Fifth Sunday of Easter

(The people's responses in bold represent wording that Pope Benedict had changed in the Mass throughout the world.)

Greeting

Priest: The Lord be with you.
People: And with your spirit.

The Confiteor

I confess to almighty God and to you, my brothers and sisters, that I have greatly sinned
in my thoughts and in my words, in what I have done
and in what I have failed to do, (And then striking your breast three times)
through my fault,
through my fault,
through my most grievous fault;
therefore, I ask blessed Mary ever-Virgin,
all the Angels and Saints,
and you, my brothers and sisters,
to pray for me to the Lord our God.

Priest: Lord have mercy. People: Lord have mercy.
Priest: Christ have mercy. People: Christ have mercy.
Priest: Lord have mercy. People: Lord have mercy.*

(Or any other option the priest chooses. "The Lord have mercy" can be sung as "Kyrie eléison" or the Penitential hymn "Asperges" may be sung.)*

Gloria

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will.
We praise you,
we bless you,
we adore you,
we glorify you,
we give you thanks for your great glory,
Lord God, heavenly King.
O God, almighty Father.

Lord Jesus Christ,
Only Begotten Son,
Lord God, Lamb of God,
Son of the Father,
you take away the sins of the world,
have mercy on us;
you take away the sins of the world,
receive our prayer;
you are seated at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy on us.

For you alone are the Holy One,
you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ,
with the Holy Spirit,
in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles

(Acts 9:26-31)

When Saul arrived in Jerusalem he tried to join the disciples, but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. Then Barnabas took charge of him and brought him to the apostles, and he reported to them how he had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had spoken out boldly in the name of Jesus. He moved about freely with them in Jerusalem, and spoke out boldly in the name of the Lord. He also spoke and debated with the Hellenists, but they tried to kill him. And when the brothers learned of this, they took him down to Caesarea and sent him on his way to Tarsus. The church throughout all Judea, Galilee, and Samaria was at peace. It was being built up and walked in the fear of the Lord, and with the consolation of the Holy Spirit it grew in numbers.

Lector: The Word of the Lord.

People: Thanks be to God.

The Responsorial: I will praise you, Lord, in the assembly of your people. (PS 22: 26-27, 28, 30, 31-32)

A Reading from the first Letter of St. John (JN 3:18-24)

Children, let us love not in word or speech but in deed and truth. Now this is how we shall know that we belong to the truth and reassure our hearts before him in whatever our hearts condemn, for God is greater than our hearts and knows everything.

Beloved, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have confidence in God and receive from him whatever we ask, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And his commandment is this: we should believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another just as he commanded us. Those who keep his commandments remain in him, and he in them, and the way we know that he remains in us is from the Spirit he gave us.

Lector: The Word of the Lord.

People: Thanks be to God.

Lector: Alleluia

People Only: Alleluia (Stand)

Lector Only: Remain in me as I remain in you, says the Lord. Whoever remains in me will bear much fruit.

People Only: Alleluia

Priest: The Lord be with you.

People: And with your spirit.

A Reading from the Holy Gospel according to Saint John (JN 15: 1-8)

People: Glory to you, O Lord.

Jesus said to his disciples: "I am the true vine, and my Father is the vine grower. He takes away every branch in me that does not bear fruit, and every one that does he prunes so that it bears more fruit. You are already pruned because of the word that I spoke to you. Remain in me, as I remain in you. Just as a branch cannot bear fruit on its own unless it remains on the vine, so neither can you unless you remain in me. I am the vine, you are the branches. Whoever remains in me and I in him will bear much fruit, because without me you can do nothing. Anyone who does not remain in me will be thrown out like a branch and wither; people will gather them and throw them into a fire and they will be burned. If you remain in me and my words remain in you, ask for whatever you want and it will be done for you. By this is my Father glorified, that you bear much fruit and become my disciples."

Priest: The Gospel of the Lord.

People: Praise to You, Lord Jesus Christ.

Creed

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, Maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God,
begotten, not made,
consubstantial with the Father;
through Him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation He came down from heaven,

At the words that follow, up to and including and became Man, all bow and by the Holy Spirit was Incarnate of the Virgin Mary and became Man.

For our sake He was crucified under Pontius
Pilate,
He suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the Giver of Life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, Who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.

I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come.
Amen.

Prayer Said by the People After The Pray Brethren Prayer of the Priest

May the Lord accept the sacrifice at your hands for the praise and glory of His Name, for our good and the good of all His holy church.

Priest: The Lord be with you.

People: And with your spirit.

Priest: Lift up your hearts.

People: We lift them up to the Lord.

Priest: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

People: It is right and just.

Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of Hosts.

Heaven and earth are full of your glory.

Hosanna in the highest.

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.

Hosanna in the highest.

Concluding

O God, Our Help in Ages Past

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Soon bears us all away;
We fly, forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the op'ning day.

Last Thursday, I went to dinner at the New York Athletic Club in Manhattan with six friends from high school. I sent last week's bulletin article to each of them beforehand. We attempt to get together regularly to catch up and talk about a religious topic, but unfortunately, the religious conversation usually only lasts until the first round of beers is served!

One of my friends at dinner, when pressed by another friend, told me he did not like my article. He explained he didn't like the "rah rah Catholicism" and that he grew up in a household where his parents didn't wear their faith on their sleeve. I responded by saying that there is a time to be bold and a time to be reserved about faith. In that article I was highlighting the reasons to be bold. However, more than anything, I wanted people to think about Jesus before Pilate. Jesus told Pilate that He came into the world to give testimony to the truth – and everyone who hears the truth hears His voice. My point was that once you know the truth you should be bold in proclaiming it, because the truth comes from God Himself.

While the conversation morphed into talk about high school football and lacrosse, it became clear to me that these guys basically view the world through the lenses of either MSNBC, CNN or FOX News. Like most people, they have a very respectable faith. Their jobs in corporate America are not at risk because of their views on anything. Their country club friends are not offended by their "reasonable" opinions. None of them are going to be forced to drink hemlock or be hung from a cross because of their testimony to the truth.

On one hand, I'm happy that none of my friends is in that kind of danger. On the other hand, I think it's a bad sign. I know that the truth about almost any serious political, social or moral issue is offensive to polite society. It is not found on any of the big news channels, and frankly it is often not found even on EWTN, the Catholic channel. In all those cases, we are presented with a politically correct narrative. If we agree with it, it's comfortable. If we don't, it angers us. However, in neither case is it the unmitigated truth. The truth in a fallen, corrupted, propaganda-driven society is offensive. If some of our beliefs aren't offending anyone, if they aren't out of the ordinary range of opinions, something's amiss.

The truth can't be bracketed into a political or religious ideology. The truth is found only in Jesus Christ, the Logos, the mind of the Eternal Father. In this world, truth is found in its fullness within the Catholic Church. When we talk principles regarding faith and morals we can never be wrong; however, when we descend into concrete and murky reality in an attempt to apply those principles, we can get things wrong. I believe that all arguments in the end are theological arguments. We all base our arguments on what we believe to be right or wrong. We base what is right or wrong on our religious beliefs. If our theology is incorrect, all our arguments and opinions, from that point forward, will be riddled with errors. Therefore, if I know that somebody isn't on board with Catholic teachings, I don't, generally speaking, take their opinions about serious matters too seriously. It is only the truth that speaks with authority.

My advice to you is to do the same thing. Evaluate all opinions on the basis of the authentic Catholic faith. Remember Jesus' words to Pilate, that everyone who hears the truth, hears His voice. Develop a sensitivity to the truth by knowing our Catholic teaching.

As a priest, I have met many people who I admire for the way they try to live their lives. I have only met a few people, though, who I view as subtle thinkers. Too many Catholics, both on the left and the right, are too close-minded. It's not a matter of intelligence. It has more to do with their being too ideological and/or too brainwashed by the media and secular culture. Perhaps, it might be more accurate to write "appear to be brainwashed." There are various degrees of deception, of course. My guess is that most of you know in the depth of your hearts that what you are being told as "truth" by the secular world is in fact not true at all. My prayer is that you may have the hunger, courage and perseverance to both prayerfully seek the truth and prayerfully live it.

Next Sunday's Gospel

The text of next Sunday's Gospel is provided here, so that, during the week, we can think and pray about it, and be ready to receive it into our minds and hearts when it is proclaimed at mass.

John 15: 9-17

Jesus said to his disciples: "As the Father loves me, so I also love you. Remain in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and remain in his love. "I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and your joy might be complete. This is my commandment: love one another as I love you. No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. I no longer call you slaves, because a slave does not know what his master is doing. I have called you friends, because I have told you everything I have heard from my Father. It was not you who chose me, but I who chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit that will remain, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name he may give you. This I command you: love one another."

St. Joseph's Catechism for Children - The Communion of Saints & Forgiveness of Sins

Q 171	What is meant by the "communion of saints" in the Apostles' Creed? By "the communion of saints" is meant the union of the faithful on earth, the blessed in heaven, and the souls in purgatory, with Christ as their Head.
Q 172	Through the communion of saints, what can the blessed in heaven do for the souls in purgatory and the faithful on earth? Through the communion of saints, the blessed in heaven can help the souls in purgatory and the faithful on earth by praying for them.
Q 173	Should the faithful on earth, through the communion of saints, honor the blessed in heaven and pray to them? The faithful on earth, through the communion of saints, should honor the blessed in heaven and pray to them, because they are worthy of honor and as friends of God will help the faithful on earth.
Q 174	Can the faithful on earth, through the communion of saints, relieve the sufferings of the souls in purgatory? The faithful on earth, through the communion of saints, can relieve the sufferings of the souls in purgatory by prayer, fasting, and other good works, by indulgences, and by having Masses offered for them.
Q 175	Can the faithful on earth help one another? The faithful on earth, as members of the Mystical Body of Christ, can help one another by practicing supernatural charity and, especially, by performing the spiritual and corporal works of mercy.

Ten years ago, during Pope Benedict's visit to NY, Father Ron Perez, pastor of St. Mary's Parish in Poughkeepsie, chanted the Gospel at the Yankee Stadium Mass. It's worth watching. I don't know how he did it. It was windy. The lights were blinding. However, Father Perez kept his cool and knocked it out of the park, although don't tell him I said so. I'm still bitter they didn't ask me. 🙄

MONDAY, April 30th

Pope St. Pius V, one of the few popes in history not born of nobility, was a shepherd and at fourteen a member of a religious order. Enforced the laws of the Council of Trent which reformed and punished lax clergy, ended clerical nepotism, founded first uniform Mass rules, catechisms, seminaries, and the registration of Sacraments in parishes. Continued to wear his Dominican white habit (robe) as a Pope. Ascetical and humble, a man for the times. Rome † 1572

TUESDAY, May 1st

St. Joseph the Worker, this feast was created in 1950 to counteract the atheist Communist "May - Day" celebration of the Communist worker. In that communism was and is blatantly atheistic and has persecuted the Catholic Church for decades, the Pope felt it necessary to proclaim work on this day as holy and directed to God - and that all laborers are to be given their just rights as given by God.

St. Athanasius, a bishop of the early Church who fought most of his life against a heresy that was adopted by Bishop Arius that denied the eternal Divinity of Christ and the eternal Trinity and who said there had been only one eternal person, God the Father who preceded God the Son. He did not deny God the Son but only said he was not eternal i.e. always existing. Athanasius suffered his entire life for the Truth. Alexandria † 373 AD

Discovering the Saints St. Joseph, the Worker

To foster deep devotion to Saint Joseph among Catholics, and in response to the “May Day” celebrations for workers sponsored by Communists, Pope Pius XII instituted the feast of Saint Joseph the Worker in 1955. This feast extends the long relationship between Joseph and the cause of workers in both Catholic faith and devotion. Beginning in the Book of Genesis, the dignity of human work has long been celebrated as a participation in the creative work of God. By work, humankind both fulfills the command found in Genesis to care for the earth (Gn 2:15) and to be productive in their labors. Saint Joseph, the carpenter and foster father of Jesus, is but one example of the holiness of human labor. Jesus, too, was a carpenter. He learned the trade from Saint Joseph and spent his early adult years working side-by-side in Joseph's carpentry shop before leaving to pursue his ministry as preacher and healer. Saint Joseph is held up as a model of such work. Pius XII emphasized this when he said, “The spirit flows to you and to all men from the heart of the God-man, Savior of the world, but certainly, no worker was ever more completely and profoundly penetrated by it than the foster father of Jesus, who lived with Him in closest intimacy and community of family life and work.”

Reflection

To capture the devotion to Saint Joseph within the Catholic liturgy, in 1870, Pope Pius IX declared Saint Joseph the patron of the universal Church. In 1955, Pope Pius XII added the feast of Saint Joseph the Worker. This silent saint, who was given the noble task of caring and watching over the Virgin Mary and Jesus, now cares for and watches over the Church and models for all the dignity of human work. Additional reflection: As a worker, do you work simply for pay, or to serve the Master?
