Romeo Cegliehin, The Holy Trinity (1946)

This fresco appeared at the Church of the Holy Trinity in Lorain, Ohio, until it closed in 2009.

As I mentioned two weeks ago, we have to take a good look at our weekday Mass schedule. To that end, I'm happy to meet with those who faithfully attend daily Mass to discuss our options. I'll be available in the chapel immediately following the 6:30am Mass this Tuesday, May 24, and immediately after the 5:15pm Mass this Wednesday, May 25.

The Mass book is now open for Sunday Masses through the end of the year; as soon as the weekday schedule is settled, those Masses will also be available.

Mr. Michael O'Kane, the principal of St. John School, announced recently that this will be his final year at SJS; going forward, he will be pursuing other opportunities in Catholic schools in the archdiocese. The regional superintendent of schools, Mrs. Cathleen Cassel, is directing the search process for a new principal; I will be taking part in it as well. Please pray for Mr. O'Kane, and for whomever the Holy Spirit has chosen to next lead the school.

Faithfully your priest,
Fr. George Hafemann

We have secured more than 71% of our goal with gifts from just 66 parishioners!
74% of the funds we raise in the Renew + Rebuild campaign will remain with us for our parish needs!

Cardinal Dolan has chosen us to participate in the pilot phase of the Renew + Rebuild capital campaign.

Please consider making your pledge on or before our Commitment Weekend – Saturday, June 4 and Sunday, June 5.

During Commitment Weekend, you will be able to make your gift to the campaign at Mass.

The Renew + Rebuild Campaign will help to make possible the following projects at our parish:

- Refurbish pews and floors
- Paint the church interior
- Upgrade lighting and sound system
- Refinish exterior doors
- Expand narthex and install ADA-compliant lavatory and confessional
- Replace the windows in the school
- Upgrade the church electrical system as needed

Thank you to those who attended the campaign orientation last Wednesday and to those who have already made a pledge.

If you are ready to make your pledge, please return your pledge card to the parish office, or put it in a sealed envelope marked Renew + Rebuild and drop in the collection basket at Mass next Sunday.

BIBLE BASICS 15: THE BOOK OF JOSHUA

Fr. Peter Heasley

After the death of Moses, his appointed successor, Joshua, takes over. Whereas God forbade Moses from entering the Promised Land, Joshua would lead the Israelites in to take possession. There are many parallels between Moses and Joshua, between the lawgiver and the military enforcer.

The Book of Joshua picks up right where Deuteronomy leaves off. The theology and its language is the same, what scholars call “deuteronomistic theology.” This school of thought is recorded in expressions like “observe the law/decrees/commands” and “keep the law on your lips,” and in themes like the land, success, and the name of the Lord. It is here in the Book of Joshua that the land once promised is given, and so it is here that the covenant is renewed.

LAW
Pentateuch	Historical Books
Genesis	JOSHUA
Exodus	Judges
Leviticus	Ruth
Numbers	I and II Samuel
Deuteronomy	I and II Kings

As the book opens, Joshua is firmly established as the successor to Moses. First, the Lord reminds the people through him to do all that he has told Moses, especially keeping the law (Jos 1:1-11). The trans-Jordan tribes, those that will dwell east of the Jordan, promise to obey Joshua just as they obeyed Moses (Jos 1:12-18). Thereupon the action begins.

The first campaign is made possible by the intervention of Rahab, an innkeeper or possibly a prostitute. The Israelites will cross the Jordan and lay siege to Jericho. She welcomes their spies (2:1-24), for which she is rewarded when Jericho falls (6:20-27). In between, the Israelites cross the Jordan just like they did the Red Sea, on solid ground. The Ark of the Covenant, held aloft by the priests in the middle of the river, causes the stream to halt (3:1-4:24). After the circumcision of this new generation, they take the city (5:1-6:19). Saint Matthew records Rahab as being an ancestor of Jesus.

THE BOOK OF JOSHUA
1:	Submission to Joshua
2-6:	Siege of Jericho
7-12:	Conquering the Land
13-22:	Dividing the Land
23-24:	Last Discourse of Joshua

The military victories continue. Joshua captures various parts of the land of Canaan (Jos 7-11), and chapter 12 lists the captured kings. In chapters 13-19, Joshua divides the land among the tribes. The asylum cities and Levitical cities are set up (recall that the Levites have no share in the land) (Jos 20-21). After dismissing the tribes (Jos 22), Joshua takes his turn giving a final discourse.

As his own death approaches, Joshua, like Moses, summons the tribes to encourage them again to follow the Lord. If the Israelites take to lawlessness and idolatry, God will take the land away (Jos 23). Joshua tells the story of their salvation again, as he renews the covenant with them before God (Jos 24). Shechem is established as the first sanctuary of God’s law, being the place where Joshua is also buried, along with the bones of Joseph.

It will not be long before the people forget the law. God will send them judges to save them, in a cycle of faithlessness and violence that will spiral out of control until he allows them a king.
