So the Pharisees and scribes questioned him, "Why do your disciples not follow the tradition of the elders but instead eat a meal with unclean hands?" He responded, "Well did Isaiah prophesy about you hypocrites, as it is written: 'This people honors me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me; in vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrines human precepts.' You disregard God's commandment but cling to human tradition."

GREEN POSTCARDS AND A NOTE FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

I hope you didn't think that this summer would end without a little confusion!

This time last year, I was happily informing you that my letter of transfer to Saint Patrick's Cathedral was reversed. (At least this year's confusion didn't involve me packing up all my belongings!) This past week, you probably received a green postcard. A number of parishioners called about it. I, to my surprise, received one, too! It even pretends to come from me. That said, the postcard was sent out by the Archdiocese with the best of intentions, namely to have a "Mass of Gratitude" for the parishioners on September 8th. However, someone along the line forgot to consult with your pastor about chapel logistics and certain details of the message on the postcard before sending it out.

Therefore, to set the record straight, we will have our normal Masses on September 7th and 8th. Please, do indeed come to any one of them! September 8th is the Feast of our Blessed Mother's Birth! And to honor her birth in the chapel dedicated to her we would like to give you a special blessing at the end of Mass. You can also bring the postcard with your intentions which will be included in one of the petitions of the prayer of the faithful. (The Masses each already have a particular intention.) But, as to the coffee and sweets, if these can be arranged another time, you will receive another invitation!

Thank you! Apologies for the confusion! And see you soon!
Fr. Daniel D'Alliessi (8/27/2024)

UPDATE: YOUR DEBT REDUCTION COLLECTION DONATION AT WORK

Every parish has to pay bills each month to the Archdiocese for, among other things, employee pensions, medical insurance, and pip insurance. When the parish does not pay, the Archdiocese covers these costs. However, a debt is incurred by the parish which it is expected to pay when it can. Mercifully, this debt to the Archdiocese does not accrue interest to the original amount owed.

As many of you know, St. Peter's has longstanding debts to the Archdiocese of New York both for the Parish itself and for the many years it was responsible for providing many young people with a Catholic education at St. Peter's School until the financial burdens of the school were taken over by the Archdiocesan Region.

As of the end of January 2023, the total liability of St. Peter's Parish to the Archdiocese for Parish and Parochial School Debts was $934,078.75.

As of the end of February 2024, and thanks to our Debt Reduction Collection, the debt was reduced to $907,941.74.

As of the end of August 2024, this debt has been further reduced to $895,941.74!

It is still a lot of money. But, over time many drops of water can cut through a rock. Thank you for your generosity to our monthly Parish Debt Reduction Collection!

SAINT GREGORY THE GREAT

Among the four great Latin Fathers of the Church is Saint Gregory the Great (c.540-604) who was Pope from September 3, 590 to March 12, 604. He was born in Rome of a patrician family but during a time of great strife because of war in Italy between the Byzantines and Goths and an outbreak of Bubonic plague throughout the Mediterranean World.

From about 570-574, Gregory was the Governor of Rome. But, after the death of his father, he turned the family home into a monastery dedicated to Saint Andrew the Apostle (today it is the church of San Gregorio Magno al Celio) and himself became a monk. Pope Pelagius II called him forth to be his ambassador to the Imperial court at Constantinople and ordained him a deacon in 579. In 585, Gregory returned to his monastery, but when the pope died in 590, Gregory was chosen to replace him.

As Pope, he called himself, "Servant of the Servants of God," and yet did not shy away from exercising his authority as successor to Saint Peter. He sent missionaries to England, scolded the Archbishop of Constantinople for calling himself "Ecumenical" and reversed the same Archbishop's decision in the trial of a cleric who appealed to the Pope; he also sought to reconcile schismatics and heretics. Although he hoped for the conversion of the Jews, he warned that Christians must not mistreat Jews.

Saint Gregory produced many works of which we have Forty Homilies on the Gospels, Homilies on Ezekiel, a Commentary on Job, stories about Italian saints and various spiritual topics called the Dialogues, a Pastoral Rule for bishops, a Commentary on the Song of Songs, and many Letters. His mother Silvia and two aunts, Trasilla and Emiliana, are also saints.

Below is a short excerpt from his Commentary on Job called the Moralia in which we see how Saint Gregory finds deeper meaning in the Sacred Scripture.

"It is said, 'Jesus entered into the boat of Peter, and asked him to thrust out a little from the land. And He sat down, and taught the people.' [Luke 5, 3] By Peter's ship what else is denoted but the Church committed to Peter? And that the Lord may preach to the crowds flocking together out of this ship, He orders it to be 'thrust out a little from the land.' He neither commands it to be carried out into the deep, and yet does command that it be thrust out from the land, signifying, surely, that to uninstructed people His preachers should preach neither what is too deep relating to the heavenly world, nor (teach) what is merely earthly. (Moralia 17.26.37)
