Thank you for your faithful support of our parish. Last week's collection was $15,843.

Dear Parishioners and Friends of Saint Teresa Church,

I want to thank everyone who responded with encouraging words of support for the plan that we announced last Sunday in the bulletin: to convert our empty convent building at 139 Windsor Road into a safe, happy home for eight to ten carefully chosen autistic adults, who will have a live-in caretaker. It will take about two years to get everything renovated and organized, but this home will be an answer to the prayers of parents who look to the future and want their children to have a safe and happy place to live. If you missed last Sunday's bulletin, or any previous ones, you can read them online at our parish website: www.saintteresasi.org.

Good ideas need excellent implementation, and we would like to hear some guiding principles and details about how this admirable new ministry will proceed. So our parishioners and neighbors are invited to an INFORMATION NIGHT one week from Wednesday, on June 21 at 7pm, in our church. Come and meet representatives of ArchCare, which is our archdiocese's comprehensive healthcare ministry, and also parents of autistic adults who can speak from experience about their children.

Next Sunday is Father's Day, and we will begin our annual Novena of Masses - one Mass each day for nine days - to thank God for our fathers, both living and deceased, and to intercede with the Lord for them. Everyone benefits from prayers, which is why devout family members mention the names of their loved ones to God each day, along with any specific concerns they have. Thinking of our fathers, we know that none are perfect, but many of our fathers have been quietly awesome. Many have grown a lot through parenthood, and have been willing to change and sacrifice very much for their children and spouses. We want to celebrate their contributions and draw attention to their virtues and example.

As on Mother's Day, parishioners have the option of taking a moment to write on a special envelope the names of the people they are remembering and praying for on this occasion. (There are envelopes for this purpose in the vestibule, besides what you received in the mail.) The envelopes we receive are then placed on the high altar next to the tabernacle for weeks to come, as a visible and tangible reminder that we want our loved ones to be close to the Lord.

Congratulations to the 34 young men and women who are graduating from Saint Teresa School this coming Friday. We are very proud of them. With our excellent Principal Mrs. Anna Simione, I salute their families who made the decision and sacrifice to give their children the advantage of a Catholic School education. You can see the names of our graduates on the next page.

Mrs. Simione always welcomes the interest of new families. I often meet parents and children touring our school. Enthusiastic about what they see, they usually make a decision to join us. We already have more than eighty new students registered in grades K to 8 for next September.

Even after school officially ends on Monday June 19, parents are welcome to call. Anyone wishing to visit can call the school number - 718 448 9650 - and make an appointment with our Principal.

I mentioned the Catholic School advantage. Praying every day in their classrooms, and attending Mass as a class once a week, is a key part of helping our children to learn about God, and to build up their Catholic identity and the identity of our whole school community—including their families. The first reading at Mass on Tuesday was from chapter 2 of the very interesting Old Testament Book of Tobit. As the devout head of a family, Tobit is a model of obedience to God and of service to his neighbor. He is a good father and husband. But he jumps to the wrong conclusion about a goat he hears bleating in his house, and has an argument with his wife Anna. Notice: family arguments and spousal squabbling show up in the Scriptures too! Just because someone is in the Bible, or we are in the Church, does not mean that we are always wise or patient - or right.

So that day at Mass I told a story, about what can happen when, like Tobit, you or I jump to the wrong conclusion:

A large company was slumping - sales were skidding, problems were multiplying - so a new leader was hired to be the CEO (Chief Executive Officer) and shake things up.

He started with a tour of all his facilities. In one place, he noticed a young man just leaning against a wall and apparently doing nothing. Since one of this leader's goals was to get rid of all slackers, he decided to make an example of him.

In everybody's hearing, he asked him a question: "How much money do you make in a week?"

Surprised and embarrassed, the young man looked at him and answered: "I make about $400 a week. Why?"

The CEO pulled out his wallet, counted some bills, and walked over to him. "Here is $1600. Now, get out and don't ever come back." The young man stared at him with shock and walked out wordlessly.

Feeling very good about himself, the CEO looked around the room and asked: "Does anyone want to tell me what that lazy goofball did around here?"

And from the back of the room came the answer: "He's the pizza delivery guy from Domino's."

Hoping that you and I are kinder, and slower to make bad decisions,
Msgr. William Belford

Congratulations and God's blessings to all of our parishioners who are graduating this spring from schools at every level, including College, High School, Elementary School, Kindergarten and PreK. Our young Graduates have studied, played, learned, and grown very much! May they love Jesus Christ and become good disciples, for our good and the good of the whole world.

One Minute Meditations

St. Joseph Cafasso

St. Joseph was born in Castelnuovo d'Asti in Italy to peasant parents. From a young age, he was known for his humility in prayer. He entered the seminary in Turin, and was ordained in 1833. He went on to study and teach in the university of Turin. He combated the heresy of Jansenism and urged devotion to the Holy Eucharist. He was an excellent preacher, confessor, and retreat master. One of his pupils was St. John Bosco.

God as Father

In Jesus' day, many people felt God was so holy, his name was unutterable. Imagine their surprise when Jesus taught them to call God Abba, which means, "Daddy"! When you pray, remember you're addressing a loving Father who is eager to help.

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone … opens the door, [then] I will enter his house and dine with him, and he with me" (Revelation 3:20).

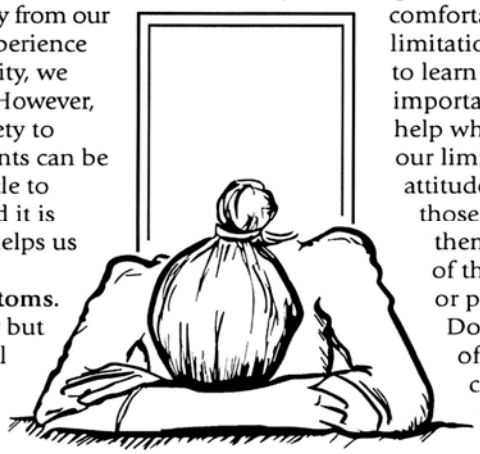
Don't let anxiety cloud your world

The peace Christ promised to his followers is not intended to eliminate all anxiety from our lives. When we experience feelings of insecurity, we will feel anxious. However, allowing our anxiety to cloud our judgments can be the greatest obstacle to receiving grace and it is that grace which helps us to cope.



Know the symptoms. Anxiety is like fear but dwells on personal inadequacy and insecurity rather than real and imminent danger. Common symptoms of anxiety are nervousness, mental unease, tension, or a desire to avoid a particular situation or person. When you can't determine a specific, reasonable cause for these feelings, it may be anxiety.

Ask for help. Work to understand your strengths and become comfortable with your limitations. While stretching to learn new skills is important, so is asking for help when confronted with our limits. If negative attitudes or opinions of those asked result, see them as expressions of their own viewpoints or personal problems. Don't demand more of yourself than you can give and be ready to ask for help.

Be pleased with your best. Anxiety results when we fear failure and the possible loss of approval or respect of others. Instead, refuse to fear imperfect results or others' judgment. Make the most of your talents, do your best, and respect yourself for your effort.

Why Do Catholics Do That?

Why does the priest add water to the wine at Mass?

There are several reasons for this practice. Adding water to the wine represents the union of Jesus' humanity with his divinity. It also recalls Christ's Passion, when water and blood flowed from his side (John 19:33-35).

The priest adds water in imitation of Christ who, it is believed, used wine mixed with water as a common cultural practice in Jesus' day. Finally, the union of the wine and the water stands for the union of Christ and his people.
