The Pastor's Corner

Dear Friends in Christ,

How much do we hear each day? From the moment we wake up, information floods our minds—opinions from friends and family, news updates, social media posts, radio chatter. Some of it is helpful, but much of what we hear can be negative, discouraging, or simply not good for our souls. And the truth is, a lot of what we listen to tends to linger with us far longer than we'd like.

This is why it's so important to be intentional about what we allow into our minds and hearts. The voices we listen to matter. Surrounding ourselves with people who speak kind, affirming, and honest words can uplift us and help us become better, more hopeful people. Choose the company of those who encourage you in faith, who remind you of your dignity as a child of God, and who build you up and do not tear you down.

Remember the transformative power of Sacred Scripture and spiritual reading. God's Word is a light for our path and a balm for weary hearts. It is a wise thing to make it a habit to keep the Bible and spiritual books at the top of our reading lists. Even setting aside a few minutes a day to read a Psalm, listen to the words of Jesus, or reflect on the lives of the saints can inspire and influence us for the better.

And what about the music that fills our homes and cars? There are so many radio stations, playlists, and podcasts that feature beautiful Catholic and sacred music these days. Consider keeping them on in the background during your daily routines. Sacred music has a way of lifting our spirits, reminding us of God's presence, and filling our hearts with hope, peace, and joy.

This week, I encourage you to let good things get in your mind. Be intentional about what you listen to, what you read, and what you allow to take root in your heart.

In Christ's peace,
Fr. Vic
