Attaining Championship Form

The message of the First Reading for the Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time (Cycle C) is an anomaly, not what we would expect. It is not an easy one for us to hear and accept. It is not a “feel good” reading. Rather it is a warning. It is meant to stir us from our complacency. Have we become too used to feel good messages? Have we lost sight of the need to admit that we are sinners; that we need to repent, to seek forgiveness and to atone for our misdeeds?

Fall is a bumper season for sports. Sports on all levels surround us. Records are being set; projections of future champions are being made. Makes no difference if it is professional or amateur, high school or college. Baseball is heading into competition for the World Series. Football and soccer are in mid-season. Basketball is on the horizon; hockey not far behind. What do all these teams have in common; what is the trophy for which these teams are vying?

Each team is pursuing a goal – a championship of some type – and goes about the process in similar fashion. There are pre-season conditioning and practices; there are practice games before the actual season begins. The coaches of these teams have a regimen they instill in their players. The players are pushed in their practices to achieve at an ever higher level. They condition their bodies beyond the usual in order to excel in the upcoming competitions.

In the Second Reading, St. Paul assumes the role of our coach. He gives us a concise course of action that we can follow as we are conditioning our spiritual life. He tells us: “Compete well for the faith. Pursue righteousness, devotion, faith, love, patience and gentleness.”

In the Gospel, we find another message that is not easy to hear, nor comforting to us. Jesus shakes the Pharisees from their complacency. He contrasts the fates of the rich man and Lazarus. The message is clear: Our God is merciful; He never tires of forgiving us. BUT WE MUST SEEK HIS FORGIVENESS. Do we need to stir ourselves from our complacency?

We must admit our sinfulness, the errors of our ways, and repent. We must humble ourselves and seek forgiveness. Have we gone outside our comfort zone to practice the Spiritual and Corporal Works of Mercy – to condition our souls, to compete well for the faith? Only a few weeks remain before our Liturgical Year ends on November 24, the Feast of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe. What shape are we in spiritually? Are we pre-season, mid-season, or are we reaching championship form?

Let the anomaly let us stir from our complacency, and motivate us to compete well for the faith. Let us project ourselves as champions for Christ by humbling ourselves and admitting that we are sinners, repenting and asking God's forgiveness. May we follow the advice and example of our coach St. Paul. With the guidance of the Holy Spirit we can attain championship status: Heaven.

Our Lady of Guadalupe Rosary

"Listen. Put it into your heart ... the thing that frightened you, the thing that afflicted you is nothing: Do not let it disturb you ... Am I not here, I who am your mother? - Our Lady of Guadalupe, 1531

As a special dedication to Our Lady of Guadalupe, the Rosary will be prayed every Sunday at 7:10 pm in the Cry Room of the Church. Please join us in community to pray the prayer Our Blessed Mother gave to us.

Stephen Ministry

A Stephen Minister is a member of our parish who is trained to listen, care, encourage, pray, and walk alongside you during difficult times. Its confidential and its free and very helpful. Eucharistic Adoration

"It's a quiet place where I love and I am loved. It's a place of rest, at the feet of the Prince of Peace. It's also a place of clarity: after the emotional waves of the lake of my soul quiet down, Jesus makes me able to see clearly at the bottom of it, to identify my motivations and my deepest desires, and then to choose with renewed conviction my direction in life, and the decisions I need to make. In the Adoration Chapel I discovered my vocation to the priesthood, and I find daily the strength to say YES to God's call, and to do what He wants me to. Yes, I get distracted too. But it's like driving through the fog: you need to persevere and proceed slowly on that familiar road of bringing back your thoughts and heart to Jesus, really present in the Eucharist in front of you FOR YOU... and eventually the fog disappears, and a beautiful Son shines on your face, slightly warm, and filled with joy." -Fr. Alessandro Borraaccia
