exile awaits those who are full and satisfied. “Wanton revelry shall come to an end.”

My dear brothers and sisters, today in our world, we need religious and political leaders who fit the job description provided by St. Paul—“men of God that you seek after that have integrity, piety, faith, love, steadfastness, and a gentle spirit.” In our community (OLGC) and the entire world, we are desperately in need of leaders who see their authority as a trust from the “King of Kings and Lord of Lords!” We need leaders who help us to see the needs of the poor. Such leaders open our eyes and let us see that Lazarus still sits waiting for the scraps from our table. Lazarus waits to be made visible. Our salvation depends on this awareness!

Fuera de su casa hay un mendigo llamado Lázaros. Está cubierto de llagas. Estaría satisfecho con las sobras que caen de la mesa del hombre rico. El pobre hombre Lázaros es invisible para él. Este es el problema en nuestro mundo contemporáneo. Los pobres no son vistos, escuchados o considerados cuando se hacen planes y se consideran las reacciones. Los pobres salen pero no cuentan. Lo que piensan, sienten y desean de esperanza no tiene importancia. Podemos ignorarlos sin ningún reparo de conciencia.

En nuestro mundo contemporáneo, sabemos que los pobres con demasiada frecuencia viven en otro mundo. No se ven en la televisión (excepto en documentales que pocos miran y pronto se olvidan). No están acostumbrados a vender productos ni a decirle cómo invertir su dinero. No tienen casas cerca del mar, ni se reúnen en las playas para jugar voleibol. Viven en edificios sin terminar y casas hechas de barro. La gente pobre no vive en las grandes ciudades, sino en las zonas marginales. Para decirlo todo, los pobres permanecen invisibles e inalcanzables.

Amos hoy describe la vida lujosa de su tiempo y culpa a los ricos por no preocuparse por el colapso de Joseph. El “ay” de este mensaje se dirige como la palabra de Dios a los ricos de todos los tiempos y culturas. Debemos tener en cuenta que Amós no condena a los ricos y ricos, sino a los ricos y ricos, que cerraron sus mentes y corazones a los pobres y necesitados que dependían de su riqueza para sobrevivir. El Señor “da” comida a los hambrientos,” pero necesita nuestras manos para distribuirla. “¡Bienaventurado el que mantiene la fe para siempre, asegura la justicia para los oprimidos, da comida a los hambrientos!”

La conexión entre la riqueza y la invisibilidad de los pobres está llena de historia. El profeta Amós está predicando al Reino del Norte de Israel. Los ricos son complacientes. Toman la calma y la fiesta sin tener en cuenta a los pobres. Todo el tiempo, están espiritualmente muertos, están espiritualmente ciegos, “¡No se enferman por el colapso de José!” Nada les concierne sino sus propios deseos egoístas. Pero el final de esto se acerca rápidamente. El exilio espera a aquellos que están llenos y satisfechos. “La juerga desenfrenada llegará a su fin.”

Mis queridos hermanos y hermanas, hoy en nuestro mundo, necesitamos líderes religiosos y políticos que se ajusten a la descripción de trabajo proporcionada por San Pablo, “los hombres de Dios que buscan después de eso tienen integridad, piedad, fe, amor, firmeza y un espíritu gentil.” En nuestra comunidad (OLGC) y en todo el mundo, necesitamos desesperadamente líderes que vean su autoridad como una confianza del “Rey de Reyes y Señor de Señores.” Necesitamos líderes que nos ayuden a ver necesidades de los pobres. Tales líderes abren nuestros ojos y nos dejan ver que Lázaros todavía está sentado esperando los restos de nuestra mesa. Lázaros espera a hacerse visible. ¡Nuestra salvación depende de esta conciencia!
